LANDON HITS FOOD SCARCITY

RELIEF ROLLS IN CALIFORNIA KEY TO VOTE RESULT

100,000 Spurn Jobs to Live on Dole.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—In this sunny ["how do you like our climate?"] land of milk and honey, and water more precious than wine, the "more abundant life" promised by President Roosevelt is being realized by tens of thousands—at the taxpayers' expense.

In their automobiles the members of this New Deal "leisure class" drive to and from their WPA jobs at which, in exchange for a few days' work a month, Uncle Sam provides them with a living more steady, more abundant in every sense than they ever before have been able to "earn."

For them this southern California where it hardly ever rains, where you need little clothing and no fuel, where you can sleep in the park the year around, where food is plentiful and cheap—for them it is the promised land they have reached at last.

Hold It a Vested Right.

Already they are beginning to regard their support by the government as a vested right. They organize into unions, demanding and obtaining the privilege of collective bargaining with the government. From time to time they strike to compel the government to raise the relief pay or liberalize the relief regulations. They abhor being transferred to the state dole, which is not so liberal as Uncle Sam's. So does the state abhor it. So they generally manage to stick with Uncle Sam.

By these beneficiaries, the dole, as developed by the New Deal, is regarded as a blessed institution of government. It has rescued them from the precarious and inadequate existence dependent on odd jobs, assistance by relatives and friends, panhandling, and alms. It has brought them security and relief from worry—or such worry as they ever had. They now have more pay and more leisure.

They look forward to spending the remainder of their lives peacefully on the dole. They hailed with hearty approval as an official guarantee of their vested right Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins' assurance that the federal dole has become a permanent institution, Mr. Hopkins opining that there always will be several millions of persons on relief.

Spurn Regular Jobs.

Permanently established on the dole, these reliefers successfully resist all temptations to accept regular employment in private enterprise. Why should they work 25 days a month for a private employer, they ask, when they can get the same wage working 10 days a month for the government? Hence farmers and industrial employers are complaining of a shortage of labor.

Many of these devotees of little work in the land of little rain are native sons of the Golden state, the official flower of which is the poppy, symbol of opiate dreams. Many others are carpetbaggers from those more rigorous climes to the east whence they migrated in response to the climatic boastings of the Californians that theirs is the "garden spot of the universe." Never did a chicken come home to roost more devastatingly than the Californians' "how do you like our climate" that had echoed through the country ever since the exhaustion of the gold mines left the climate California's principal possession.

100,000 from Other States.

On brake beams came the immigrants and in flivvers, in horse drawn vehicles and on shanks' mare—came in droves until at last count more than 100,000 had been added to the population of the state. At first the alarmed Californians tried to stop this wave of humanity beating upon their state borders. They were irate at the discovery that the federal relief administration was furnishing the migrants with food and shelter and with gasoline to get them to California. They stopped them at the boundary for a time, but finally the attorney general ruled that the newcomers must be admitted. It was not long before a large percentage of the immigrants were on relief.

It thus falls out that relief is the paramount election issue in southern

U. S. FORCED TO IMPORT CROPS; FARMERS LOSE

New Dealers' Trade Pacts Assailed.

The text of Gov. Landon's speech appears on page 10.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Municipal Auditorium, Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Foreign trade bargaining based on the interests of the American producer was the basic reform demanded by Gov. Alf M. Landon tonight in his program for restoring prosperity to the American farmer.

The second address of his present campaign tour was complementary to his declaration of farm policies in Des Moines and was devoted primarily to a discussion of the reciprocal trade program of the present administration, which he said had "sold the American farmer down the river."

12,000 Seats Filled.

Landon's address was given in the Municipal auditorium, where 12,000 seats were filled. Thousands tried in vain to get into the meeting. The reception to the nominee here was one of the finest of any of his campaign trips. The Republican party in Minnesota gave a demonstration of strength and enthusiasm in this meeting which surprised many of those with Landon.

In a huge sign banked with flowers on the platform the First Voters Division of the Young Republican League "delivered Minnesota to Landon." While this may be a bit of overenthusiasm at this stage of the campaign, it indicated something of the spirit of the Republican rally tonight and gav. a new slant for the political prophets to watch.

Declares for Reciprocity.

While condemning the kind of trade agreements made by the President in what the Republican nominee described as "a star chamber proceeding" and by methods unworthy of representative government, Gov. Landon supported the principle of reciprocity and declared himself against a policy of isolation.

Of the present methods of reaching agreements he said: "These policies have got to stop. The way to trade is to trade, and let me tell you this, we Republicans are going to trade, not against but in the interest of American producers. In too many of the present agreements we are the fellow who got the blind horse."

Casting up the results of eight trade agreements which have been in force a sufficient time to judge their effects, the governor said that under these agreements our imports increased more than three times as fast as our exports. He pointed to the vast flood of foreign food now coming into the country—live stock, cheese, meats, vegetables, etc.

Points to Large Imports.

"With the most intelligent and capable farm population in the world," he declared, "and with unsurpassed natural resources, we are now one of the largest importers not only of those things we do not produce but of those we are adapted to produce. This is a scandalous situation!"

Gov. Landon will keep wide open

FACTS FOR FARMERS

For the five years from 1926 to 1930, inclusive, the United States imported an average of 15,815,000 bushels of wheat. In the four years, 1931 to 1934, the average annual importation was 13,200,000 bushels.

In the crop year 1934-1935—for the first time since records were started in 1866—the United States imported more wheat than it exported.

In the year ended July 31, 1936, the United States imported 50,167,705 bushels of Canadian wheat.

That was the co-operation of the unplanned drouth with the planned scarcity of the New Deal. American farmers have been losing their wheat market abroad, and a rising tide of foreign wheat has been flowing into their home market.

Only 40 days remain in which to save your country. What are you doing to save it?

INSURES WIFE AGAINST GIVING BIRTH TO TWINS AND COLLECTS $5,000

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—William J. Pringle Jr., Pacific coast manager for an advertising agency, won $5,000 from Lloyd's of London today because his wife gave birth to twins.

Seven months ago he paid $200 for a $5,000 twin insurance policy issued by Lloyd's. Yesterday Mrs. Pringle became the mother of a boy and a girl. The boy weighed five pounds and thirteen ounces, three ounces more than his sister.

Mr. Pringle, remembering something of his studies of heredity when he was a student at the University of Chicago in the class of 1925, contemplated a tendency to twins in the family of his wife and decided that he might be faced with such an event in his home. So he took out a policy to protect him against the extra financial load of a double blessed event.

The policy provided that both babies must live at least 24 hours and that the births must be within six weeks of normal time.

The couple have an 8 year old son, Tom Pringle, but on Tommy Mr. Pringle carried his own risk.

SIX BOYS PLAY IN RAIL CAR; GET UNEXPECTED RIDE

Six little boys went playing in an empty cattle car at 31st street and Ashland avenue yesterday afternoon. Last night the six little boys were in Rockford, Ill. They are between 10 and 14 years of age.

While they were playing inside the car somebody locked the door. Then the train began moving. It did not stop until it reached Rockford. The unwilling prisoners pounded on the door and cried until a brakeman came to their rescue.

Cold and hungry, they were taken to the county jail and held for their parents. The boys were Daniel Spurr, 3300 South Damen avenue; his brother, Edward; Earl Bray, 1834 West 31st place; Daniel McCleod, 3404 Archer avenue; Thomas Pawloski, 1857 West 31st street, and Joseph Danihel, who could not remember his address because his family had just moved to a new place.

Baby Doomed to Starve; Physicians Can Give No Aid

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A 3 week old baby, born without an abdominal wall, is doomed to starvation in a San Francisco hospital, physicians reported today. George Calegaris, the father, told doctors he hoped the child soon would die a merciful death. Physicians said there was nothing medical science could do to save the child.

Al Smith Gives Up Radio Time for Roosevelt

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, in a telegram to President Roosevelt made public here today, stated he had changed the time for radio broadcast of the speech he will deliver here Oct. 1 in order to prevent a conflict with broadcast of the President's speech at the same hour from Pittsburgh.

Smith said his action was taken "in deference to the high office of President which you hold," adding "I do not desire to interfere with your having a nation-wide audience."

Smith was not present when the message was made public through a publicity office.

Tells of Reserving Time.

The text of the telegram read:

"On Sept. 11 negotiations were opened with the National Broadcasting company for an hour's radio time to be used by me between 9 and 10 p. m., Oct. 1, when I am to speak at Carnegie hall, New York City.

"Shortly thereafter the time was definitly reserved on the Blue network of the National Broadcasting company.

"Since then announcement has been made of your intention to make a political speech at Pittsburgh, Oct. 1, between 9 and 9:30 o'clock, eastern standard time.

All Other Time Engaged.

"Subsequent to the announcement of my speech, the Democratic national committee, I am informed, has engaged all radio time on the combined Columbia and National systems except that reserved for me.

"In deference to the high office of President which you hold, I do not desire to interfere with your having a nation-wide audience. Therefore, I have canceled that portion of my contracted period which would conflict with your half hour and shall not begin my radio address until 9:30 p. m., when you will have finished."

Modern Tarzan Rides Deer, Then Kills It with Knife

Redlands, Cal., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Tarzan couldn't have improved upon the exploit of Frank J. Lodge—he rode a deer to death. Affidavits were on file today in which Lodge's hunting companions told how he straddled a wounded animal and clung to it on a wild flight until he killed it with his hunting knife.

BRITISH KING TEACHES HIS BAGPIPERS HOW TO PLAY DIXIELAND JAZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 24.—King Edward VIII. of England, who already has aroused great interest by breaking traditions, has given the Scots a real jolt. He is initiating nine royal bagpipers into the mysteries of American Negro jaz at Balmoral castle, where his American friends, Mrs. Ernest Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rogers, are his guests.

An astonished Balmoral correspondent reported today that he had heard a piper "doing his best with the St. Louis Blues" under royal tutelage.

The king is fond of the pipes and has the pipers "play in the dinner" nightly. The late King George's favorite piper, Maj. Forsyth, leads the "band." About 9:30 p. m. the king enjoys a concert of pipe music and intersperses it with jaz lessons.

SLAYS MANAGER OF CAFE AS 20 PATRONS LOOK ON

Twenty or more patrons in the spacious Paradise inn, Chinese restaurant at 4007 West Madison street, were thrown into terror early today when a young Chinese gunman strode past them and shot and killed John Eng, 60 years old, of 3826 West Jackson boulevard, Chinese manager and part owner of the place. He was also part owner of the Hoe Sai Gai restaurant, 85 West Randolph street.

The killer escaped. Fillmore street police received a good description of him. They immediately sent squads to the Chinese section at Cermak road and Wentworth avenue, hoping to seize him should he attempt to hide in that locality. Early detectives could not determine whether the slaying was inspired by tong differences.

According to witnesses of the murder, the gunman walked directly up to Eng. The latter apparently knew him. The killer greeted him with "Hello, uncle" in Chinese. Then he drew a gun and fired three shots, all striking Eng in the body. Eng was taken to the Garfield Park hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

POET AND EDITOR SAYS HE'S FREE OF OLD PHOBIA

Broad Channel, N. Y., Sept. 24.—(AP)—John Hewins Kern, secretary of the Long Island Poets' association and former magazine editor, announced today that he had been cured of agoraphobia, a morbid dread of open spaces that has kept him within 200 feet of his little cottage here for more than six years.

The cure was effected, Kern said, by a neighbor, Miss Elsie Clark, who once acted in motion pictures.

Widow Takes Stand; Denies Killing Straub

MRS. MELBA STRAUB.

Mrs. Melba Straub calmly denied from the witness stand before Federal Master in Chancery Jacob I. Grossman yesterday that she shot and killed her husband, Louis. Straub was mysteriously murdered on the night of Feb. 2, 1935, in the basement of the Saddle and Cycle club at Sheridan road and Foster avenue, where he was night bartender.

The widow made her denial after a previous witness testified that Straub had been shot at nine years before he was murdered and a year before his marriage, and that he lived in fear of some woman who had threatened him.

Action Over $20,410.

The hearing, a civil action, is to determine whether Mrs. Straub or her late husband's brother, Ernest, and his two nephews should receive $20,410 of insurance on Straub's life.

Ernest Straub and his nephews are seeking to prevent the widow from collecting the insurance by convincing the courts she shot her husband. In a civil action such as this, it was explained, the master can rule against Mrs. Straub if he believes there is a preponderance of evidence to show that she shot her husband. In a murder trial, proof must be established beyond a reasonable doubt.

Widow Is Unruffled.

Mrs. Straub, who had sat calmly throughout the hearing, which began on Monday, was pale but unruffled when she was called to the stand by Harold Levy, one of her attorneys. She was clad in an oxford gray wool suit, set off by a fur neckpiece and a modified beret of black ribbed velvet.

She gazed steadily at Attorney Levy as he began his questioning and maintained her poise as he asked abruptly:

"Did you shoot and kill your husband, Louis Straub?"

"No, sir," the widow replied.

"Do you know who shot and killed your husband?" Levy asked.

"I do not," Mrs. Straub said.

Tells of 1927 Marriage.

She testified that her name was Lillian Melba Straub and that she was married to Louis Straub in 1927, eight years before his death.

"When was the last time you saw your husband alive?" Levy asked.

"That Saturday," she replied. [This was on Feb. 2, 1935.] "We were alone together at home all day, until he left for work just before 6 o'clock that evening."

The widow testified that she left their home at 901 Argyle street at about 7:45 p. m. and drove in her car to the home of a friend, Mrs. Billie Edlin, at 4901 Drexel boulevard. She and Mrs. Edlin then went to a card

SPANISH REBELS DRIVEN BACK BY WALL OF WATER

Loyalists Open Dam to Save Madrid.

BY JAY ALLEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Sept. 24.—The Belgians opened the dikes in the world war to check the Germans.

Having no dikes, the Spaniards opened Alberche dam to stop the Fascist rebels. In the past twenty-four hours 20 million cubic meters of water have flowed down the sandy bed of the Alberche river thirty-six miles west of Madrid and played hob with the communications of Col. Juan Yague's rebel army of 12,000 men which was pressing forward to the rescue of their pals in the Alcazar fortress at Toledo.

If everything being said in Madrid tonight in this exuberant capital is true then the rebels have suffered a major catastrophe that will have a place in history.

Decide on Desperate Measures.

This your correspondent knows to be true:

Tuesday night Premier Francisco Largo Caballero and his ministers decided on desperate measures. The so-called southwestern Talavera front—no longer that for some time now—crumbled day after day. Rebel planes terrorized government militiamen. Madrid was in grave danger.

A horde of rebels, backed up by Phalanxists [Fascists] and regulars—always in the rear guard of this advance because they cannot be trusted—broke through to Santa Olalla last Thursday.

This correspondent saw the rout on the road between Santa Olalla and Maqueda. He saw two valiant officers with pistols try to stop it, but the militia, all green men sent up from Catalonia, had been frightened by the attacks of rebel bombers.

Italian Plane Terrifying.

How terrifying the low flying Italian plane, with its machine guns spitting death and its bomb rack releasing destruction can be in open country, this correspondent can testify.

Behind Maqueda, however, the government troops rallied. For the first time on this front there was the appearance of a military stalemate. But each day I found my trip to the front shorter. Tuesday the Moors took Torrijos and pushed on to Rielves, only about 13 miles from Toledo.

I tried to say that night that this acute rebel salient was severely menaced on the left, but the censors thought this premature to send. The menace of a wall of water was one Col. Yague seemed to consider least of all.

Dam Is Huge Affair.

The Alberche dam is a huge affair raised in the mountain valley at El Tiemblo, near San Martin. It gives Madrid light and power. Its capacity is close to 40 million cubic meters. Last night the sluice gates were opened and 10 million cubic meters of water foamed down the river bed, which is usually only a trickle at this time of the year.

An incalculable quantity of live stock and surely many innocent lives were lost. But not until the flood reached the broad, flat valley southward near Talavera did it become a menace. A few miles before the Alberche empties into the Tagus river it spread, inundating roads, destroying bridges and converting the Talavera airport into a swamp.

This morning another 10 million cubic meters of water were released. Tomorrow another 4 million will be unleashed.

[Madrid reports to the Associated Press said many rebels were drowned in the flood and that those who escaped fled to higher ground to the south.]

Report Talavera Retaken.

Clearly an attack on the rebel left flank was planned. In Madrid tonight it was said that Capt. Mangada, son of Gen. Julio Mangada, has taken both Oropesa and Talavera, supposedly having advanced down the valley of the River Tietar. If this is true, he has cut off Col. Yague completely and a rebel catastrophe is imminent. I cannot confirm this for the life of me.

But I do know, because I went myself and saw, that the militia has taken back Rielves, that they are entering Torrijos, that they are pressing upon Maqueda, and that the rebels are withdrawing all along the line.

There are indications that their withdrawal is something like a rout. War materials are being abandoned. Prepared this morning for a last push on Toledo to rescue the cadets still holding out in the Alcazar fortress, they found themselves not only with their flank attacked and communications cut but also savagely attacked from Santa Cruz del Retamar, east of Maqueda, north of Torrijos.

Forces that were to have succored the Alcazar were rushed 12 miles to Maqueda. But they yielded before a wicked attack by government planes and the charge of militiamen, suddenly heartened, I believe, by this show of strength in the air, which had lately been lacking.

In the road beyond Quismondo, about 5 miles from Maqueda, I watched government artillery bombard Maqueda. At 6 o'clock tonight government planes were dropping bombs which must have been 300 pounders with incredible effect.

At the Alcazar tonight there must have been despair. So near and yet so . . . For the weakness of Col. Yague's rebel army is that nobody is behind it and it is in hostile country.

Madrid Drafts More Men.

MADRID, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Virtually all able bodied men between the ages of 18 and 45 were drafted to the defense of the Spanish capital today as the government poured column after column of reënforcements to block the advance of Moorish rebel troops. The official radio ordered all militiamen in Madrid to report to barracks.

Fresh detachments were recruited from among the unemployed and refugees from other war zones. They were put through hasty drills to be rushed to the southwestern front. Truckfuls of others filled the highways to the south.

Police disclosed raids were being continued on the homes of suspected Fascist sympathizers and new arrests were made. In one home they said they found a cache of 1,000,000 pesetas and a quantity of religious statuary.

Capital's Plight Grave.

Editorial opinion stressed the gravity of the capital's plight and exhorted the population to submit to discipline.

"The war is now at its most critical stage," the newspaper El Socialista asserted. "It is a question of life and death. Through the absurdity of European diplomacy, the Fascists are armed while help is refused the legitimate army. To counteract this, we must supply ourselves with arms by capturing them from the enemy."

The newspaper El Sol warned: "These are decisive hours. We must redouble our efforts. The situation is frankly grave and will continue to be grave until we have mopped up all of Estremadura."

"The insurgents want to take Madrid," El Liberal said, "but they must not succeed. Madrid is Spain. Our watchword must be 'attack, attack, attack'."

MADRID CLAIMS DISPUTED

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

MAQUEDA, via Valladolid, Spain, Sept. 24.—Newspapermen today visited Torrijos, which was captured Tuesday after an onslaught of rebel regulars aided by the Foreign Legion and Moors. Maj. Pimentel of the Foreign Legion, who commands this sector, said that while outposts are reconnoitering toward Toledo his men are resting up and consolidating their positions.

Much artillery, anti-aircraft guns, and enormous quantities of supplies, as well as fresh troops, are being brought up from the rear, however, which tends to show that the high command is preparing for a final push on Toledo to rescue the cadets in the Alcazar. This may take place in a day or two.

At dawn Madrid airplanes swept the road south of Torrijos with machine gun fire and the rebel veterans, new to this kind of warfare, were forced to lie flat on the roadside for a half hour until superior rebel air forces drove off the Madrid planes.

Thereafter, during the entire day rebel planes again bombed the road between Toledo and Madrid to keep direct communications between these two points broken. After the first Madrid air attack rebel pursuit planes also guarded the flanks of the advancing columns, for these moved too fast to clean up their flanks in the usual fashion.

Loyalist Planes Defend Bilbao.

EIBAR, Spain, Sept. 24.—[By Warship to Saint Jean de Luz, France]—(AP)—Three Spanish government airplanes rained bombs on Fascist troops to halt their advance on Bilbao, north coast port, today.

Backed against the walls of deserted Eibar, a town 25 miles east of Bilbao, the government militia fought a day-long battle with the insurgents which ended with neither side victorious.

The heavy concentration of insurgents outside Eibar made the government's air bombardment heavily effective. For nearly an hour planes dropped 500 pound projectiles into the marching columns, causing heavy losses.

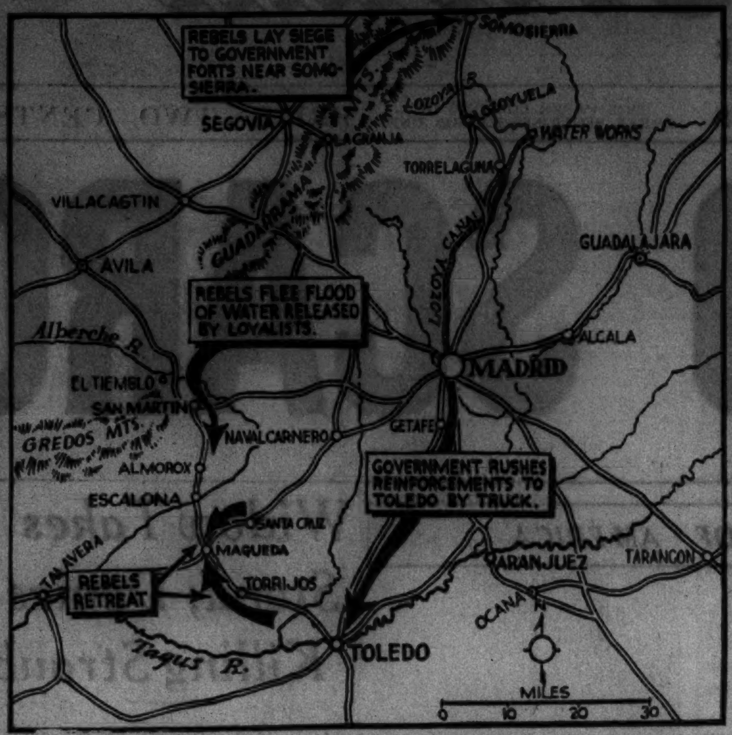
Along the coast, however, the government defense gave way to Fascist troops led by armored cars who pushed to Motrico. Ondarroa was hastily evacuated, and a group of civilians was taken from Lequeitio to Bilbao.

Burglar Who Stabbed U. S. Official in Tokio Seized

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Sept. 25.—[Friday.]—A burglar who stabbed Erle Dickover, American chargé d'affaires of the Tokio embassy early Wednesday, was arrested late last night. He was identified as Eishi Imano, 23, a clerk of the ministry of home affairs. He was arrested after he had sold a stolen watch to a fish dealer.

SPANISH LOYALISTS FLOOD REBEL ARMY



Madrid government forces yesterday unleashed the waters of the great Alberche river power dam near San Martin in a desperate attempt to check the rebel advance upon the capital. The government reported many insurgents drowned and much rebel war material destroyed by the flood. Loyalists also claimed the rebels are in retreat on the Maqueda front near Toledo, but this was disputed by insurgent leaders.

SOVIETS STAGE MOCK SPANISH WAR BATTLE TO GET RELIEF FUNDS

MOSCOW, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A vast mock battle between "Spanish loyalists" and "Spanish Fascists" featured a meeting tonight of 100,000 workers in a campaign to raise money for the relief of Spanish women and children. Delegates were elected to accompany a "food ship" taking supplies to Spain.

Some 5,000 persons participated in the mock "battle" which was supposed to be a replica of the fighting in Toledo. The stage "workers" marched off to the front and "Fascists," dressed in Spanish uniforms, entered "Toledo" and committed "atrocities."

Finally, the "workers" ran on the stage in a fierce battle, firing regulation rifles loaded with blank cartridges. Amid loud cheers they finally emerged victorious over the "Fascists" who played dead all over the stage. Similar meetings were held in various sections of Russia tonight with workers asked to pledge one-eighth of a day's salary for the relief of Spanish women and children.

GIRL, 4, DIES OF FOOD POISONING; 3 OTHERS ARE ILL

A Lake county coroner's jury returned a verdict of ptomaine poisoning last evening at an inquest into the death of Della Humphrey, 4 years old, 2322 Gilead avenue, Zion. The girl collapsed and died in her mother's arms yesterday morning. Three others of the Humphrey children are ill from the same cause, one of them seriously.

Physicians were puzzled at first after preliminary examinations failed to disclose the nature of the malady which caused the girl's death and the illness of the others. Later it was learned that Della and her two sisters, Juanita, 3 years old, and Beverly, 18 months old, and her brother, Lee, 6 years old, had eaten tomatoes Tuesday evening. The tomatoes, apparently, were tainted or overripe. Juanita is critically ill, but the condition of the other two children is not serious.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Humphrey, and another son, Zenas, 8 years old, were not affected by the ailment. The family is on relief.

ROME DEMANDS SPAIN FREE TWO ITALIAN CAPTIVES

PERPIGNAN, France, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Italian government tonight demanded that two Italians reported arrested by the Spanish government in Puigcerda, in Lerida province, be released before midnight tomorrow.

[An unconfirmed report to the New York Times said the bombardment of Barcelona by Italian warships is threatened unless the two men are freed.]

An Italian consular agent, M. Giardini, it was said, had gone to Puigcerda and been told that the prisoners had been sent to Barcelona for trial.

It was also reported here tonight that a French woman journalist, Mme. Caillou, arrested with the Italians, had been released at Puigcerda and sent back into France after the intervention of French authorities.

LEAGUE DECIDES TO PUT A GAG ON 'SABERRATTLERS'

Aims to Forbid Speeches Endangering Peace.

GENEVA, Sept. 24.—(AP)—France tonight presented a plan for a league of nations disarmament conference while the league moved to prevent inflammatory speeches from its rostrum.

France officially notified the league assembly steering committee that it would propose convocation of the general committee as a disarmament conference.

The committee, meanwhile, authorized President Saavedra Lamas to halt any speakers whom he thinks guilty of utterances liable to affect adversely international relations.

The first scheduled speakers include Julio Alvarez del Vayo, delegate of the Socialist-communist Madrid government; Yvon Delbos, French delegate; and Capt. Anthony Eden, Great Britain's foreign secretary. Del Vayo, it was understood, would address the league on the Spanish civil war.

Urged to Finish Conquest.

Premier Mussolini of Italy, it was reported, has been advised to hurry the complete conquest of Ethiopia to fortify his demands that Haile Selassie's kingdom be excluded from the league.

Counselors have urged him, informants said, to subjugate the nation so thoroughly the erstwhile "king of kings" would have no further claim to a capital, such as Gore, or to any jurisdiction, on which to demand rights to representation at Geneva.

The negus was said to recognize the danger and to be preparing a last ditch stand to maintain a realm, however tiny, in Ethiopia. Haile Selassie left tonight for London.

Mussolini's friends coupled their advice with another hint to Il Duce: To bide his time until sympathizers in the league can win him the verdict on the issue whether Ethiopia is entitled to a seat.

He was told, it was said, the league's vote yesterday to recognize the Ethiopian delegation and to reject the credentials committee's proposal the world court be asked to rule on Ethiopia's membership was actually an Italian victory.

See Duce Victory in End.

Authoritative quarters said the ruling, although an apparent success for Haile Selassie, was engineered by pro-Italian statesmen and ultimately would be in Il Duce's favor.

It was reported some leaders were convinced the world court would have ruled against Italy, thus slamming shut all doors leading to eventual indirect recognition of the Ethiopian conquest.

The court, it was said, would have held Italy's acquisitions in Ethiopia violated the league covenant and, therefore, could not affect the nation's claim to membership.

Mussolini was apprised of this explanation, urged to remain in the league and let time solve the Ethiopian question.

Although Il Duce still ignored the league assembly meeting an Italian was elected as one of the six vice presidents. Delegates regarded this as a manifestation of good will toward Italy and an effort to salve the sting of seating Ethiopia.

Other vice presidencies were won by France, Britain, Jugo-Slavia, Canada and Russia.

44 ARABS SLAIN IN BATTLE WITH BRITISH TROOPS

JERUSALEM, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Forty-four Arabs were killed in battle with British troops and scouting planes near Jenin today. Nightfall halted the fight. One plane was shot down and the pilot taken to a hospital, but the British troops suffered no fatalities.

A British lieutenant was injured in another engagement near Hebron.

With Lieut. Gen. John Greer Dill organizing a force of 30,000 men, including reinforcements en route from England, the Jewish Telegraph agency said it had learned reliably that martial law will be proclaimed next Sunday unless the Arab general strike is ended by that date.

Leaps to Death in River as Bridgetender Watches

An unidentified man about six feet tall leaped into the Chicago river from the Dearborn street bridge last night and drowned. John Northrup, bridgetender, saw him walk to the center of the bridge, climb the rail, and jump. He sank before Northrup could throw a life belt to him. The tender at the Clark street bridge also stood by with a preserver, but the man sank before floating to that bridge. Northrup said the man wore dark trousers, a sweater, and a cap.

LINK ROOSEVELT AND ZINOVIEV IN FINANCIAL DEAL

Russian's Plea for Help Revealed by Paper.

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Gregory Zinoviev, the soviet leader recently executed on charges of plotting to kill Stalin, visited the offices of the MacLean Publishing company fourteen years ago, according to an article in the Financial Post, a Toronto financial newspaper, and tried to enlist the support of the Post for United European Investors, Ltd., of which Franklin D. Roosevelt was then president.

GREGORY ZINOVIEV

United European Investors, Ltd., was a Canadian company with its head office in New York City. President Roosevelt 14 years ago also was vice president of the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland.

"On his visit to MacLean Publishing company," says the Financial Post story, "Mr. Zinoviev was accompanied by Martin Nordegg and the late Senator Andrew Haydon, Ottawa barrister and at that time chief organizer for the Liberal party.

Stock Sale Plan Outlined.

"The plan of United European Investors was to sell in the United States and Canada 60,000 8 per cent preferred cumulative shares of no par value and 60,000 common shares with a par value of 10,000 marks. The preferred shares were to be sold for United States and Canadian dollars and the common stock was to be exchanged for whatever they could get of the billions of German marks held in the United States and Canada. The marks received by the company were to be taken to Germany and invested in real estate, common stock equities, and in any value which would persist whether or not money was inflated to the bursting point.

"It was represented in the prospectus that 'there is a great stringency of money and credit in Germany at present and sound and attractive investments can be secured for marks at prices which should insure profitable returns coupled with safety of principal.

Other Arguments Made.

"It was further represented that the mark had a greater purchasing power in Germany than on this continent. If exchange rose there would be a profit. If the mark fell to the vanishing point the assets would remain. It was represented that the holding of mark currency or drafts was hazardous. Senator Andrew Haydon was a director, and his firm, McGiverin, Haydon & Ebbs, Ottawa, was Canadian counsel for the company.

"It looked very well on paper, but what the full response was from holders of German marks on this continent is not known. By June 5, 1925, the old German mark had become nothing but a memory.

"In December, 1922, Mr. Roosevelt announced that the first 100,000,000 mark investment in Germany had been made in a widely diversified list of nineteen stocks, all quoted on the boerse except one. They cost $15,000.

"Later investments are not recorded in Canada and the company filed its last annual return on March 31, 1927, at Ottawa. Then Mr. Roosevelt was no longer president, all the directors except Andrew Haydon being New York City men with German names. The company was dissolved on July 12, 1927.

"President Roosevelt was regarded as being really anxious to help out the mark holders in the United States when he consented to head this company. It was a lovely plan on paper like a lot of New Deal legislation which he has fathered since, but it signally failed to realize the hopes inspired by the progenitors of the plan. And Zinoviev was an earnest advocate of that plan.

"Zinoviev, whose real name is said to have been Apfelbaum, was a close revolutionary associate of Lenin and Trotzky. Later he broke with Trotzky to work with Stalin and broke with the latter to conspire with Trotzky."

DAUGHTER TO MOVE, BUT AIMEE INSISTS THERE'S NO TROUBLE

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson's daughter announced today she is moving out of the parsonage of the Four Square Gospel but the evangelist mother insisted reports of a new row at Angelus temple are "decidedly not true."

The reports that trouble was simmering came as Jacob Moidel, attorney friend of the daughter, Roberta Semple, said Mrs. McPherson wanted employment authority of the big church's staf to rest with Giles Knight, temple business manager.

"Mother is correct when she says that I am not giving up my temple work," Miss Semple said. "I have a contract as assistant business manager and I am continuing my work in that capacity. However, I am moving from the parsonage."

Late tonight Mrs. McPherson issued a statement which said:

"With regard to this letter, I do not believe it is the language of my daughter and there is nothing in my heart but love for her.

"It has been the fond dream of my heart that Miss Semple become president of the organization which I have built up when she is ready to carry the burden."

PRIEST REPORTS EX-LABORER NOW A MILLIONAIRE

Friends of Tony Oklend, the Lithuanian laborer who left Chicago without a job in 1929 and has since become a wealthy gold miner, learned yesterday that he now has a wife. She is the former Miss Sylvia Czarnecki, 31 years old, a manicurist, who once lived at 2035 Rice street. They are now living on Oklend's sumptuous estate at Oakville, 20 miles from Toronto.

The story of Oklend was brought back by the Rev. Stephen A. Bubacz, pastor of Old St. Stephen's church, 923 West Ohio street. They are old friends. Mrs. Oklend is a former parishioner. Father Bubacz visited the Oklends at Oakville. He saw enough to convince him that Oklend is rolling in gold. Oklend has surrounded himself with every comfort and convenience, said Father Bubacz. He even has a private airplane.

Oklend, according to the clergyman, uses gold nuggets as paper weights. He maintains many cars. He employs numerous servants. He serves champagne for breakfast—all this according to Father Bubacz. Oklend married Miss Czarnecki here in July. He gave her $16,000 worth of sables, an $8,000 car, and a $3,600 diamond ring, according to the priest.

Oklend went prospecting in 1929 and struck a rich vein. The priest understood he was now worth $1,000,000.

DAWES ANSWERS LLOYD GEORGE'S JAB AT PERSHING

Lauds American's Stand on Replacements.

Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes, general purchasing agent of the United States army in France during the world war, said last night that "it is to the honor of the American nation" that Gen. John J. Pershing stood firm during the war days against British and French demands that American troops be split up as replacements for the allied armies.

Replying vigorously to criticism of Pershing in the fifth volume of the memoirs of David Lloyd George, Britain's wartime premier, Gen. Dawes said:

"Mr. Lloyd George's violent criticism of Gen. Pershing's insistence upon the preservation of the unity of the American Expeditionary Force is but a recrudescence of the bitter fight made against the general by the British and French governments to force him to feed his army as replacement troops into foreign armies, to be commanded by their officers.

Tells Pershing's Side.

"If Gen. Pershing had then yielded to the demand of Mr. Lloyd George and dissipated the American army under British and French commands, to the loss of its efficiency and to the humiliation of the United States, his foreign critics might now be denouncing him for such an action, not only as a weakling, but as a fool or traitor.

"In March, 1918, the allies faced a supreme crisis when the German army had destroyed the British Fifth army and broken through the junction point of the French and British lines. Gen. Pershing then stepped forward and on March 28, 1918, offered the whole of his army to the Foch command, using these words:

Commander's Words Recalled.

"'Our infantry, our artillery, our aviation, all we have, are yours; dispose of them as you please.'

"But with the crisis passed, he maintained the integrity of his army, not only because to do otherwise would be a national humiliation, but because experience had taught that all armies serve more efficiently under their own officers.

"I regret that Mr. Lloyd George has found it necessary to write in this way. I think this country, like his own, honors him for the magnificent service he personally rendered to the allies' cause during the war."

Guard Fires on 2 Intruders in Building; One Captured

James Baker, 41 years old, who gave his address as 116 South 6th avenue, Maywood, was being held by central police last night as one of two men who fled from the building at 127 South Market street after being observed by a watchman. The men kicked their way out through a glass door. The watchman, Lewis W. Eipers, fired at one and caught him, but was overpowered and disarmed. Later Baker was found near his home suffering from loss of blood. Police said he had Eipers' gun in his pocket. They said he admitted having been in the Market street building. He cut his ankle in escaping.

70 PCT. OF BONUS PAID TO VETS IN CASH SINCE JUNE

U. S. Payments Total $1,318,426,792.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—A total of $1,238,244,500 in cash, or 70 per cent of the outstanding bonus, has been paid out to world war veterans in bond redemptions since the securities were distributed to them in June, the treasury announced today. Thus nearly three-quarters of the veterans preferred cash to holding their bonds for an accumulation of 3 per cent interest up to 1945.

In addition to the bonds that have been redeemed, the treasury has cashed a total of $80,182,292 in checks representing odd amounts not covered by the $50 denomination of all the bonds.

Cash in Circulation.

This cash plus the bond redemptions makes a total of $1,318,426,792 that has actually gone into circulation since June 15.

According to the veterans' administration there are 3,518,191 world war veterans entitled to adjusted service compensation. Of this number 3,380,519 had received their bonds up to Sept. 19, or an increase of 5,552 over the previous week. There were 35,334,925 bonds valued at $1,766,746,250 issued to the veterans.

Outgo Slows Down.

A total of 24,198,272 bonds were redeemed by postoffices throughout the country, acting as pay stations for the treasury, for a total of $1,209,913,600. The United States treasurer's office here in Washington accounted for an additional $28,330,900 in redemptions for bonds sent directly to it.

The drain on the treasury is slowing up to an average of about 1 per cent in redemptions a week. For the week of Sept. 19 redemptions at the postoffices amounted $9,736,200, in contrast to $523,932,200 for the week ending June 20, which was the week of the big rush of veterans to convert their bonds into cash.

PROTESTS CANDIDACY OF H. C. LODGE JR. FOR SEAT IN U. S. SENATE

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Former State Auditor Alonzo B. Cook filed formal protest at the secretary of state's office late today against the candidacy of Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Republican nominee for United States senator, asserting Lodge's legal name does not contain the "junior."

The protest was scheduled to come before the Massachusetts ballot law commission Saturday.

Cook, who as a Republican was elected state auditor for 16 years, is an independent candidate for senator against Lodge and against the Democratic nominee, Gov. James M. Curley. Under Curley's administration Cook was given a position in the state income tax division.

Lodge protested:

"I still bear the name with which I was born, a fact which is proved by the official records.

"It has been obvious to the 'powers that be' that I can not be defeated for United States senator in a clean and open fight. Therefore I am not surprised at any attempt to disfranchise the people of Massachusetts."

The candidate is a grandson of the late famed Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, and a son of the late George Cabot Lodge.

Action Follows on Heels of Two Scandals.

The cleanup of the county building in the wake of the two major scandals which have been disclosed there in the last eight days, got under way yesterday. County officials promised to turn their "vest pocket" funds over to the county treasurer, in compliance with a statute which most of them have ignored since its passage fifteen months ago.

There were a number of other developments in connection with the alleged embezzlement of $22,560 from one of these trust funds by Frank V. Zintak, ousted clerk of the Superior court, and the more recent statement by Edward J. Walton, court reporter, that he "kicked back" at least $15,458 in commissions to county officials for their business.

Zintak Gets Attorney's Advice.

These developments included the following:

1. Zintak, the albatross of the county Democratic slate in the November election since he was deposed and indicted on the charge of embezzlement, has been advised by his attorney, Stephen Love, to continue in that rôle and refuse to withdraw as a candidate for reëlection, it was learned.

2. Investigators opened Zintak's safe deposit box in the Trust Company of Chicago, where he kept securities deposited with him in escrow, and took an inventory of the contents for the use of auditors searching his books for possible further shortages.

Officials Attack "Kick Backs."

3. State's Attorney Courtney and Clayton Smith, president of the Cook county board, both attacked the practice of county officials in taking "kick backs" on their official expenditures, and urged an investigation. Courtney urged an investigation by the county board. Smith urged an investigation by Courtney. Neither investigation was started.

4. Mitchell C. Robin, clerk of the Probate court, entered an indignant denial that he was one of the county officials reported to be under federal investigation for failure to pay taxes on "commissions" on court reporting work. He admitted, however, that a single reporter has a monopoly on the lucrative stenographic business of his office.

SWEITZER COINS PHRASE

The term "vest pocket fund" arose during the Sweitzer scandal eighteen months ago from the contention of Robert M. Sweitzer, ousted county treasurer, that he had a legal right to carry "in his vest pocket" the trust funds from which he was charged with stealing more than half a million dollars during the 24 years he was county clerk. The phrase covered dozens of trust and escrow funds held by a number of county officials.

As a result of the Sweitzer scandal the legislature passed an act providing that all officials holding such funds should turn them over to the county treasurer, and also make monthly returns of fee collections, into which Sweitzer also dipped his hand, to the treasurer.

Zintak Reopens Question.

The shortages discovered in Zintak's office were in escrow funds. His arrest brought to light the fact that he and a number of other county officials had been ignoring the fifteen month old law. Criticism of this defiance of the law and of the failure of judges of various state courts to force their clerks to comply with it was held mainly responsible for the officials' promises to turn over a new leaf.

County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, who disclosed the huge Sweitzer shortage, and John E. Conroy, clerk of the Circuit court, promised yesterday to comply with the law. Brig. Gen. Edward H. White, appointed clerk pro tem of the Superior court after its executive committee had ousted Zintak, is expected to follow the same course, under instructions from the judges.

Flynn Insists on Compliance.

Flynn said he would turn over all his funds, including the tax redemption fund which was Sweitzer's happy hunting ground in the days when he was a star customer for blue sky stock salesmen, even if he has to "throw the money" at County Treasurer Joseph L. Gill. Flynn has stated previously that he had attempted to turn the funds over to Gill, who had refused to receive them, a statement which Gill denied.

Treasurer Gill's assertion Wednesday that none of the county fee officers have complied with the law was disputed by Sherif John Toman, Recorder Edward J. Kaindl, and Clerk Robin of the Probate court. They asserted that they turned over all their trust funds some time ago, and Gill admitted that this was true.

Any officials who fail to comply with the deposit law hereafter will be denounced in resolutions of the county board, President Smith promised. Through the audits of Lee Howard, county auditor, he has the means of keeping tab on the funds held by the various county offices.

ZINTAK STILL CANDIDATE

Attorney Love, who expects to file today his brief on a motion to quash the embezzlement indictment against Zintak, let it be known yesterday that he has advised his client "that it will be to his best interests" to refuse to resign as the Democratic candidate for reëlection to his old office.

If political gossip can be believed, Zintak came to the same conclusion independently. A story was circulated recently in the city hall that he met an official who will run on the Democratic ticket in November, in an elevator in that building, and that the official said, "You're going to quit, aren't you, Frank?"

"Why should I?" Zintak is reported to have replied.

"Why," the official is said to have expostulated, "you'll murder the rest of us!"

"What do I care?" was Zintak's purported reply. "Those —— never did anything for me."

Court Issues Search Warant.

Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher issued a search warant on which investigators opened Zintak's safe deposit box, across the street from the county building at 33 North La Salle street. The existence of the box was known when he was ousted from office, and he was restrained at the time by injunction from opening it himself.

The securities found in the box were inventoried and replaced, it was learned through the veil of secrecy which the raiding party threw about its actions. The inventory will be compared with the list of securities carried on Zintak's escrow and trust fund accounts as having been deposited in the box.

ISSUE STATEMENTS

State's Attorney Courtney issued a short statement yesterday after Court Reporter Walton's "kick backs" to county officials were called to his attention. He said:

"I do not see the need for any one to pay any public official a commission for public business. If the price is so high that a commission can be paid, it should be reduced and the taxpayers be given the benefit of the reduced rates.

"I believe that this is a matter which the county board should investigate and if they do I will assign an assistant to help them, and if any evidence of a criminal nature develops during such inquiry I will present it to the grand jury."

Smith Replies for Board.

Smith, the county board president, after reading the Courtney statement, replied a few hours later as follows:

"I don't kown what the powers of the county board are. I do know, however, that if there is any suggestion of irregularity on the part of any public official it should be investigated at once. There should be no air of mystery attached to government.

"It would be a fine thing if the state's attorney would investigate this rumor that commissions are being paid to certain of the public officials."

Clerk Robin was interviewed concerning his possible connection with the Walton affair upon discovery that his office, while it gets no appropriation from the county for court reporting, is perhaps the fattest source of such work in the county building. No appropriation is necessary because the cost of the work is charged against estates in probate.

Handle 10,000 Estates a Year.

A flat charge of $5 for each transcript of hearings on admission to probate, and of $3 on each proof of heirship, is made on each of approximately 10,000 estates which the court handles each year. About 2,000 of these estates, however, either have not sufficient assets to pay these charges or are exempt from them.

"I've never been down to the federal building and there's never been any trouble about my income tax return," said Robin in response to a question.

"Who does the reporting work in your office?" he was asked.

"Daniel Ross," he replied. "He's been doing it for ten years, but I haven't received any money from court reporting."

'KICKBACK' INQUIRY PROSECUTOR'S DUTY, DITCHBURNE WARNS

Harry S. Ditchburne, Republican nominee for state's attorney, declared last night that it is the duty of the state's attorney not only to bring criminal action against any county officials who may have received "commissions" for employing certain court reporters but to institute civil suits to recover such "commissions" for the taxpayers.

He referred to the statement Wednesday of Edward J. Walton, court reporter, that in 1934 he paid $15,458 to county officials for business in the county building. Ditchburne spoke before the Nineteenth ward regular Republican organization at 9240 Vincennes avenue.

"It is a well settled principle of law," he said, "that a county official is not entitled to extra commissions or gratuities from persons employed by him on behalf of the county to perform services of any kind for hire.

"But I am glad to suggest that it is within the state's attorney's power and duty to find out immediately which, if any, county official or employé is making any extra money at the expense of the taxpayer through rebates, commissions, refunds, or the like. It is also his duty, having determined the facts, to bring suit civilly against any such official or employé for recovery of the money and to prosecute criminally the officials involved."

OAK PARK WIFE GETS DIVORCE.

Takes Stand in Battle Over Insurance.

party at the home of Miss Josephine Daniels at 2342 Geneva terrace, arriving at about 8 p. m., she said.

Puts Departure at 1:30.

Mrs. Straub testified that about 1:30 o'clock the next morning—the hour police believe Straub was shot to death—she and Mrs. Edlin and Miss Rose Nordquist, 655 Melrose street, left the party together. Mrs. Straub said she took her friends to their homes and then drove to the club to meet her husband.

"Did you have anything to drink at the party?" Levy asked.

"Yes, sir, beer," Mrs. Straub answered. In response to Levy's question as to the quantity she drank, she replied, "Not over three bottles or so."

Old Shooting Revealed.

The witness who told of the old attempt on Straub's life was Henry Holdge, 5054 Winthrop avenue, who was night clerk in the Delmar hotel, 5046 Winthrop avenue, in 1926 while Straub was living there.

Under questioning by Attorneys Levy and Emmett Byrne, Holdge testified Straub told him in 1926, the year before Straub's marriage, that he was walking on the grounds of the Saddle and Cycle club after midnight one night when a car drew up and some one inside fired two shots, both of which missed Straub. A similar incident occurred in 1934, Holdge said Straub told him.

"Straub told me," Holdge testified, "that he believed the shots were fired by a woman."

The witness related that Straub told him a woman had made threats against him. He said that Straub had left instructions at the hotel desk that he was "never in" to any woman telephone caller, particularly one who tried every night for a time in 1926 to reach him.

Cross-examined by Attorneys Theodore Hardeen Jr. and J. Fred Reeve, counsel for Ernest Straub, Holdge said that Straub "didn't say" whether he had reported the first shooting incident to the police. He declared that he did not ask Straub whom he suspected of the attack "because I wasn't interested to that extent."

Women at Party Testify.

Among the other witnesses called yesterday were Lieut. Axel Jensen, Sergt. John Steffen, and Policeman Raymond Clancy, who took part in the murder investigation, and three women who were at the card party mentioned by Mrs. Straub.

The women are Miss Nordquist, Miss Daniels, and Miss Shirley Manno, 5417 West North avenue. Miss Daniels now lives at the North avenue address. They corroborated Mrs. Straub's testimony, adding that she received two or three telephone calls during the evening. They agreed they left the party at about 1:30 a. m.

Mrs. Straub will return to the stand when the hearing is resumed today.

SALES OF TEAR GAS BARED AT LA FOLLETTE QUIZ ON LABOR SPIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Sales of tear gas to industrial firms during the depression years totaled approximately half a million dollars, according to testimony today before the La Follette committee investigating espionage in labor disputes.

Committee investigators produced evidence to show these sales were made by the Lake Erie Chemical company. Many of the sales of tear gas were to coal mine owners.

The committee was told that Pennsylvania anthracite owners were forced to use tear gas to protect their mines against coal bootleggers because law enforcement authorities failed to aid them. Walter Gordon Merritt, attorney for the Anthracite Institute, made the statement.

MARKETING BAGS ISSUED BY G. O. P. HIT AT NEW DEAL

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The Republican national committee today carried its anti-New Deal fight directly to housewives who do the food shopping for their families. It began distribution of large paper marketing bags, upon which are printed a comparison of food prices today with those of 1933.

One side of the bags bears at the top the exhortation:

"Down with the New Deal and its rising food prices, caused by the government's wholesale destruction of food!"

Below that is the Landon-Knox sunflower emblem, and across the bottom of the bags are the words:

"Don't blame your grocer, but look at the prices on the other side and then vote Republican Nov. 3, 1936."

On the opposite is printed the comparative prices and this statement:

"Here are average prices of foods for the entire United States on March 15, 1933, and July 14, 1936, as reported by the United States department of labor. If you want to stop the rise in prices and get your cost of living down to where you can afford to go on living, vote Republican Nov. 3, 1936."

TICKET VENDERS OF SHERIF TOMAN CRY WARES AGAIN

But Who Sponsors Party Is Clouded Issue.

The 600 employés of Sherif John Toman, some of whom say that a job in his office is equal to a year's course in higher salesmanship, were out with tickets for something again yesterday. But this time there seemed to be some doubt as to whether the sherif or the employés themselves were sponsoring the Halloween party mentioned on the face of the tickets.

The loyal 600 worked diligently to promote a picnic of Sherif Toman's Twenty-third ward Democratic organization in Pilsen park on Sept. 11, only to have it rained out. Yesterday they appeared in various places around the city and county with tickets to the Halloween party at $1 a ticket, and they also sought advertisments for a dance program at $20 a page. The party is to be held in the Hotel Sherman on Oct. 31.

Toman Denies He's Sponsor.

The sherif denied sponsorship of the affair, although he gave it his blessing. He said it was for the employés who want to start a fund for death benefits and charitable work.

"When I took office," the sherif said, "I forbade collections among my workers, and this is their way of raising funds for mutual aid. William Milota, my chief deputy, is the head of an employés' committee that is putting on the party.

"No employé of mine need feel that he must sell tickets for anything at any time. I only demand that they do their work well. No one is going to be fired for not selling tickets while I know anything about it."

Employés Sell with Zeal.

Many of the employés, however, worked with zeal to dispose of their tickets. A lawyer in a Criminal Court building elevator nearly came to blows with the operator, who annoyed the attorney by delaying his trip while he tried to talk some one in the corridor into buying a pair of tickets.

Deputy sherifs and bailifs vied with the elevator men, clerks, and janitors in the selling campaign. Several county highway policemen, it was reported, quit scanning the roads for overloaded or speeding trucks and paid friendly visits to the owners of truck fleets, suggesting that they buy space in the dance program.

Sherif Toman denied that each employé of his office was given tickets to sell at the rate of one book of ten $1 tickets for each lesser worker and two books for the better paid employés. He also denied an allegation by one of his woman employés that Rudolph Sabath, custodian of the Criminal Court building, had deducted from each of his employé's pay checks the price of an allotment of tickets to the sherif's picnic last year.

LOVE IN A TRAILER IS TOO COLD; WIFE SUES FOR DIVORCE

Charging that her husband forced her to live in a trailer parked near the lake during the cold weather last November, Mrs. Dorothy Crawford, 24 years old, 1907 Cullom avenue, filed suit for divorce in the Superior court yesterday against Dr. John Crawford. Dr. Crawford is described as a "physiognomist," who analyzes character from faces.

The couple was married Sept. 11, 1935 and went to live in a trailer near Riverview park where the physiognomist was employed. In November the trailer was moved to Erie street near the lake and Mrs. Crawford became ill from the cold, the bill says. Since her separation from her husband, he has discarded the old trailer for a new one, which has all modern conveniences, the bill adds.

SUBMIT RECOUNT TODAY IN TRIAL FOR VOTE FRAUD

Results of a recount of ballots cast in the 4th precinct of the 20th ward in the April primary will be presented today to County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki. Five persons who served as election officials in the precinct polling place are on trial before Judge Jarecki on charges of contempt of court arising out of alleged irregularities in the vote canvass.

Judge Jarecki's recent announcement that he will tolerate no further delays in election fraud cases has been commended by C. L. Rice, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

"The commercial, industrial, and civic interests of Chicago are gratified at Judge Jarecki's announcement of summary action," Rice said. "He is to be congratulated on his policy to brook no delays in meting out punishment to sworn officials who think our laws are jokes."

The association of commerce has taken a leading part in the campaign for honest elections. It has assembled and submitted evidence of vote frauds to the County court and the state's attorney's office.

VOLUNTEERS ACT TO SPEED WORK OF NEW MEMBERS

Want Pledge Cards Sent to Office Quickly.

Headquarters of THE VOLUNTEERS yesterday asked all persons who are recruiting members in the patriotic organization, which is supporting the Landon-Knox ticket, to send in the pledge cards of new members as fast as they get them.

New literature and material to aid the campaign THE VOLUNTEERS are making to save America is being issued and headquarters is anxious that it get into the hands of members as quickly as possible. The membership cards should be sent to headquarters on the 17th floor of Tribune Tower.

Glowing reports of VOLUNTEER work in other states continues to pour in. From Detroit, where a branch was established only last Tuesday, came word that the large headquarters had been too small to accommodate the thousands who wished to become VOLUNTEERS and that two other headquarters had to be opened.

Plan Organization Meetings.

Extension of the units already functioning in Iowa and Wisconsin will be perfected at organization meetings over the week-end. Tomorrow, in Des Moines, representatives from VOLUNTEER headquarters will confer with a group organized by Mrs. Edwin T. Meredith, widow of the Democratic secretary of agriculture in the Wilson cabinet. Mrs. Meredith had taken little part in political campaigns until THE VOLUNTEERS was organized.

On Monday, in Milwaukee, the Wisconsin organization will be expanded at a meeting of headquarters' representatives and Miss Marie Kohler of Kohler Village, sister of former Gov. Walter Kohler of Wisconsin, who has been named chairman of THE VOLUNTEERS for the state. The Milwaukee Sentinel is coöperating in the Wisconsin movement.

Indicative of the spread of THE VOLUNTEERS is the fact that persons from 37 states were enrolled at the branch recruiting office at 338 South Michigan avenue since its establishment ten days ago.

Broadcasts Next Week.

Beginning next week, millions of radio listeners throughout the United States will hear the two officially adopted songs of THE VOLUNTEERS, Phil Maxwell, head of the music division, announced. The songs, the Campaign Hymn and "Our Landon," will be played over 31 radio stations from recordings made several days ago by four outstanding singers, Attilio Baggiore, tenor; Ambrose J. Wyrick, second tenor; Frank Bennett, baritone, and Mark Love, basso.

Radio Stations Scattered.

The radio station which will broadcast the VOLUNTEER songs are in Ohio, Minnesota, Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Nebraska, South Dakota, North Dakota, Iowa, and Illinois.

The Campaign Hymn and "Our Landon" are also being heard from sound trucks which are touring the United States. Ten thousand copies of the songs were printed by THE VOLUNTEERS for free distribution. Only a few hundred copies are now available. These may be obtained by writing Mr. Maxwell at headquarters.

ROOSEVELT HIT, IN RECORD TALK BY MISS FARRAR

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Miss Geraldine Farrar, former Metropolitan opera star, made a debut today, this time as Republican campaign orator. Indignant about many aspects of the New Deal, Miss Farrar came down from her home in Ridgefield, Conn., to put herself at the disposal of the Republican national committee.

"I am not politically minded. I'm human minded," said Miss Farrar.

"I am concerned over the fact that Mr. Roosevelt became our President on a platform which he declared was a solemn promise from him to the American people. He has since broken every pledge stated in that platform. Do we want to live in an America in which a solemn promise figures only as a honeyed preface to bewildering changes and plans we do not wish to indorse?"

SALUTE TO RADIO

By CALEB

TODAY, several skilled men are rigging up equipment and pulling peculiar cables through conduits in a nearly completed new home in Kenilworth. Soon their work will be done.

In several days, the family will take up its new abode—in strange quarters, in a new neighborhood. And yet something will be there which will make the family feel intimately at home at once.

That is music—wonderful music of many kinds. People who love music will understand.

In this home, you may sit in the living room or the library or the master bedroom and—by pressing certain ones of twenty little buttons on a little box—listen to any radio broadcasts on the air or to any preselected phonograph music. This represents the last word in radio-phonograph development! This is the world of music at your finger tips!

The industry that has accomplished this is a young industry. It developed as industries can develop only in this country. Ten years ago the nation was agog over radio, yet programs imperfectly broadcast were received even more imperfectly by receivers which were primitive and awkward, using batteries which were a nuisance. Today, there are reputedly 23,000,000 radios in use in this country, without counting 3,000,000 more in automobiles. And from tiny table sets up to magnificent remote control installations, they are literally self-contained and capable of reproducing creditably almost anything that is broadcast.

The mass of detail behind this development is extremely interesting—and covers headlong progress in radio science, in acoustical engineering, and in many related fields. Radio has led great musicians and conductors to study their own work in the light of helpful discoveries in the technical phases of sound reproduction. Architects and engineers of many kinds have recast their ideas and developed new techniques for doing many things, because radio's progress showed the way or required parallel accomplishment in other fields.

The Radio Show here now on our fourth floor is our own gesture of admiration and appreciation to an industry which typifies American enterprise and progress.

G. O. P. CHARGES DEMOCRAT FUND SQUEEZE IN WPA

New Deal Letter Cited to Show Pressure.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Republican national headquarters issued a protest last night that the New Deal is increasing the pressure on WPA workers to contribute to the Roosevelt-Garner campaign fund. Among the latest evidence the G. O. P. managers cite a letter received by WPA workers in Arizona, a copy of which was sent to headquarters here by Ned Creighton of Phoenix, G. O. P. national committeeman.

"In a letter to WPA headquarters," said a release from Republican national headquarters, "C. E. Addams, finance director of the Roosevelt and Garner committee which operates under the auspices of the Democratic state committee of Arizona, carefully points out there are federal statutes covering political contributions, but quickly points out that 'it is perfectly legal to make a voluntary contribution.'

Photostatic Copy Quoted.

"The following is taken from a photostatic copy of a letter sent to a WPA employé in Phoenix by Mr. Addams

"'My Dear Friend: I believe that every federal emeployé 's vitally interested in a continuation of the progressive policies of the administration as exemplified by the wise leadership of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Therefore, I am soliciting a financial contribution to the national Democratic campaign fund.

"'For your information I am citing the regulations concerning political contributions as provided for in federal statistics.'"

The citation in the Addams letter is given as follows:

"While no person in the public service is under any obligation to contribute to any political fund or to render any political service, it is perfectly legal for such a person to make a voluntary contribution to a political committee or campaign fund. The law provides that he will not be removed or otherwise prejudiced for refusing to do so.'"

Charge Many Are Fired.

Commenting on this, the statement from G. O. P. headquarters said:

"The Republican national committee calls attention to the fact that numerous WPA employés throughout the country have been discharged for refusing to contribute to Roosevelt campaign funds, for wearing the Landon sunflowers, and for refusal to assist in the Roosevelt campaign.

"In other words, the effect of the letter sent to WPA workers in Arizona, as in other states, is to make these men believe they will lose their jobs if they do not contribute to the Roosevelt-Garner campaign fund. This pressure on WPA workers is coming from a party which has declared there is no politics in relief."

A criticism that President Roosevelt's recently appointed commission to rehabilitate the "dust bowl" contains no one from the area affected, was made by Congressman Clifford R. Hope of Garden City, Kas., director of the farm division of the Republican national committee. Mr. Hope spoke at a luncheon of the Agricultural club in the Hotel La Salle.

"No program for the rehabilitation of this area," said Mr. Hope, "can succeed without taking into account the character of the people affected.

"In spite of the hard times through which they have passed, and the necessity for some governmental assistance, these people are still rugged individualists. They want, as far as possible, to work out their own problems. They think that with any reasonable help from the weather they can do so. They are optimistic and courageous, with a touch of fatalism.

"No theorist from Washington can possibly understand their viewpoint. Yet I notice that the commission just appointed by the President to work out this problem contains no one from the area and no one who has any understanding or comprehension of the problem from the human standpoint. This is unfortunate and, frankly, I do not look for any success in this venture unless the human elements are considered and a definite policy followed."

Mr. Hope declared the permanent effects of the duststorms have been greatly exaggerated, and that the area is not being depopulated and will not be.

Addams Denies Charge.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 24.—(AP)—C. E. Addams, Arizona director of the Roosevelt-Garner committee, denied tonight that a letter he had written to WPA workers insinuated they would lose their jobs if they did not contribute to the Democratic campaign fund.

He asserted the statement of the Republican national headquarters in Chicago was groundless and referred to the wording of his letter as proof that "I never had any thought of attempting to force contributions."

Use Bullets If Dictator Foils Ballots, Coughlin Says

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Rev. Charles E. Coughlin declared tonight that "when any upstart dictator in the United States succeeds in making of this nation a one party form of government and the ballot becomes useless I shall have the courage to stand up and advocate the use of bullets."

The radio priest told a rally of the National Union for Social Justice also that "the red flag has been uplifted in America; we must stop, look, and listen, lest disaster confront us."

Try to Overthrow Tradition.

"In every nation there is a growing tendency to overthrow the tradition of the past and supplant liberties, hard earned through the centuries, with a new form of social government and a new attitude toward our fellow men and our creator.

"What is transpiring on the streets of Madrid was looked upon seven months ago as an impossibility by those who thought that Red Russia would remain north of the Baltic.

"Red Russia does not remain quiet or inactive. Red Russia has promised an international revolution."

William Lemke, Union party candidate for the presidency, preceded Father Coughlin with an assertion that "President Roosevelt is now talking about crop insurance when there has been a crop insurance bill before the house since he entered the White House, and he blocked it."

Lemke said he referred to a measure of which he was the author, intended to give the farmer the cost of production plus a "reasonable profit."

Coughlin contended that communism was caused by what he termed "the evils of modern capitalism." These he defined as lack of a "living annual wage" and "the private issuance and control of currency."

Fears for Democracy's Fall.

By 1940, he said, "you may be witnessing the last election the United States will ever have under its democratic form of government."

"The Bible," he continued, "commands: Increase and multiply. But Roosevelt says destroy and devastate, and therefore I call him anti-God and radical.

"I wish to assure you that I hold no chagrin against Mr. Roosevelt. It's Mr. Roosevelt, the incompetent President, whom we must remove from office if we are to save America for we the people.

"He knows how to save it for the Democratic party, but he has not the intestinal fortitude to tell the communists that their lousy, criminal votes are not acceptable to him.

"Of Mr. Landon I have little to say. He is an honest, God fearing gentleman, but he doesn't know that his wife has stopped wearing hoopskirts. Mr. Landon is so old fashioned that he wants us to return to the gold standard, which more than anything else got us into the world war."

TRAFFIC CLUB POLL GIVES LANDON 301 TO 59 FOR ROOSEVELT

A straw vote on the presidential candidates taken yesterday by the Traffic club of Chicago among its members gave the following results:

Roosevelt	59
Landon	301
Lemke	4

Roosevelt	125
Hoover	202
Thomas	1

The straw vote was taken among members attending a meeting of the club in the Palmer house.

Mrs. Landon and Children Make Orphans' Home Visit

Topeka, Kas., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Alf M. Landon, wife of the Republican presidential nominee, took her two children, Nancy Jo, 4, and Jack, 2, and their nurse, Mrs. Lucy McCue, for a visit today to the state orphans home at Atchison.

HORNER CARRIES CAMPAIGN INTO NORTHERN CITIES

Claims He's Done a Good Job in Office.

Gov. Horner was stumping northern Illinois yesterday after weeks of speaking in the central and southern parts of the state. During the afternoon he addressed a meeting at Morris and at night he spoke in Aurora, Downers Grove, and Lombard. Today he is to visit De Kalb and Belvidere.

"There has been a lot of ballyhoo about a governor out in Kansas who balanced his budget," Mr. Horner told his audience in Morris. "Some are suggesting that he should be elected President for this feat.

"I'm not suggesting that I should be elected President, but I want you to know that the Illinois budget was balanced three years ago and that as long as Henry Horner is governor of this state it will remain balanced.

Tells Tax Promises.

"Four years ago I gave my pledge to reduce taxes for farmers and for small home owners and to place this state on a sound financial basis. These promises have been kept.

"I don't claim to be the best governor Illinois ever had, but I do claim that I did a damn good job and that my record supports my plea for reelection."

The governor's audience in the Grundy county courthouse at Morris, was estimated at 170 with 50 more listening to loudspeakers on the lawn. Grundy was one of the two Illinois counties that were Republican in the Democratic landslide of 1932.

Continues Theme in Aurora.

About 700 persons assembled in the Third regiment armory in Aurora to hear Gov. Horner continue on his theme of balancing the state budget.

"My administration has been charged with waste," he said. "Well, I challenge any one to prove that the finances of Illinois have not been administered economically. In the last four years we have saved $28,000,000 in government administration. In that time we have spent $98,000,000 for relief, $53,000,000 for schools, nearly double the educational expenditures of the previous administration, and $9,000,000 for old age pensions and other charitable relief.

"If balancing the state budget meant cutting off relief, reducing school expenditures or lopping off old age pensions, I'd rather see my office in hell. The budget will stay balanced while I'm governor, but necessary money will be spent."

Hughes Speaks on Auto Fees.

Edward J. Hughes, Democratic candidate for reëlection as secretary of state, cited his efforts in bringing about a reduction of the automobile license fees at the 1935 session of legislature.

John Martin, seeking reëlection as state treasurer, also spoke. He said the issue in the presidential campaign is "Hooverism with all of its ramifications."

HUMAN RACE GROWING TALLER AND HEAVIER, SCIENTISTS REPORT

The human race is growing taller and heavier. So reports the Journal of the American Medical Association in its forthcoming issue, out tomorrow.

Data was collected from many countries. Investigators found that sons entering college this fall are taller than their fathers; that daughters are not only taller than their mothers but heavier; that students in Massachusetts are about the tallest in the world; that little boys in Germany are bigger than little boys of previous generations, and that army recruits in Norway are taller than recruits of fifty years ago.

"Grown children of today, entering college in the United States, average two inches taller and weigh some seven pounds more than did their parents and grandparents who entered the same school," says the Journal. "These figures are based on measurements of fathers and sons at Harvard, and mothers and daughters who attended Vassar, Wellesley, Smith, and Mount Holyoke."

GLENN TALKS OF BROKEN PLEDGE AND FUND WASTE

Democratic Misrule Cited in Five Counties.

BY LLOYD WENDT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Petersburg, Ill., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The New Deal should be repudiated on Nov. 3 for its record of broken promises, squandered public funds, and the threat it holds for the American system of government, Otis F. Glenn, Republican candidate for United States senator, declared today in addresses in Cass, Mason, Menard, and Macoupin counties.

"The Democratic platform in 1932 promises a 25 per cent reduction in the cost of government," the former senator said. "But the New Deal did away with that promise and the other campaign promises of the Democratic party. Instead of reducing the cost of government, the new Deal, in three and one-half years, spent more money than had been expended by all of the Presidents of the United States from George Washington to Woodrow Wilson.

"Needy Not Getting Aid."

"In the guise of social aid the New Deal has padded pay rolls with social workers who are squandering funds. People who really need aid are not getting it. One of every five WPA projects is completely useless and on most projects five men are doing the work of one man.

"You are paying the tremendous bill, and you are getting less than $10 of value for every $100 expended.

The worthy needy of the nation should get aid without being required to vote for a certain administration or political party. But we should end a scandalous situation in which many unworthy are living off your earnings and the farmers of the country are unable to hire a hand when they need them.

Wants Free Congress.

"It is time that this nation has a President with sound ideas and his feet on the ground. It is time that we get a congress that will represent you, and not be pushed from pillar to post by a President greedy for power. We can have such an administration of sound ideas if we will vote the Republican ticket in November."

Speaking with Mr. Glenn today, Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg attacked Gov. Horner for posing as a foe of bossism downstate and a friend of the men he attacked as bosses in Chicago.

Arthur J. Bidwell, Republican candidate for state auditor, predicted that downstate will go Republican by 250,000 majority in his talks today. "We're going to match your work down here in Chicago," he declared. "The Cook county Republicans are working in harmony, and they're working hard. Cook county will contribute a real share toward Republican victory in November."

Thomas to Open Illinois Socialist Campaign Today

Socialist headquarters announced yesterday that beginning with the appearance of Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President, before the Chicago Bar association at noon today and in Rockford tonight, their party is launching the most intensive campaign in Illinois since 1920. The main part of the campaign, according to Maynard C. Krueger, state chairman, will be built around a state caravan tour by John Fisher, Gillespie coal miner and Socialist candidate for governor. He is touring the state in a sound truck.

FALL CAUSES DEATH.

A skull fracture incurred in a fall on Wednesday caused the death yesterday in the County hospital of Alex Raczka, 50 years old, 1454 Dickson street.

Here's what makes The Bond Payment Plan so tremendously popular

❶ It's convenient! Your first payment is only $5. And you pay the balance out of your income—either weekly (for 10 weeks) or twice a month.

❹ It costs nothing extra! There are no interest or carrying charges. You pay our regular cash prices—and that's all.

two trousers with every suit

Again the figures do the talking! Last year's record-breaking total topped by almost a quarter million—715,303* men are now buying their clothes with The Bond Payment Plan! It is the largest number ever to use a service of this kind!—which indicates how perfectly this convenient way to "charge it" fits present day needs. It permits responsible men to purchase clothes when they need them—and to pay for them out of income. It does away with the "monthly bill headache"—for there are no large lump payments to meet on the first or 10th of the month. And it costs you not a cent extra. ★ But that's not all! We've an idea that these 715,303 men were interested not only in a convenient way to buy their clothes. We believe most of them are shrewd shoppers, who were first attracted by the quality of our woolens, the excellence of our Rochester-tailoring—and by our friendly service. Without these features, The Bond Payment Plan would be an empty shell. With them, it is the sane way to a sound clothing investment. Start getting your dividends from it—let it work for you, this Fall!

100,000 RELIEF ROLLERS KEY TO CALIFORNIA VOTE

Spurn Jobs for New Deal 'More Abundant Life.'

California, where more than a quarter of the population is being supported wholly or partly by the federal government. The Democratic brand of relief is liberal, with few questions asked. There is a universal apprehension that Republican relief, if Gov. Alf Landon is elected, will lean a little too strongly to the side of economy.

Democrats Encourage Scare.

The Democrats are industriously telling the reliefers that the Republicans intend to abolish federal relief entirely, and telling the native sons that the Republicans will shift the carpetbaggers to the state relief. That gives the native sons the shivers, for the state already is burdened with debt and taxes are getting higher and higher. On every side you hear the argument that it would be most unfair to compel California to support these hordes of citizens of other states, even if they did come in response to California's advertising of the wonderful climate.

Most of the carpetbaggers now, however, have become California citizens and are ready to vote for Roosevelt along with the Californians of longer residence. Los Angeles county, which contains 40 per cent of the state's population, will plump for the New Deal by an enormous majority, sufficient to carry the state for Roosevelt, the Democrats calculate, even if the Republicans should hold the northern part.

Cults Make Their Cries.

A phonomenon noted at once by the visitor to Los Angeles this year is the extraordinary quiescence of the cults and the numerous aggregations of nuts that have vied with the climate as the chief distinction of this region. Time was when swamis, yogis, crystal gazers, designers of Utopias and prophets of the life beautiful were holding forth on street corners, in the Hollywood bowl daily and nightly agitating the ether. But a great silence seems to have fallen on the seers.

Inquiry elicits the information that most of them have joined up with Mr. Roosevelt. One after another they succumbed, unable to compete with the New Deal. So they joined it.

Dr. Townsend alone is holding out against the New Deal. He is fighting Mr. Roosevelt tooth and nail, hates him for aiding and abetting his persecution by the Democratic house, as the doctor views it. He has just issued an appeal to his followers to hurry up in the next few days and get the 118,000 petition signatures necessary to put the Union party on the ballot.

Radicals Back Roosevelt.

Upton Sinclair's EPIC and all the other radical groups are working for Roosevelt, either directly or indirectly. Sinclair explains that while he disapproves of the New Deal in important particulars, he perceives that Mr. Roosevelt is headed in the right direction—toward the socialist state, of course.

"I realize," says Socialist Sinclair, "that President Roosevelt has had a very difficult task—that of turning the Democratic party of southern landlords and northern corruptionists into a party of progress and social justice. I cannot expect him to do it in four years; and since I have to choose between him and Landon, I prefer to give him another four years."

Likewise the communists are supporting Mr. Roosevelt because another four years of the New Deal would bring the country, they believe, a step closer to communism. Earl Browder, communist candidate for President, theorizes that another four years of the New Deal will develop a Farmer-Labor party that will be "one of the two most powerful parties in 1940."

That is to be the next step toward communism. John L. Lewis already is suggested as the Farmer-Labor candidate in 1940.

"We communists," said Browder, "fully agree that Landon and Knox are the main enemy and must be defeated at all costs."

Sinclair explained why the communists and Socialists and other radicals were uniting in support of Roosevelt.

"I asked Mr. Browder," said Sinclair, "what he was going to do in this election.

"He said that the election of Landon must be prevented at all hazards.

"I asked if that meant that he was supporting Roosevelt, and he did not say that in so many words.

Republicans Advertise Trend.

"He is being accused of supporting Roosevelt, and apparently the Landon crowd think that is a good thing for them to advertise.

"My guess is that what Browder would like to have happen is for everybody in the doubtful states to vote for Roosevelt, and in the states where the outcome is certain anyway, to enter a protest vote for him [Browder].

"I have not had any opportunity to ask Norman Thomas about it, but from the way he is concentrating his attacks upon Landon, I imagine that he would say the same thing.

"It is most interesting to see how all the various groups of the left are coming together, and how they are being forced to rally around President Roosevelt—if for no other reason than the kind of fight the reactionaries are putting up against him."

TUGWELL LAUDED BY REDS, CHARGE OF WOMAN JUDGE

Chicago members of the Landon Business Women's league met at the Auditorium hotel last night and heard Judge Grace Miles of Independence, Kas., founder of the league, speak for Gov. Alf M. Landon.

Judge Miles asserted that the election of a Republican administration was important particularly because of the growing communist influence on the New Deal. She declared that Rexford G. Tugwell, one of President Roosevelt's chief advisers, was spoken of favorably in communistic circles before Roosevelt's election.

NEW DEAL MERE SCHEME TO BUY VOTES: MENCKEN

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—H. L. Mencken, author and critic, today indorsed the candidacy of Gov. Alfred M. Landon for President. The indorsement appears in the October issue of the American Mercury under the heading, "The Case for Dr. Landon." It is written in Mencken's usual vigorous style.

"I believe," writes Mencken, "it will be a good idea to try the Hon. Mr. Landon of Kansas. He would cut a poor figure in opera, but he looks to me to be a pretty good hand with a shovel. He probably knows a great deal less than the Hon. Mr. Roosevelt, but much more of what he knows is true. And when he promises to do this or that, laying his hand on his heart and rolling his eyes toward the throne of God, there is at least a reasonable probability that he will make an effort to keep his word."

Elsewhere, Mencken declares that the only visible result of the New Deal is a "huge and nefarious political machine, devoted solely to maintaining them [the New Dealers] in power," that the "reported benefits of the New Dealers are all imaginary," and that "in brief, the New Deal, for all its pretensions, is at bottom a scheme to buy votes, and there is no getting away from that fact."

BROOKS ATTACKS RECORD PAY ROLL ARMY IN ILLINOIS

Quincy, Ill., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Charging that the greatest pay roll army in the history of Illinois is being maintained at Springfield, Wayland Brooks, Republican nominee for governor, said in a speech here tonight that this vast burocracy of state employés must be "dispersed by the indignant, sacrificing citizens" who bear the cost.

Brooks asserted that the pay rollers extend into every hamlet and city in the state, threatening the freedom of the people and the principles of self government.

"The hand of Washington is reaching into Illinois in this campaign," Brooks declared. "There are today 846,000 federal employés aside from our armed forces, the CCC and like groups.

"Illinois constitutes one-sixteenth of our population. With the pay roll record of the present administration and its subserviency to Washington, we must assume that it has gotten at least its share."

Pointing out that this would allot 53,000 federal employés to Illinois, the nominee asked where there was any doubt that all those would join the army of pay rollers at Springfield in "seeking to perpetuate the present 'plunderbund' at Washington?"

Earlier in the day Brooks made addresses at Lewiston, Augusta, Vermont, Rushville, and Mount Sterling.

TOWNSEND PLAN IS INCORPORATED UNDER NEW NAME

Gilmore Young, national secretary, announced yesterday that the Townsend plan organization, Old Age Revolving Pensions, Ltd., had been reincorporated under the new name of the Townsend National Recovery Plan. One of the provisions of the new organization, Young said, is that in the event the movement is disbanded all assets after payment of debts, are to be turned over to the government. Young explained that the new name will attract younger members to the organization.

ROOSEVELT MAPS INTENSIVE DRIVE IN MIDDLE WEST

Plans Speech in Chicago Last of October.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt late this afternoon announced to 27 members of the Democratic general staf a plan to center his drive for reëlection on the middle west, the Rocky mountain area, and the industrial east.

In the high ceilinged library of his family estate he outlined a series of brief campaign trips which will carry him into Chicago late in October. The Chicago trip will follow a speech at Detroit.

The month will find him invading the state of his Republican opponent, Gov. Alf M. Landon, for a major address probably at Wichita. The same tour may bring a speech at Omaha. These two are expected to follow an appearance at Denver.

To Visit Ohio Twice.

Ohio will be visited twice. Tentative plans call for a major address at Cincinnati and a "nonpolitical" visit to Cleveland.

The eastern drive will be conducted with a two or three day tour of New England earlier in October with a speech probably at Springfield, Mass., and a brief appearance in Boston. Later in the month Mr. Roosevelt is considering a dash into Maine where the recent election showed Republicans capturing strength.

No definite dates have been made and the routes have not yet been planned, but no trip will be longer than five days, it was said. Mr. Roosevelt will release his itinerary shortly.

The President is expected to wind up his campaign as he did four years ago with an address in Madison Square Garden in New York City on the Saturday before the election. This probably will follow the drive in Pennsylvania and New York.

Confer for Two Hours.

The President spoke on campaign issues and arguments and his stumping plans for almost two hours with the leaders. They had been invited ostensibly to give advice, but were called on to voice approval of his plans. According to the conferees, this was given enthusiastically.

"We had a general discussion of the entire political situation," said Democratic Chairman Farley, who acted as spokesman for the group. "The President was immensely pleased with the reports submitted to him and discussed his future activities.

"In a general way he presented his ideas as to the conduct of the campaign in the remaining weeks. Dates of his trip are to be announced later. It was a very satisfactory meeting."

The group was virtually united against a repetition of Mr. Roosevelt's coast to coast speaking tour of 1932. The far west, they said, "is in the bag" and victory can only be won by a militant invasion of Landon's middle western and eastern strongholds.

The library gathering, called by one of its members "a Democratic fish chowder fest," was one of practical politicians. Not a single brain truster was invited.

The group was headed by Vice President Garner, who recently emerged from a seclusion so complete as to win him the quipping title of "The Forgotten Man." At his right was Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley, on leave from his patronage dispensing desk in the postoffice department for the campaign. Also from the cabinet were Secretary of State Hull, Attorney General Cummings, and Secretary of Commerce Roper.

The senate was represented by Senate Majority Leader Robinson of Arkansas, Byrnes of South Carolina, O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Guffey of Pennsylvania, and Donahey of Ohio. The house by Rayburn of Texas, Boland of Pennsylvania, O'Connor of New York, and Drewry of Virginia, who heads the Democratic congressional committee, as Guffey heads the Democratic senatorial committee.

Michelson a Conferee.

Other invited guests were Edward Flynn, state Democratic leader; Charles Michelson, Democratic publicist; Forbes Morgan, Democratic treasurer; Frank Walker, former treasurer of the party and now chief financial adviser; James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, and Lawrence W. Robert Jr., party secretary.

The uninvited guests included Senators Black of Alabama, Connally of Texas, and McKeller of Tennessee, who were reported to have crashed the party because of jealousy of Senator Robinson. They feel their states are more important to the Democratic cause than Arkansas.

Senator Wagner of New York, who is to keynote the Democratic state convention, counted himself in on the group for that reason. Other last minute self invited additions were Carl Byor, organizer of the Roosevelt Nominators; James J. Hoey, New York City Democrat who headed Al Smith's speakers' bureau in 1928, and Keith Morgan, member of the party finance committee.

The political window dressing occupied most of the President's attention for the day. In the morning he talked to Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator and head of the National Youth administration. Another caller was John Cudahy, ambassador to Poland, who was a generous contributor to the party in 1932.

NEW DEAL SEEKS TO ENLIST YOUTH OVER GRATITUDE

Valparaiso, Ind., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The Democratic organization in this town is trying to line up the National Youth administration's beneficiaries while they are young, and at the expense of the humble taxpayers. It is neatly linking relief and politics and under political inspiration trying to develop a sense of gratitude among the youths toward the present New Deal candidate for another term in the White House.

The Vidette-Messenger, a newspaper of this town, thus states the case:

"A group of Valparaiso high school boys who feel they owe President Roosevelt a great debt and have but a small way to show their appreciation have formed a Democratic club.

"The sponsor of the club is Frank W. Morton, county Democratic chairman. All of the students are receiving financial aid through the National Youth administration. Chairman Morton has provided the members with a place to hold their meetings.

VIRGINIA G. O. P. CHIEF GIVES HIS STATE TO PARTY

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Henry A. Wise, Republican national committeeman from Virginia, predicted that Gov. Landon will carry the Old Dominion in the coming election, and that the Republicans will take at least four of the state's nine seats in the house of representatives.

Wise came to Republican national headquarters from his home in Kiptopeke, Va., today to confer with Representative Joseph W. Martin, Republican eastern campaign manager.

He said that a very strong movement for the restoration of "Jeffersonian democracy" has arisen in Virginia.

Kittanning, Pa., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Eighteen months old David Abrahams nursed a cut on his forehead today, reminder of having a 100 car freight train roar over him while he lay between the rails. The baby evidently strayed to the tracks and fell asleep.

'FARMERS SOLD DOWN RIVER,' IS LANDON CHARGE

New Deal Trade Treaties Are Assailed.

the channels of trade in those commodities which cannot be grown in this country at reasonable cost to consumers. He would not permit unnecessary imports of meats, dairy and poultry products, grains, fruits, and vegetables. Interchange, or barter, along these lines, constitutes his constructive program.

"We must not reduce farm production in this country to the needs of the domestic market," he said. "This is the doctrin of despair. The Republican party refuses to accept this philosophy of despair. It believes in making it possible for the farmer to plant full crops. It believes in increasing the demand for farm products, not reducing the supply."

Feel Effect in Minnesota.

In selecting Minnesota as the place in which to discuss the trade agreements, Gov. Landon was in a section which has felt the effect of Canadian reciprocity, particularly in dairy products. The farmers in this state and in Wisconsin, where he will campaign on Friday, are reported as ready to turn to the Republican party because of the loss of their markets and the break in prices.

Gov. Landon went into detail as to the effect of opening the door to Canadian cheese and the Brazilian agreement letting in oils and fats that compete with butter. In addition to the dairy and live stock farmers he gave as other "casualties" of the agreements the Florida growers of early vegetables, the tobacco growers in Connecticut, and the bulb industry in the Pacific northwest.

The reason these agreements have had such results, he said, is the selection of the countries with which they have been made. The agreements have been made on competing commodities.

"Had the administration been interested," he said, "in using the principle of reciprocity in its proper manner, it would have made agreements only with our customers. It wouldn't have made an agreement on agricultural products with our very good friend Canada, which in this field is a competitor, not a customer."

Small Crowd at Station.

Gov. Landon's reception in Minneapolis was in marked contrast with that in Des Moines. A few hundred persons gathered around the railroad station exit and gave him a cheer as he walked out to his automobile. The way to the hotel was along Washington street, a sort of Minneapolis Bowery, and the idlers there stared at the candidate. The car was taken rapidly through this street by a police escort with sirens. Another small crowd was in front of the hotel. It was not a friendly crowd along this street.

In the auditorium, which seats 12,000, the scene was different.

Christiansen Introduces Landon.

Former Gov. Theodore Christiansen, candidate for the United States senate, was given an ovation as he took the stand to introduce Gov. Landon.

"Kansas and Minnesota have much in common," he said. "Both are typical prairie states, sharing the tradition of the covered wagon and the hope that our nation shall always be a nation of pioneers in the deepest sense. We stand together against a philosophy that would substitute old world regimentation for a free and independent America.

"Minnesota has always been loyal to the union, and cast her vote for Abraham Lincoln. It is written in the stars that she will cast her vote this year for a man who has the same initials. This man is no radio crooner—he is not a word juggler—but he has done fairly well as a budget balancer. He does not talk about things, but does things. He is a true liberal. He not only realizes that taxes are paid by men who labor, but, having personally realized what sweat feels like, he wants to do something about it."

Applause Delays Speech.

Mrs. Chris Carlson, national committeewoman, and Roy E. Dunn, committeeman, at this moment walked forward with Landon.

The governor waved his arm in salute to the crowd, that yelled in delight at his appearance. It was a real demonstration, perhaps the noisiest that he has faced in any meeting. The radio time was going, but the crowd would not stop. Landon leaned forward and tried to stop them. They threw streams of confetti at him. He finally succeeded in starting his address.

Gov. Alf M. Landon's Minneapolis Speech Assailing New Deal Tarif Policy

"I am most happy to be with you here in the great northwest. Many of your achievements stand as an inspiration to the rest of the country. You have developed to an unusual degree a system of combining dairying and general farming in such a way that it provides a year round income and at the same time conserves the soil.

"You have proved that farmer owned and farmer controled organizations are an effective way for helping the income of the producer. The success of farm coöperation in Minnesota, Wisconsin, and neighboring states is an epic chapter in American agriculture.

"Tonight I am going to discuss the reciprocal trade program of the present administration. I am going to discuss it from the point of view of the American farmer.

Hailed as Benefit to Farmer.

"When this program was introduced by the present administration our farmers were led to believe that it would be of particular benefit to them. They were told it was the only feasible way by which this country could regain its lost foreign markets. They were assured that it meant greater sales at better prices.

"We have had only two years of this program. But within even that short time certain conclusions have been proved beyond all question. The reciprocal trade agreements made by this administration have not benefited our farmers; they have hurt our farmers. They have not regained his markets for him; they have taken more of his markets away, both at home and abroad. They have not caused him to get better prices for his products; they have prevented him from getting as good prices as he otherwise would.

"In a word, the reciprocal trade program of the present administration has delayed recovery for our farmers. It has sold the American farmer down the river.

"I want to present the record of this destructive policy to you in some detail. Before doing so, however, there are two points that I want to make clear.

Not Opposed to Agreements.

"The first of these is that I am not opposed to reciprocal trade agreements. The general principle underlying them is simple. Under certain conditions it is to the mutual advantage of two countries to lift various commodities out of their general tarif program for special treatment. Both countries make concessions; both countries benefit.

"This is sound doctrin. In some cases it may be the only satisfactory method of meeting a situation. The Republican party recognizes this in its platform. It does not condemn the principle of reciprocity. It condemns only the kind of trade agreements now being made. It condemns them because they are injurious to American citizens and offensive to American principles.

"The second point I want to make clear is that I am opposed to a policy of isolation. I want to see a prosperous world as well as a prosperous America. A healthy international trade is essential to world prosperity. And even more than this, world prosperity is good insurance against war.

"I am convinced, too, that reasonable protection, which is so essential to our own well-being, is not detrimental to world prosperity.

Maintain Economic Defenses.

"At a time like the present, when economic nationalism is rampant, we cannot afford to scrap our economic defenses. We can be a good neighbor without giving away the latchkey to our door.

"The great enemy of world trade today is not the fair protection of efficient American producers and laborers. It is the war inspired doctrin of isolation and its resulting demands for self-sufficiency. From this we get embargoes, exchange restrictions, and trade quotas. These are the real hindrances to a healthy exchange of goods between nations. We must not join in this kind of madness. If we are to maintain our standard of living the channels of world trade must remain open.

"Now let us consider some of the effects of the reciprocal trade program of the present administration.

"The dairy industry is a good example of how these agreements have injured the farmer. One of the important commodities developed by this industry is cheese. In one trade agreement after another the tarif has been lowered on cheese and our markets opened to foreign products.

"Under the Canadian agreement, for instance, the tarif rate on cheddar cheese—known to most of us as American cheese—was lowered from seven to five cents a pound. No limit was placed on the amount that might come in at this reduced rate.

"Now what was the result of this agreement? Whereas in the first six months of 1935 we imported only half a million pounds of Canadian cheese, in the first six months of 1936 we imported nearly four million pounds. This was an increase of over seven hundred per cent.

"I do not have to tell the dairy farmer what happened. Down went the price on the American market. It fell from 17 cents to 12½ cents a pound in the first four months of the agreement. Is this what the present administration meant when it said that the American farmer would get a better price for his products?

Better to Trust Republicans.

"It seems to me that the farmer would do better to trust the Republican party. We are pledged in our platform 'to protect the American farmer against the imports of all live stock, dairy, and agricultural products . . . which will depress American prices.'"

"This is not the only example of damage done the dairy farmer. After long and painstaking effort the dairy industry got protection against the tropical oils and fats that compete with butter. But under the Brazilian agreement a new jungle product—babassu nuts and oils—is permitted to come into this country in direct competition with American dairy products. The administration has not only placed the product on the free list, but also agreed that it will be exempt from any taxation.

This last point—exempting a product from taxation under a trade agreement—I want you to note with special care. It is an amazing provision. Because it signs away one of the most important powers of congress—the power of taxation. In my opinion, there is no justification for the chief executive so limiting the legislative branch of our government.

Two Sanitary Requirements.

"Now I want to touch on one point that belongs in any discussion of the problems of dairy and live stock producers, although it has no direct relation to reciprocal trade agreements. I refer to the sanitary requirements covering these industries. Our federal and state governments, as well as the dairymen, have spent enormous sums in the eradication of contagious diseases of cattle. In addition we impose rigid standards for the care of barns and stock. Only one other country has made equal progress in this field. As a result of our standards consumers can always rest assured of the quality and purity of the products of American dairy farms.

"Unfortunately the same standards are not imposed on imported products. To correct this situation the Republican party is pledged 'to impose effective quarantine against imported live stock, dairy and other farm products from countries which do not impose health and sanitary regulations fully equal to those required of our own producers.'

"Live stock producers and feeders have fared just as badly as the dairyman under the reciprocal trade agreements. In the Canadian agreement the tarif was reduced by one-third on a sliding quota of cattle weighing 700 pounds or more. On calves there was an even greater cut!

"Consider the contradictions in this policy. The administration was trying to hold down the nation's supply of meat by restricting the production of hogs. Last fall it was warning live stock men that there would be increased supplies of cattle on the market this spring. And yet it proceeded to make concessions on Canadian cattle that would bring more of them into this country!

"Such a program just doesn't make sense.

"What happened? The Canadian agreement went into effect January 1. Canadian cattle were rushed in and naturally prices fell. Here is the record. The first of January the average good grade steer of 900 to 1,100 pounds was selling on the South St. Paul market at $9.75 a hundredweight. By June the price was down to $7.25 a hundredweight. On every occasion the biggest drop in prices followed the heaviest receipts of Canadian cattle.

Reflected in Other Markets.

"This price decline was reflected in the cattle markets throughout the country. It wiped out the hope of any profit for thousands of cattle feeders in our middle western states.

"In short, as a result of the policies of this administration, there has been added to the drouth and the depression another burden for the American farmer to carry—foreign competition. In spite of its promises, the present administration has given American farmers the short end of the deal.

"I have discussed only two of the casualties of the trade policies of this administration. Numerous others might be listed. The Florida growers of early vegetables had their markets turned over to the cheap labor products of Cuba. The growers of cigar wrapper tobacco in the Connecticut valley lost out in the agreement with the Netherlands, as did the bulb industry in the Pacific northwest. And the hope of increased domestic production of corn and potato starches was destroyed in the same agreement because tapioco and sago were found on the free list!

Work to Increase Imports.

"Now let us look at some general results. Eight of these agreements have been in force long enough for us to see the results. In these cases, the imports of farm products have increased 84 per cent over a corresponding period prior to the agreements. Exports of farm products increased only 26 per cent. In other words, under these eight agreements, our imports increased more than three times as fast as our exports.

"Today the exports of our farm products represent the smallest proportion of our foreign trade in the history of the nation. This is due in large measure to the confused and destructive policies of the administration. With the most intelligent and capable farm population in the world, and with unsurpassed natural resources, we are now one of the largest importers not only of those things we do not produce, but of those we are adapted to produce. This is a scandalous situation!

"Now why have the reciprocal trade agreements of this administration had such destructive results? There are various reasons. One is the selection of countries with which the agreements have been made. As I said earlier, it is a basic principle of reciprocity that such treaties be used to handle only those situations which cannot be met satisfactorily in the general tarif program! This means that reciprocity is valuable only when noncompeting commodities are to be exchanged between two nations concerned!

Should Bar Competitive Products.

"That is, each country by means of such treaties makes it easier to trade the commodity of which it has a surplus for something it needs from the other country. It never is a question, when the reciprocity principle is properly used, of making agreements on competing commodities.

"This administration has followed quite a different policy. Its most important agreement, that with Canada, is largely concerned with commodities in which our producers are in competition with Canadian producers. It is inevitable, therefore, that the effect of the agreement should be not an increased trade on noncompeting articles but a reduction of tarifs on articles on which we do compete.

"If an agreement is on noncompeting articles there is the possibility of mutual advantage. But when it is made with a competitor, one side or the other is almost certain to lose.

Made Agreement With Competitors.

"Had the administration been interested in using the principle of reciprocity in its proper manner it would have made agreements only with our customers. It wouldn't have made an agreement on agricultural products with our very good friend Canada, which in this field is a competitor, not a customer!

"It is for this reason that the Republican platform pledges to furnish government assistance in disposing of surpluses in foreign trade by bargaining for foreign markets selectively by countries, both as to exports and imports. We strenuously oppose so-called reciprocal treaties which trade off the American farmer. To do this intelligently we must know at all times the exact status of our trade with every nation—in other words, how we stand on the books in so far as both consumers and competitors are concerned.

Star Chamber Proceeding.

"Another further major shortcoming of the trade program of this administration is the method by which the agreements are made. It is a regular star-chamber proceeding. Those producers whose products may be covered by the agreements are given no real chance to make an effective presentation of their views. Hearings are held, it is true, but from the point of view of producers they amount to little. They amount to little for the simple reason that the administration refused to divulge what commodities are under consideration.

"All the potential witness knows is that an agreement is being considered. Any one of thousands of commodities may be the subject of negotiation. The witness has to take his chance. If he is interested in only one commodity his job is easy. In testifying he may be wasting his time, since that commodity may not be under consideration at all, but at least his case is presented. If he is interested in a hundred commodities the situation is different. He must, if he wants his views considered, present a brief on each of the hundred.

"Of course in actual practice the producer interested in a large number of commodities does not present a brief on all of them. He knows in the first place that there is little chance they will be read. Besides there is an easier way to handle the situation. This is to have his foreign correspondent find out from the foreign government with which the agreement is being negotiated what commodities are under discussion. The little fellow, unable to afford a foreign representative, is the one who gets stuck. This is still another one of those millstones that this administration has placed around the necks of our small producers.

Most Favored Nation Principle.

"Another major shortcoming of these agreements is the use of the unconditional most favored nation principle. This principle when widely followed by the leading commercial nations is a proper and wholesome way of promoting international trade. But today most nations have ceased to use the principle. In consequence, when we apply it we are making a concession to foreign nations without getting anything in return. This is not reciprocity. It is charity paid for by American producers.

"One more point on the making of these agreements: This is the question of whether it was wise for congress to give to the President such sweeping powers. Under our constitution, if these agreements are commercial treaties they should be ratified by a two-thirds vote of the senate. On the other hand, if they are simply revisions of our tarif laws they come under the revenue provisions of the constitution. In this case they should be approved by a majority vote of both houses of congress.

"The present administration has chosen to ignore both these courses. There is no legislative approval of the agreements before they go into effect. They are simply imposed upon the public. That is not representative government.

Must Protect Producers.

"These policies have got to stop. The way to trade is to trade, and let me tell you this—we Republicans are going to trade, not against, but in the interest of, American producers. In too many of the present agreements we are the fellow who got the blind horse.

"We have got to stop destroying the market of our farmers. The Republican party is pledged to protect the American market for the American farmer.

"This does not mean that we propose to prohibit the importation of commodities which we cannot grow at reasonable cost to consumers. It means that in the case of farm products we will not permit the shelves of our stores to be filled with foreign commodities suited to our soil and climate. It means we will not permit unnecessary imports of such products as meats, dairy and poultry products, grains, and such fruits and vegetables as we can grow to good advantage.

"We require many things which we either do not produce or can produce only at great cost. In turn, we produce many products in greater abundance than we can use. This interchange of these two classes of goods is essential to our well being.

Doctrin of Despair.

"We must not reduce farm production in this country to the needs of the domestic market. This is the doctrin of despair. It would mean the abandonment of at least one out of every ten acres of our developed farm land. It would mean less production to be divided among an increasing farm population. In short, it would mean a lower standard of living and a greatly increased relief load in the rural districts.

"The Republican party refuses to accept this philosophy of despair. It believes in making it possible for the farmer to plant full crops. It believes in increasing the demand for farm products, not reducing the supply. It believes the American farmer worthy of prosperity."

CROWDS GREET GOV. LANDON AT STOPS IN IOWA

Messages Praise Speech on Farm Problems.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 24.—Gov. Alf M. Landon was cheered today by the reaction to his Des Moines speech, in which he had pledged the Republican party to full protection of the family type of farm.

Crowds ranging from two to ten thousand met him at the Iowa stops on his schedule on the way to Minneapolis. There was such an interest in seeing him that an extra stop was ordered at Northwood. Mason City gave the largest crowd. Other stops were at Nevada, Iowa Falls, and Hampton.

Gov. Landon received hundreds of telegrams commending his solution of the farm question.

McNary Praises Speech.

One was from Charles L. McNary, Republican leader of the senate and ranking Republican member of the senate agricultural committee, who said:

"A splendid and satisfying exposition of the farm problem. Success."

Gov. Landon made the drouth and the scarcity program of the Roosevelt administration the subject of his train platform talks today.

"It has distressed me in traveling across your state—in traveling across what is one of the best farm areas—to see empty cribs and granaries when they should be filled to overflowing," he said. "In part the situation is due to the distressing drouth of the summer past, which I can assure you we Kansans shared in full measure with you.

Assails Scarcity Program.

"But another reason for your empty corn cribs—and don't forget this—is the program of scarcity of a year ago. There are always some years of plenty—or of surplus, as we have come to call it in recent years. But we are equally certain to have some years of shortage. Had the farmers of Iowa and every other agricultural state been allowed to produce as long as experience dictated, they would have been better prepared to meet the tragedy of this year.

"The effects of this scarcity program go far beyond this year. They are robbing the American farmer not only of his former export markets but even of his home market. For proof, I turn to the report of the United States bureau of agricultural economics, released only last Saturday.

Corn from Argentina.

"It states that 2¾ million bushels of Argentine corn reached this country last week, and about 2 million bushels more were on the way. That is a sample of the way the present administration has aided you farmers of the best corn producing area on earth.

"The real function of the government is to help the farmer produce and to finance carry-over crops for such situations as this report on the importation of Argentine corn discloses. That is exactly what the Republican party will do. Our party stands for production; not destruction. It is for coöperation with the farmer; not coercion.

"If our democracy is to survive, that is the only way."

Crosses Into Minnesota.

At Albert Lea, near the Minnesota-Iowa border, a huge "welcome to Landon" sign was thrown across the station platform and a big crowd gathered to look at the candidate. They even covered the roofs of the adjacent freight cars. The crowd, however, was not demonstrative.

Fifty Minnesota Republicans boarded the train at this point. They reported that the Republican cause looked good in the state, that for the first time in six years it looked as though the people were ready for a change. Polls have shown that in South St. Paul, for instance, which Roosevelt carried by 20,000 four years ago, now London and Roosevelt are running a close race. The state Republican candidates report that they are having good meetings, where in the last campaign the Republicans could not have anything but small meetings.

Party Workers on Train.

Among those who traveled to Minneapolis with Landon were: Thomas McCabe, state chairman; Roy Dunn, national committeeman; Roy Crowley, Landon pre-convention manager; T. P. Heffelfinger; State Senator Charles N. Orr; Mrs. C. Montague Irwin of St. Paul, cousin of Gov. Landon and a delegate to the Republican convention; Stafford King, state auditor; Walter Lundeen; Frank Mattson, state warehouse commissioner; Oscar Youngdahl, candidate for attorney general; Congressman August Andreesen, Mrs. Chris Carlson, national committeewoman; Harold Stasson of St. Paul, chairman of the Young Republicans; Milton Firestone of St. Paul, and Martin Nelson, candidate for governor.

BENEFIT CHECKS FOR 6 MILLION ARE DUE SOON

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—(AP)—AAA officials said today that the flow of federal benefit payments to 6,000,000 farm owners, operators, and tenants would begin early in October.

"We have had many appeals, especially from drouth states, to expedite the payments, and we are going to do everything we can to see that they are promptly paid," said H. R. Tolley, the farm administrator.

"We hope to be able to get somewhere between 2 and 5 per cent of the total of the payments out next month."

Other AAA spokesmen said the total to receive a share of the 470 million dollars to be paid out under the 1936 soil conservation subsidy program would be about 1,000,000 larger than the number who received benefits under the old AAA program.

They added that checks this year were expected to average less than $80 a farmer for the country as a whole, compared with an average of $100 under the former program.

The amount paid out under three previous farm programs—1933, '34, and '35—was estimated at 1 billion 500 million dollars.

The number of farms on which payments will be made this year is more than double that for 1935 in many central and far western states.

DRIVE RENEWED URGING ALL TO SIGN VOTE LISTS

Vote Registration

Yesterday's registration	4,542
Previous registration	149,728
Total at city hall	154,270

This figure added to the precinct registration of 1,019,332 last Saturday, gives a total registration so far of 1,173,602.

With only nine days remaining for voters to register in the city hall under the new permanent system before the second and final precinct registration on Oct. 6, the drive to bring voters to the election board's registry offices in the city hall prior to that date was renewed yesterday.

Mrs. W. W. Ramsey, chairman of the nonpartisan citizens' committee on registration, declared that there must be no letup in the drive.

"There is danger," she said, "that the large registration of last Saturday at the precinct voting places may be construed as meaning that all the voters in the county will register without further work. When it is considered that some 2,000,000 residents of Chicago are potential voters, it is plain that many, many thousands must still be registered or lose their votes."

Office Open Evenings.

The election board office on the third floor of the city hall is now open evenings to give loop workers ample opportunity to register. The hours are 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. from Monday to Friday, and 9 to 5 on Saturday.

Despite the evening hours the registration has been comparatively low this week and this fact has spurred the registration drive. In the four hours ending at 9 p. m. yesterday only 415 persons registered. The day's total was 4,127.

Last Saturday 1,019,332 persons were registered in the precincts and this figure is augmented by a total of 154,270 other registrations to date in the city hall where scores of deputy registrars are able to take care of registrants quickly.

Business Houses Aid Drive.

The Crusaders yesterday announced a list of concerns that have reported 100 per cent registration of employés.

The concerns are A. J. Alsdorf corporation, 2230 Jackson boulevard; Anderson Brothers, 1388 Fulton street; Birch Manufacturing company, 1521 Sedgwick street; Blue Ribbon Coal company, 4000 South Ashland boulevard; Ben P. Branham company, 175 West Jackson boulevard; Cochran & McCluer company, 40 North Dearborn street; Davis & Davis, Inc., 410 North Michigan avenue; George S. Galloway, Inc., 53 West Jackson boulevard; Hipp & Coburn, 410 North Michigan boulevard; Maytag Chicago company, 1230 South Western avenue; Orange Crush company, 318 West Superior street; Rosengrant Coal company, 332 South Michigan boulevard; Ohio Brass company, 20 North Wacker drive; Fred M. Lund company, 31 North State street; Bacon, Whipple & Co., 135 South La Salle street; Albert Verley, Inc., 11 East Hubbard street, and the Henry H. Cross company, 122 South Michigan avenue.

Registration In County.

Voters in the 82 cities, towns and villages in Cook county outside the jurisdiction of the Chicago election board will register in their home precincts tomorrow, and again on Oct. 6. Permanent registration is not effective in this territory and the voters are under the jurisdiction of County Clerk Flynn.

The polls in these county communities will be open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m. and Clerk Flynn expects a registration from 200,000 to 250,000.

KREUSSER QUITS AS DIRECTOR OF SCIENCE MUSEUM

O. T. Kreusser, for the last five years director of the Museum of Science and Industry in Jackson park, has resigned that position, effective Oct. 1, it became known yesterday. Mr. Kreusser, who lives at 9300 Pleasant avenue, will become a member of the research staf of the General Motors corporation.

"I feel that I have accomplished as much at the museum as I can," Mr. Kreusser said yesterday. "I was brought here to organize the exhibits and this work is now about finished."

It is considered unlikely that a successor to Mr. Kruesser will be selected immediately. The assistant director of the museum is Robert J. Van Pelt.

JAPAN BANS U. S. MAGAZINE FOR MIKADO ARTICLE

TOKIO, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The September number of Fortune magazine, published in the United States, was banned in Japan today because of an article which it was declared treated Emperor Hirohito indelicately.

Editors Are Puzzled.

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The editors of Fortune magazine said today they did not know why the September issue has been banned in Japan. They said so great was the care taken to avoid offense that the chrysanthemum on the cover had only fifteen petals, because the emperor alone [in Japan] has the right to use sixteen.

The September issue was devoted entirely to Japan.

BOARD CHOSEN TO BE DICTATOR OVER SHIPPING

New Body to Rule All Subsidized Firms.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Cut on the pattern of other New Deal regulatory agencies, the new United States maritime commission, which sprang into being today, will be vested with the broadest dictatorial powers in the history of the nation's shipping.

The three appointees announced by President Roosevelt will meet shortly to map out their work. They are Henry A. Wiley, rear admiral, retired, of Haverford, Pa.; Rear Admiral Harry G. Hamlet, former commandant of the coast guard, and George Landick Jr., chief of the planning section of the treasury's procurement division.

May Snoop Into Books.

The regulatory authority conveyed to the maritime commission over shipping interests that accept the government's direct cash subsidies will include the right to snoop into all books and records, general supervision and audit of accounts, enforcement of recapture of profits and provisions forbidding lobbying. The merchant marine act setting up the board also provided for the limiting of salaries of shipping officials to $25,000 a year.

Violations will be punishable by a fine of $10,000 for an individual and $25,000 for a corporation. The commission has the right to declare offenders ineligible for subsidy benefits for five years.

Need 350 New Craft.

The shipping board bureau, one of the agencies the commission will take over, already has done some preliminary work. Its staf has collected data showing that approximately 350 new craft, including freighters, tankers, and passenger ships, will be required in the next few years if the merchant marine is to reach a par with the shipping of foreign nations.

It was estimated that the new vessels would cost a half billion dollars. In assets the new commission will have 100 million dollars in cash and 87 millions in notes receivable turned over to it by the shipping board and the postoffice department.

Get Year to Settle.

The act provided for the termination of postal subsidies under the old ocean mail act, granting ship operators one year in which existing contracts may be settled and new subsidy agreements negotiated with provisions for court review in case of dispute.

A second important function of the new commission will be the authority to pay both construction and operating differential subsidies, to place American shipping on an even competitive basis with foreign interests.

On construction the commission's advance will be limited in amount to between 33 1-3 to 50 per cent of the difference between American and foreign construction cost, while operation subsidies will represent the difference in cost and maintenance of American vessels and their foreign competitors on specified trade routes.

SUCCESS MARKS FIRST FLIGHT OF BIG FLYING BOAT

Santa Monica, Cal., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—While several hundred spectators, who had stood through the early morning hours waiting for a fog to lift, watched in awe at its size, the huge new Douglas DF flying boat, take off from Santa Monica beach at 1:30 p. m. on its first trial flight today.

Built at a cost of $330,000 for experimental purposes, the giant ship skimmed through the waters of the north end of Santa Monica yacht harbor and lifted into the sky with a group of Douglas mechanics and officials inside.

Stubby snouted and with a tilted tail structure, the flying boat resembled a mammoth whale with wings when it soared aloft. Its retractable pontoons disappeared as it took to the air, and its muted motors scarcely could be heard as it gained altitude.

Maj. Carl Cover, chief test pilot, was at the controls. Officials of the Douglas plant later said the trial flight was satisfactory in every respect.

The ship, officials said, will be offered for sale to airlines contemplating long water jumps. It is not equipped for land flying. It has a wing spread of 95 feet, and is equipped to carry 32 passengers and a crew of four. It has a cruising range of 3,200 miles and cruising speed of 167 miles an hour.

CO-ORDINATION OF W. SIDE TRAFIC SIGNALS URGED

Mayor Kelly and Robert J. Dunham, president of the park district, were urged by the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday to hasten coordination of trafic signals on the west side. Letters sent to the two officials by C. L. Rice, president of the association, pointed out that synchronization of the signal lights will speed up trafic from its present average of 20 miles an hour to 30 miles over 120 miles of thoroughfares in a west side area of 20 square miles.

INDICT ELEVEN IN A MILLION DOLLAR BANK SHORTAGE

Erie, Pa., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Eleven persons were indicted by a federal grand jury today as a climax to its long investigation of an alleged $1,300,000 shortage in the Commercial National Bank of Bradford, Pa.

Losses of the bank, closed a year ago, were said to have been traced back to a bookkeeper's stock market speculations in 1926. After the bookkeeper was found dead in his garage, following the stock market crash, others in the bank allegedly tried to cover up the shortage.

Nine of those indicted were stenographers, bookkeepers and their superiors in the Bradford bank. The other two were Wilson R. Campbell, president of the Farmers and Mechanics Trust company of Bath, N. Y., and John T. Cunningham, president of the Cunningham Natural Gas corporation of Bradford.

Judge Orders Arrests.

Federal Judge R. M. Gibson immediately issued bench warrants for the arrest of the defendants, most of them well known in Bradford, an oil town situated near the Pennsylvania-New York border.

The bank shortage was disclosed after the assistant cashier, Frank W. Calkins, 47, was found dead of monoxide fumes in his garage. His death, attributed to "probable suicide," occurred under circumstances similar to that of the speculating bookkeeper, J. Reed Campbell, who died in June, 1931.

Charge "Check Kiting."

United States District Attorney Charles Uhl said that in Calkins' alleged attempts to cover up Campbell's losses through fraudulent methods that involved the others, a system of "check kiting," was used between the Bradford bank and certain firms with which Calkins was associated.

Uhl said that about 100 checks had been "kited" between one of these firms and the bank in Bath, N. Y., of which Wilson R. Campbell is president.

The closing of the Commercial National bank took the residents of the little town of Bradford by surprise. The 11,000 depositors had approximately $4,500,000 in the bank, but were protected by federal deposit insurance.

POWER CONTROL.

While parallels between the Roosevelt-Tugwellian planned economy and Lenin's Russian communism are easily discernible at many points, in no feature is the resemblance more striking than in the identical theory of dictatorship through electrification. The program is simple. Muscle power has largely been supplanted by mechanical energy in industry, on the farm and in the home. If and when electrification can be completed he who controls the source of the power controls the nation.

But is centralized power a necessity? Let us trace the history. Our first mechanical power, steam, was originally a decentralizing force. The possession of a small engine enabled the individual to establish a business enterprise at any desirable location. Its only competitors were the relatively few accessible water powers, which, for the time, were enormously valuable. Steam rapidly deflated them, however, until genius came to the rescue with the electric generator. At the turn of the century steam was no longer omniscient because remote hydro-electric plants were transmitting energy fairly long distances.

Insull next discovered that huge marine steam engines, driving generators, could produce power at a fraction of the cost of local or independent steam engines. The trolley lines reached their heyday to create the huge demand necessitated by mass production of power. People forgot or imperfectly understood the relationship between the mechanical devices. Electricity was considered a new element that would revolutionize the world!

A few doubting Thomases among engineers were still dissatisfied. They could not see why energy released by combustion must be led through the process of heating water before it became useful to mankind in steam expansion. This school of thought produced the gas, gasoline, and Diesel engines—eccentric, temperamental, and capricious at first, but gradually improved until they are now extensively used in that supreme test of reliability, air transport. Attacking transportation first the internal combustion engine submerged the trolley lines with the development of the private automobile and bus to challenge finally the locomotive. True, steam is holding its own in the latter field for the time being, but only through the frantic development of more refinements in the last ten years than had been thought of in the previous half century. Their future hangs on a single thread—has the Diesel reached maximum efficiency?

In other lines of endeavor Diesel progress has been the same. Wherever power demand is remote or intermittent it answers a long felt want. America, with its network of established power lines, is perhaps the poorest place to study the immediate effect of the little giant because transfer from centralized power to Diesel involves the abandonment of expensive facilities—the transmission lines and the conduits in our streets. In so-called new countries, however, in South America and Africa, there is no such impediment. They have no transmission systems and never will. In America these must follow the trolley.

When Lenin developed his plan of industrial and agricultural control through electrification some twenty years ago the scheme was practical. What a dream for a Nero or a Napoleon! Discipline by remote control—by the mere manipulation of a switch or button. By the time Roosevelt had taken up the Lenin doctrin the opportunity and the danger had passed with the perfection of the internal combustion engine.

FOOTNOTE ON OUR PLANNED ECONOMY.

In last Sunday's TRIBUNE Dr. Beck, editor of the Graphic Laboratory of Popular Science, described the remarkable research of Andrew E. Douglass of Lowell observatory, Ellsworth Huntington and Charles Greeley Abbot of the Smithsonian institution and other American scientists in our weather history as recorded by tree growth. Prof. Douglass found that by checking government records of rainfall for thirty years with the average width of tree rings over the same period, the trees gave a reliable record of rainfall. Without going into the details of this process it may said that by it our weather history has been carried back hundreds and even thousands of years. With this immensely longer perspective, studies in the trends of rainfall were made possible and Prof. Douglass found very good evidence that tree growth and hence rainfall occurs in cycles of eleven and a half years. This discovery was the more significant in that the cycle virtually coincided with that of sun spots. A variation in sun spots is a variation in solar radiation, and since all weather phenomena are dependent on solar radiation it is reasonable to assume tree growth will vary accordingly.

With cycles of rainfall roughly established the record of drouths or dry spells appears: that of 782-797 A. D., the very long spell of 1276-1299, that of 1435-1450 and the super-drouth in Arizona of 1572-1594. While there are many complicating factors, it is now believed on the basis of this research that rainfall and weather occur in certain definite cycles, the sum of various factors, having various phases, the resulting period being usually a simple multiple of the eleven and a half year cycle of sun spots. Prof. Abbot of the Smithsonian has investigated weather history as recorded by tree rings, the level of the Great Lakes, the layers of sand and gravel deposited by glaciers, and rainfall records, concluding that throughout most of the world the weather follows a 23 year cycle.

It is interesting to note that the drouth of this year is exactly 23 years after the severe drouth of 1913 which came 23 years after the serious drouth of 1890. Prof. Abbot is of the opinion that the weather of the northwest states seems to run in a double cycle of 46 years. If this be true, Dr. Beck suggests, we may expect dry weather next year as the severe drouth of 1890 was followed by subnormal rainfall in 1891.

It may also be suggested that since we have been enjoying the advantages of a planned economy these last three years, our planners might explain why they planned the destruction of crops in a year which science warned would be marked by drouth. As planners they are not only incompetents but frauds. They did not regard scientific indications or warnings or they would not have incurred the political risk. What they were planning for was votes. That is what the planning of politicians will always be.

COWBOY DRIVING.

Assuming that the several taxicab companies conduct schools for their drivers, it might be suggested that an additional course be included in the curricula—consideration for the private car operator. As managements must be fully aware, their vehicles derive a substantial part, if not most, of their revenue from those who own their own cars and are thoroughly infected with the automobile bacillus. When a citizen is driving his own machine in town there may be an appearance of competition, but, deprived of his own convenience, the same man will call a cab.

Perhaps the most exasperating practices are bluffing, cutting in, and crowding. The taxi chauffeur, with all the assurance of experience and the best of brakes, seeks every opening through the trafic, and the private driver yields rather than risk the possibility of a bent fender. In public places they demand and secure precedence on the same principles. In cruising along the curb looking for fares taxi drivers will frequently cut into the second lane to pass parked cars. Because it is all in a day's work, the maneuver is completed without increasing speed and with seeming indifference of other users of the roadway. So much for the empty cab—but when a fare is secured and the trafic policeman outguessed, reckless driving becomes the order of the day.

Such utility companies must realize that they ply their trades on public sufferance. Admittedly, courtesy is shown to pedestrians, but the same attitude toward private operators is not in evidence. Lack of consideration for others sets a bad example for juvenile drivers, who too frequently consider that emulation of the taxi operators' tricks is a badge of good driving.

SCHOOL STRIKE IN JASPER.

People who find it difficult to believe that our country is being seriously invaded by European radical ideas and methods might note an Associated Press report from Jasper, Ala. "More than 1,000 Walker county children," says the dispatch, "remained away from classrooms today while school authorities studied the demands of labor leaders that teachers be required to join the American Federation of Classroom Teachers, an A. F. of L. unit."

Union sources claim they have 110 members out of 275 in Walker county schools.

The children, of course, are under duress. They cannot be supposed to have any independent opinion on the issues forced by the labor agitators. In every tyranny set up in recent years in Europe, whether the bolshevik in Russia, or the Fascist in Italy and Germany, the youth have been dragooned into helping to establish and maintain the dictatorship. They have been taught to be spies upon their parents and herded into schools from which all liberty of thought is banished and nothing but the dogmas of the dictatorship can reach them.

This exploitation of youth is the worst crime of the dictatorships in Europe. It will come to our American children if the American people do not wake up to what is going on in their own country. In Jasper the children are being used to compel two-thirds of their teachers to yield to one-third. They are in no sense free agents, but the victims of adult agitators. The tactics are imported from the bolshevik or Fascist despotism and they give a clear warning of what is coming to our country unless the American people defend their heritage of freedom before it is further undermined and lost. The success of the Jasper strike would be no victory for organized labor, but a defeat. The victory would go to the new forces at work in our country to destroy its institutions, its principles and its ideals.

THE CONSTITUTION IN GEORGIA.

[Des Moines Tribune.]

The Atlanta, Ga., police chief sent policemen to the train bearing Presidential Nominee Browder of the communist party, to make sure that neither Browder nor anybody else made a speech for that party in Atlanta.

When folks who remembered our constitutional guaranties of free speech lifted their eyebrows, the chief reiterated his determination to keep the communists out.

"When the next communist comes here, we'll have some police down to meet him, too," he said.

Well, these southern police chiefs have had practice denying other constitutional guaranties, such for instance as the right to vote.

It would probably be idealistic nonsense to expect them to respect the bill of rights.

ONCE UPON A TIME.

Biddie McGee and her brother Billie grew old together in the Hometown of long ago. Summer and winter Biddie always wore a black alpaca dress with a tightly fitted bodice and lined leg o' mutton sleeves; always, too, her lovely old Paisley shawl was pinned closely about her shoulders in her public appearances. It seemed marvelous that she could keep cool through the hottest days without a palm leaf fan. . . . She and gentle old Billie tended a garden that furnished all the neighbors with bouquets. The silky, vari-colored moss that bordered it fascinated us youngsters and I cannot see moss now without thinking of them. . . . Biddie was like a mother to Billie; to her he seemed helpless, and it was her oft repeated prayer that she would survive him. Somehow her protective instinct overreached itself. On a certain day she refused to let him climb a step ladder to hang fresh curtains. "I am better able to do this than you," she said. . . . She fell from the ladder and broke her back. "How is Billie going to get his supper?" she gasped to the doctor whom the old brother had summoned. Billie, as a matter of fact, wanted no supper that night—when suppertime came poor Biddie had gone away. Only a little more of life was left to him, and when he died Hometowners said reverently they hoped he would have a happy reunion with Biddie in a moss bordered garden.

RIDING THE MELON BUMPS.

We really raised watermelons in Tennessee. In June of 1918 Dad received a shipment of half a dozen seeds that were recommended as bug and frost proof, and planted them on a fertile, gently rolling slope. The next morning the ground was literally blown up with the rising plants, and by nightfall the vines had covered many acres completely. Examining the melons the next day, we discovered they were covered with large lumps; the melons had put them out to push the bugs away. . . . We found it great fun to sit between two bumps and ride up the slope as the vines kept growing; this game we called Crossing the Desert, as the bumps reminded us of camels. Reaching the top of the slope, and unwilling to walk back, we laid some planks at an angle that caused the melons to glance off and send us back home in a wild, exciting ride. . . . Dad, having ridden a melon up, decided to keep the crop from leaving our plantation and started cutting vines with his scythe. The result was that a huge avalanche of melons and greenery rolled down the valley, gathering momentum as it advanced, and flattened out the cows which were grazing there. We had to anchor them, thereafter, on windy days. And while we continued to use their milk, we had a terrible time with the churning, as the butter came out in thin sheets. Tennessee Guy.

PYORRHEA A DESTRUCTIVE DISEASE.

ARE we to become a toothless people—with our digestive troubles multiplied a hundredfold? Well! possibly—but certainly unless we play fair with our teeth, gums, and mouths. We do not chew enough or brush enough. In fact, we show less respect for our oral cavities than we accord our cheeks and lips. Seeds of infection come along—encouraged by neglect—and find ready lodgment and a favorable environment for growth.

The general health of the body has much to do with the teeth. Substances that are damaging may circulate in the blood and be secreted with the saliva—thus bathing these important structures.

One of our most pernicious diseases is called pyorrhea—a word meaning a flow of pus. Almost any one can recognize late symptoms, but when it becomes obvious to one's friends remedial measures will probably be applied too late to repair the damage. If the remark is made, "Your teeth are growing longer," the chances are that pyorrhea has gained a firm foothold. Of course the teeth are not longer, they merely appear so because the gums have shrunk toward the jaw, exposing more of the bone.

The disease starts in what is called the peridontal membrane. Blood vessels which nourish this structure also supply nutrition to the outer layer of the root. Destruction of this membrane begins at its gum surface and proceeds along the root. If it is extensive enough the tooth loosens and finally falls out. It is necessary, therefore, that this important area should be well nourished. This means a sufficient number of capillaries carrying good blood. If nutrition is low the growth of pus organisms is invited. Tartar frequently forms just beneath the edge of the gum and aids the spread of the disease.

About 90 per cent of the cases are what is known as the horizontal or marginal type, in which the gum at its junction with the tooth becomes inflamed with the gathering of pus. It is observed rarely in young persons and usually begins about the age of 40. Only occasionally does it attack a solitary tooth.

The first symptom noted by the dentist may be a peculiar reddening, thickening, rounding, or puffing of the gum margin, which loses its close adherence to the neck of the tooth. As a result of the inflammation the gums bleed easily, there is a foul odor from the mouth, and some pain may be observed on chewing. Affected teeth will loosen only in advanced cases.

Many theories as to the starting point of pyorrhea have been proposed. It seems reasonable to conclude, however, that some upset of metabolism, some failure of the endocrine glands, or a possible food deficiency, or all of these combined, should be held responsible. Scores of organisms have been found in the mouth, but under experimental studies no one of them can be made to cause the disease.

Animal investigation has shown that in order to have good teeth the diet must have adequate quantities of calcium, phosphorus, and vitamin D. Buckets of calcium can be supplied but the teeth will fail to develop normally if phosphorus or vitamin D is lacking. The remarkably fine teeth of the Hawaiian natives are ascribed to the generous use of pol, a particular kind of food which contains both calcium and phosphorus. Sunshine provides the source of vitamin D, hence good teeth are the result.

Pyorrhea is one of the most serious maladies that can involve the mouth, and it is difficult to cure. Even when apparently eradicated completely, relapses are common. Nevertheless, with the aid of a skilled dentist and proper attention to general health it can be conquered.

Treatment consists first in the institution of a sanitary regimen of the mouth and the teeth. There is no drug, compound, or vaccine that acts as a specific. All calculi [tartar] must be removed, as well as the infected gum tissue. Pockets where bacteria may lodge must be obliterated by chemical and surgical means.

Prevention lies in clean teeth, good food, and normal blood. Every one should own not one toothbrush, but several. A wet toothbrush is usually foul, hence a dry one should be employed each time.

TOO MUCH SALIVA.

M. J. P. writes: For about a year my mouth has been watery—too much saliva. I find myself swallowing constantly to keep the mouth dry. My dentist says I have an unusual amount of saliva. Could you suggest a remedy?

REPLY.

Excessive secretion of saliva is known as ptyalism. Hysteria can cause an excessive flow, as can drugs, such as salts of mercury, the iodides, bromides, chlorate of potash, salts of copper, etc. Irritations about the mouth, tiny ulcers such as canker sores, sprue, scurvy, or pernicious anemia are often responsible. Individuals with artificial dentures frequently complain of the symptom. Nervous lesions such as myasthenia gravis, paralysis agitans, and bulbar paralysis interfere with swallowing and hence bring about dribbling which may be interpreted as a profuse flow. Stomach disorders causing pain such as acute gastritis, peptic ulcers, etc., may be attended with an increased salivary flow. The most common cause, however, is some irritation within the mouth—a jagged tooth, a rough filling, etc. Good mouth hygiene will probably relieve the symptom.

BAD BREATH.

Mrs. S. writes: For the past year I have been bothered with a coated tongue and unpleasant breath. On the back of my tongue are two large blisters. My dentist says my teeth are in good condition. What could be the cause?

REPLY.

Frequently a coated tongue, accompanied by a foul breath, is caused by some digestive upset, constipation, or obstruction of the bowel. Regular habits of eating, sleeping, and exercising should result in eliminating this condition.

Sometimes the condition is due to a heavy growth of fungus on the tongue. This requires good mouth hygiene and the use of a soft rubber tongue brush. If carbohydrates [starches and sugars] are used to excess, reduce the amount.

SLOW PULSE.

A. Z. writes: My pulse rate is between 50 and 55. I am 67 years old. What causes such a slow pulse? Does it have any effect on the health of an older person? If so, what can be done to remedy the situation?

REPLY.

A slow pulse is normal for many persons, particularly as they grow older. You may disregard the situation safely if the heart beat corresponds exactly with the pulse.

CIVIL SERVICE, FARLEY STYLE.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—In connection with President Roosevelt's recent order extending the civil service, you may be interested in the way Mr. Farley is applying it.

I was one of the many thousands who took the civil service examination for city clerks and carriers last March. So far I have heard nothing from it.

Recently, in a south side tavern a group of politically appointed substitutes were discussing the grades they had received in the same examination, and evidently expected soon to receive permanent appointments. An inquiry as to why others had not received their grades brought forth hilarious laughter. "They will be thrown out the window," was the reply.

You see, those who have political pull will have their papers graded and returned. The others may as well forget about it. EX-DEMOCRAT.

MR. GOLDING'S REVELATIONS.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The Woman's Association of Commerce takes pleasure in commending the aggressive policy of THE TRIBUNE in its fight against the spread of radical propaganda in our midst, fostered apparently by many who have hitherto taken oaths of allegiance to the constitution of the United States.

More especially do we congratulate you upon the splendid articles of Mr. Robert Golding, recently published in your paper. We only wish the warnings therein contained could reach every man, woman, and child in America.

It is encouraging to see a great newspaper placing before the people at this critical time in our national life such a clear, concise, and accurate statement of the meaning of communism and its allies, as are presented in the articles of Mr. Golding. IRENE M. LEFKOW,

ANNIE.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—After waiting several years for "Little Orphan Annie" to grow up, I've come to believe that she can't; she's either a dwarf or a midget. And I've wondered about Sandy, too. After all, dogs don't live forever and retain the vigor and vitality they possessed when they were about a year old.

Why hasn't Annie been hired by some large concern to save them time and money with her efficient ideas. Everything she turns her efforts to becomes a gold mine—for some one else. She blissfully goes her way spreading sweetness, sunshine and light, and never, never indulges in the things kids her age do; she's always trying to improve herself and the world.

Annie's dress must be as old as herself, which is either eight or fifteen years; I've lost count of the years she has so gallantly fended for herself.

Annie has more hazardous adventures and endures more hardships in one month than all the scientific expeditions sent to the ends of the earth have in several years.

Either let the kid grow up, naturally, or be hit with a truck and have countless mourners at her funeral.

BERYL M. PETERSON.

A MERE $22,560.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Picture if you can the look of contempt on Politician Sweitzer's face as he hears about Fellow Politician Zintak getting scared and running away for the measly little sum of $22,560. ONLY A TAXPAYER.

FORECAST.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—The present Zintak case, the past Sweitzer case, and all the other embezzlement cases in the county building remind me of a speech I heard last year made by the past Ald. James C. Moreland. I quote: "If there was a thorough investigation in the city hall and county building, half of the officials would be in jail." A CITIZEN.

BIRD SANCTUARY.

Lake Forest, Ill., Sept. 19.—Birds of a feather flock together. What a sanctuary they have in the city hall and county building, Chicago.

Plenty of food and lots of protection.

JOHN ELLIOTT.

IT IS.

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Isn't it about time the Illinois Central railway gave Chicago something better than an old rat hole for a central station? They use the station trackage for a switch yard, apparently with no gates or protection for the public and I was obliged to navigate 200 pounds up and down 120 steps to bid my boy adieu; 60 up and 60 down amid the stale odors of yesteryear. After milking Chicago for plenty all these years, how about building up the good will account? There must be a million cobwebs in the front office. A. M. HUMBERT.

FOLK SPELLING.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—As a visiting New Englander I have been much interested in your spelling reforms, particularly in the attempt to introduce folk spelling to general use. "Drouth" seems to be taking hold well. I would suggest that you now try some of these other homely and unpretentious items: lenth, strenth, troth [for pigs], goverment, reconize, and, possibly, irrigardless and chaise lounge.

R. L. ALLEN.

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Old age pensioners are only receiving $23 a month. The government gives $15 and the state $15. Who gets the rest? V. MANN.

ABLE-BODIED SEAMAN.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Your editorial writer's phrase, "able-bodied seaman," was objected to by a correspondent, but the usage is perfectly good. For many years the two classes of seamen were distinguished by the official terms, "able-bodied" and "ordinary." The former were able to go aloft and were available to steer the ship. The latter did deck work. Today the certificate issued to an able seaman is called an "A. B. ticket." Able seamen are known as A. B.'s. A bit out of date, probably, but good usage. EX-A. B.

HUNGER IN GERMANY.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—May I extend my heartiest congratulations upon your editorial of Sept. 12 entitled "Hunger in Germany"? It is one of the finest editorials I have ever read.

DOROTHY DUNKELMAN.

ESTATE MATTERS.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A will, which has been in the hands of a lawyer for one and a half years, is soon to come up in the Probate court. There are six children heirs, three of whom were administrators. The lawyer forced two of these to sign off on paper, without notary seal.

1. Is this legal?

2. Will heirs be notified when the case comes up in court and by whom?

3. One heir holds note bearing interest. How can heir force lawyer to file claim for note payment, also to collect current interest?

4. What per cent is administrator allowed for handling property? Is this on gross or net income?

5. Can one heir force liquidation, and when? F. J. O.

1. Probably yes, but we cannot advise to advantage without knowing whether real estate is involved, the wording of the writing, etc.

2. Yes, by the executor.

3. The attorney for the estate is not forced to represent individual heirs in this way.

4. The Illinois statute says not over 6 per cent of the personal property.

5. If the estate is not closed shortly after the expiration of one year, report the facts to Assistant Judge Kelley in the county building. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

JAPANESE SPURN CHINESE PROTEST OVER INVASION

Armed Sailors Continue to Patrol Shanghai Area.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Sept. 24.—Heavily armed Japanese sailors tonight continued to patrol a large slice of the Chapei area of Shanghai. Protests against the invasion of the Chinese settlement from the Nanking national government and Chinese city officials were curtly rejected.

The entire city was warned "to keep its head cool" by the Japanese, who landed some 2,000 bluejackets Wednesday night in answer to the killing of one Japanese marine and the wounding of two others in the Hongkew [Japanese] section of the international settlement.

The previously thriving Hongkew area has the appearance of a dead city. The streets are deserted except for contingents of Japanese bluejackets with full war equipment and steel helmets. The Japanese ordered their nationals to remain indoors. Amusement places are closed generally except for beer halls and resorts catering to occidental sailors.

Demand More Forces.

Despite the establishment of martial law in the Hongkew area, Japanese residents are still fearful of more trouble from the Chinese.

Local Japanese organizations and the press monopolized the single cable from Shanghai to Nagasaki and demanded the "dispatch immediately to China of land and sea forces sufficient to accord full protection of Japanese lives and property."

Japanese papers were filled with statements of the dozen rear admirals stationed here. Vice Admiral Shimada on the flagship Idzuma said: "There will be no more conferences, no more statements, only action!"

Rear Admiral Eijiro Kondo said: "The landing of the Japanese was based on the right of self-defense. Henceforth Japan will not be lenient with those Chinese who regard Japanese citizens and officials as China's enemies. Prudent Chinese must understand Japan's intentions to avoid blind acts."

"Action Before Words."

Lieutenant Commander Matao Okino said: "Our sacrifices will not come to naught. Henceforth we will show action before words."

Nanking officialdom, thoroughly frightened by the Japanese invasion, dispatched two cabinet officers, Wu Ting-chang, minister of industries, and Wang Shih-chieh, minister of education, by airplane to Canton beseeching Dictator Chiang Kai-shek to return and deal with the Japanese. Foreign Minister Chang Chun telegraphed similarly to Ambassador Shigeru Kawagoe of Japan to remain at Nanking pending Chiang's return.

Ambassador Kawagoe had given Nanking a final warning that he was prepared to depart from Nanking with his staf for Shanghai.

Japanese papers claimed that Nanking is permitting the reopening of the Japanese consulate at Chengtu subject to Japanese demands made following the slaying of two Japanese commercial travelers by a Chinese mob. The Chinese had opposed the reopening of the consulate. [Tokio insists four Japanese were slain.]

Policy of Moderation Fixed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Sept. 25.—[Friday.]—Adherents to the policy of moderation in dealing with China over the killing of a Japanese marine in Shanghai today won their point in formulating the Japanese government's policy.

Following a conference of army, navy, and foreign office officials late yesterday, the decision was reached to concentrate efforts to settle the trouble through diplomatic negotiations. However in view "of the inability of Nanking to maintain peace and order and protect the lives and property of Japanese," the conference decided to place this responsibility in the hands of the Japanese navy.

Instructions to this effect will be drafted and dispatched by Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita to Ambassador Shigeru Kawagoe at Nanking.

Recover Woman's Body from Lake; Mate Puzzled

The body of a woman which was recovered from the lake off Fullerton avenue yesterday was identified last night as that of Mrs. Betty Ladra, 30 years old, of 1942 Dayton street. Her husband, Anthony Ladra, identified the body. He said she had been missing only a short time. He could not account for her death.

DESCRIBES USE OF THE X-RAY TO TREAT TUMORS

With the high voltage X-ray treatment now in use, tumors of the cervix in their early stages can be cured easily by X-ray alone, Dr. Henri Coutard, chief of the division of X-ray therapy of cancer in the Curie institute, Paris, said yesterday.

He addressed radiologists and heads of X-ray departments of general hospitals from many parts of the country who are attending a postgraduate course sponsored by the tumor clinic of Michael Reese hospital. The meetings are being held in the Palmer house.

First Type Treated.

"Cancer of the uterus was the first type of cancer treated adequately by radiation and for a long time was the only deeply situated cancer to be cured by that treatment," he said.

Between 1928 and 1930 radium and X-ray were combined in treating cancer, 36 per cent of those treated surviving five years or more. Use of high voltage X-ray makes the outlook even more hopeful, Dr. Coutard indicated.

Dr. Max Cutler, director of the Michael Reese clinic, speaking on treatment of cancer of the cervix of the uterus, said the majority of cases which physicians see are advanced, inoperable and incurable, with only palliative treatment by radiation possible.

Cure Possible in Early Stages.

In early and curable cancers, he said, radiation offers definite possibilities of cure. Combination of surgery and radiation may be advisable, he said.

Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical association, speaking last night at a banquet in the Palmer house, urged wider newspaper publicity on cancer as a means of fighting the disease. He also recommended that the general medical practitioner be more on the alert for signs of the disease. Another speaker was Prof. Gordon Laing of the University of Chicago.

LEGION DEMANDS SAFEGUARDS FOR U. S. NEUTRALITY

Adjourns After Selecting Kansan as New Chief.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The eighteenth annual convention of the American Legion adjourned this afternoon after unanimously electing Harry W. Colmery, Topka, Kas., lawyer, national commander and adopting resolutions demanding the country remain strictly neutral in international affairs.

The Legion adopted one resolution interpreted as supporting a proposal for pensions for all widows and orphans of world war veterans.

The "pension" proposal was contained in a report of the rehabilitation committee, which was adopted without a dissenting vote. It was worded so that it contained no mention of "pension" or "compensation." It read as follows:

"That in no event shall the widows and orphans of world war veterans be without government protection."

The wording may be slightly amended before it is "presented" to congress next winter for approval, some said.

In New York Next Year.

The graying veterans, who look forward all year to these gala sessions of monkeyshines and business, will meet in New York City next year. Gotham won the selection on the slogan "March up Fifth avenue again in 1937."

Colmery was elected by acclamation, the veterans greeting him with a rising shout and a parade of the standards of every Legion department. The championship drum and bugle corps of Chicago's Commonwealth Edison post struck up "Hail to the Chief," as the delegates swarmed to the platform.

The outgoing commander, Ray Murphy, tried to make himself heard as he yelled, "I declare Harry Colmery elected," but couldn't even reach the side of the Topekan. He finally brought order and introduced the new commander.

"To be chosen the leader of a million men, American men of arms as I know them, is a sacred trust," Colmery said. "I accept not for the purpose of fulfilling personal ambition but as an opportunity to render service to my comrades through the Legion and through it to my country.

"We must always be ready to exemplify the cause in the preamble of our constitution, that of making right the cause of might.

"I think the nation is still looking to the Legion for leadership. Our only danger lies in our own apathy and sticking our nose in other people's business instead of keeping it within our own Legion confines.

"The American Legion and its auxiliary have a very great and definite responsibility to take a position of leadership in advance of any they have taken up to this time."

Back Monroe Doctrine.

Among the flood of resolutions approved before Colmery's election was one affirming the Legion's belief in the Monroe Doctrine as a measure of peace and opposing entry of the United States into the league of nations.

The delegates also urged the United States to maintain a strict policy of neutrality and remain free of any alliance that might draw the country into war. They also approved a resolution opposing any modification or cancellation of war debts and voted to refuse all future loans to nations in default of their war debts.

Another resolution reaffirmed the Legion's long advocacy of the "universal service act, providing for the draft of capital, industry and man power, as well as men, to fight in the event of a national emergency or actual war."

The Legionnaires voted to make an employment program a major policy and reaffirmed their condemnation of mob violence and lynching through the United States.

Arrest Third Youth for Forest Preserve Holdup

Paul Jankowski, 22 years old, 1025 Dewey avenue, Evanston, was arrested in his home yesterday by Niles Center policemen after he was named by two other youths as their accomplice in a holdup Tuesday night in the forest preserve near Niles Center. The others held are Henry Fritsch, 21 years old, and Marshall Werneski, 17 years old, both of Evanston. The three held up William Duncan, 30 years old, 1414 Pratt boulevard, in the forest preserve and took his automobile and $23. The car overturned at Kolmar and Church streets, Niles Center, as the youths fled from the robbery, and Fritsch and Werneski were seized.

G. A. R. SELECTS PENNSYLVANIAN AS COMMANDER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—C. H. Williams Ruhe of Pittsburgh, who ran away from home 72 years ago to join the Union army when he was only a lad of 15, today was unanimously elected to be commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. Ruhe, now 87 years old, has been a designing and constructing mechanical engineer.

Ruhe was elected almost without competition, the nomination of George H. Pounder of Fort Atkinson, Wis., having been withdrawn when it became evident that the Pennsylvanian would be elected.

Served with Cavalry.

Ruhe served in Company L of the Fourth Pennsylvania cavalry through the last campaign around Petersburg and up to the surrender at Appomattox.

Despite suggestions that the G. A. R. had reached its last national encampment, the veterans voted to hold a 71st encampment in Madison, Wis., in September, 1937. Madison was selected by an overwhelming vote after spirited campaigning by San Francisco, Milwaukee, and Boise, Idaho.

Oppose Statue to Lee.

The G. A. R. also adopted a resolution opposing the proposed construction of a memorial statue to Robert E. Lee in Arlington National cemetery, declaring the leader of the confederate armies should not be so honored in the national shrine.

The gallant old men who gave Washington a stirring spectacle yesterday by staging their last march down Pennsylvania avenue, 71 years after a victory parade down the same route, tonight began leaving for their homes in all parts of the country.

B. C. DICKINSON, PAPER MAKER, IS FATALLY SHOT

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Bartlett C. Dickinson, 60, former president of the Standard Paper company and former city commissioner, died today at Borgess hospital of a bullet wound believed to have been self-inflicted.

He was found this afternoon lying unconscious in his room, with a pistol at his side, after his aunt, Mrs. J. A. Pitkin, and the maid had left the room to prepare food for him.

Mr. Dickinson had been in failing health for some time. He had gone horseback riding during the afternoon, but complained of feeling worse upon his return and went to bed.

He had been prominently associated with the paper making industry in this city for many years. He was president of the Standard Paper company at the time it was acquired by the Sutherland company a few years ago and also was treasurer of the Sutherland company.

750 FRESHMEN HEAR HUTCHINS LASH AT BIGOTS

Freshman week at the University of Chicago began yesterday as approximately 750 first year students gathered in Mandel hall and heard President Robert M. Hutchins welcome them to the university.

In his talk President Hutchins declared that the business of education is more important than it ever has been in the past.

"Although I loathe all prophecy," he said, "I will say that the world seems to be rushing toward the destruction of liberty of conscience, of worship, of speech, and of thought.

Cites Apparent Trend.

"The world seems to be rushing, in other words, toward the abolition of those processes which have accounted for the advance of civilization. This tendency, together with the concomitant tendency to hatred and war, will not be without its effects on our own country.

"Already we see signs of the growth of bigotry and repression. We see ignorance and prejudice exploited by the most shameless propaganda. We see battle lines drawn that may determine the fate of our form of government and of your generation.

"Education is intellectual and spiritual preparation. Never have the times called as they do today for disciplined reason, for clear and independent thought. No political organization is any better than the citizens that compose it. No governmental system can make stupid citizens intelligent. And democracy, to which we adhere, cannot survive without intelligent citizens."

See 10 Per Cent Greater Enrollment.

For the next seven days the new students will be busy acquainting themselves with the campus and taking scholastic aptitude tests. Classes will start next Thursday. University officials estimated that enrollment this year will be 10 per cent greater than last year.

Next Thursday will mark the beginning of the thirty-eighth year of the university.

EASTLAND HERO ADMITS STEALING GAS; GETS BREAK

Sato, who has been in the United States since he was 8 years old, and who holds doctors' degrees in medicine and philosophy from Columbia university, was arraigned with William Weaver on a charge of stealing gas from the gas company for household use. Sato lives at 167 Hill street, Weaver at 169 Hill street. Sato admitted taking the gas. He also admitted furnishing Weaver gas because Weaver, 53 years old, has a wife and five children and no job. Both Sato and Weaver have been on relief.

During the court hearing yesterday, Sato told Judge Joseph A. Graber about the Eastland incident. He was standing near the Clark street bridge when the ship overturned in the river. He dived into the water and saved several children. He was given a medal for his act. Judge Graber commended him for that, but told him he was endangering life by tapping gas lines. He then fined Sato and Weaver $200 each, but entered motions to vacate the fines on Oct. 15.

SEATTLE STATION FIGHTS INCREASE IN WCFL POWER

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Organized labor's efforts to increase the power of its radio station, WCFL, at Chicago, so it could be heard over most of the nation, today met with determined opposition from station KJR at Seattle, Wash.

Federal communications' commission examiners, hearing WCFL's application for an increase from 5,000 to 50,000 watts, were told by Donald J. Graham, vice president of the corporation operating KJR, that granting of the labor station's request would be "calamitous" to KJR.

The two stations operate in the same channel. WCFL on 50,000 watts, Graham said, would interfere with KJR in its primary territory and seriously interfere in its secondary territory.

It is said the Hall family is one of the most remarkably long lived of any in the mountains.

APPROVE SALE OF WARANTS ON 30c RELIEF TAX

Wait for Horner to Sign Validating Bills.

Additional revenue amounting to several hundred thousand dollars monthly, which will help close the gap between what Chicago gets and what it needs for relief, will be assured when Gov. Horner signs the seven bills validating the 30 cent township relief levy.

This was indicated last night when Henry E. Cutler, a member of the law firm of Chapman & Cutler, said in an informal opinion that action of the state legislature has removed all legal objections to the tax and opened the way to sale of tax anticipation warants based on it.

Double Tax Threat Ended.

Last month the law firm, adviser to Chicago bankers, refused to approve purchases of tax warants based on property tax of 30 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for relief purposes. According to the opinion of Chapman & Cutler at that time, the Hickman-Lantz-Finn law authorizing the levy threatened seven Cook county townships with double taxation, since they are partly within and partly without the city.

Bills amending the law were passed by the state senate at Springfield early yesterday and by the house several days ago. They gave the Cook county board power to change the township lines. Clayton F. Smith, president of the board, said last night he will call members into session immediately after Horner's promised signature becomes a reality.

Warants Being Printed.

Robert B. Upham, city controler, announced that relief tax warants are being printed in hope the sale can start by Oct. 1.

"I would like to sell up to 75 per cent of the issue," Upham said, "but the banks probably will establish a limit on the amount they will purchase."

According to Leo M. Lyons, city relief commissioner, the property tax should raise between $500,000 and $600,000 a month for Chicago.

The city's relief needs for September were given as $2,420,935, of which it received $1,771,395 as its share of the $3,000,000 of sales tax revenue used for relief in the state.

LAWYER REILLY IN CONTEMPT ON ALIMONY LAPSE

Justice Close refused to consider her application for more alimony, but ordered Reilly to pay his wife $15 a week in addition to the regular alimony until the arrears were cleared up.

The body of a man struck and killed by an automobile at Warren and Francisco avenues on Sept. 12 was identified at the county morgue last night by John O'Brien, 2934 Walnut street, as that of his brother, Thomas, 65 years old, a steamfitter living at the same address.

The benefactor, Charles Stender, 6139 Newport avenue, a contractor, said that Gasior's mother, Mrs. Pauline Gasior, an old friend, had asked him on her death bed early in the summer to find Gasior a job. Stender said he made a temporary place for Gasior in his home in June. Gasior rewarded him, he charged, by stealing $10, some clothing, and breaking an antique bureau.

Police who arrested Gasior said he confessed the Stender theft, and also admitted taking his mother's few dollars as she lay near death. Police said Gasior also had admitted victimizing twenty persons by promising jobs for them and collecting $2 from each as a deposit on uniforms.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Harvesting Hemp.

September 24, 1936.

HARVESTERS yesterday finished cutting the three acre field of hemp grown for experimental purposes on a field test basis t the Tribune's Wheaton farm. Reent rains stimulated the growth of he plants which were so tall that narvesting was difficult. Some were hirteen feet tall and the stalks were ½ inches in circumference.

An attempt was made to harvest he hemp with a special binder, but he plants were so tall that the men vere able to cut only about one-third f the crop with the machine. The ther two-thirds was cut with a ractor driven mower used on the arm in cutting alfalfa and other hay rops. Extensions had been attached o the binder so that the table and levator were about twice the length f those on an ordinary grain binder. Even with the extensions much of he hemp was too long to be carried hrough the machine, tied and kicked ut on the ground.

The hemp was grown chiefly for iber. Many of the plants are too big nd woody to produce the highest ield of first class fiber. The seed vas drilled with an ordinary grain rill in rows six inches apart but till the plants were too thin on the round. The farm manager is now lanning to double the rate of seedng in future plantings by drilling irst the long way and then across he field. By increasing the rate of eeding he hopes to produce hemp lants about the size of an ordinary ead pencil, which is considered by iber experts to be the most desirable.

Cures in Shocks.

The hemp that was cut with the nower is being gathered up in bundles and tied by hand with binder wine. All of the bundles, including hose harvested with the binder, will e shocked in the open field and allowed to cure. The plants will then be decorticated mechanically under a new process that takes the place of the old-fashioned retting or rotting process that separates the fibers from the hurds or woody portion of the plants.

The Tribune farm manager hopes to have enough material for use in conducting processing tests. An attempt is now being made to find processors who will be able to make various products from the material that comes from the hemp plants. Last year the manager of the farm was hanicapped in having processing tests made because only a small amount of the material was produced from a few plants grown in the experimental plots for exhibition purposes at the Wheaton farm.

Processors at Work.

For more than two years the Tribune farm operators have been encouraging manufacturers to make tests with hemp to see what can be done in developing the manufacturing of hemp products on a commercial basis. Several companies are now at work trying to develop fiber products such as twine, ropes, rugs, and cloths. Others are trying to make cellophane, paper, and other products from the hurds or woody portion of the plant. There is also oil in the seed of hemp that can be used in manufacturing paints.

When the Wheaton farm hemp comes from the decorticating machine there will be three different kinds of raw products—fiber, hurds, and seeds—and all will be available for experimental purposes. Much progress has been made in the manufacturing of fibers, paper, and other products on a small laboratory scale. The next step is to manufacture the hemp products on a commercial scale. When that is accomplished farmers should find a profitable outlet for hemp plants.

— LIMESTONE—PROMPT SHIPMENTS. — Lehigh Stone Co., Kankakee, Ill.

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor, it's your price!

Here's us fishing before the creek got to drying up like it did

That's my brother William leaning down from the log, and me reaching his drink up to him, and Larry Burkes over on the bank grinning like everything and helping himself. Larry's been a friend of the Wilken Family pretty near ever since our Family first took up distilling. I couldn't just say as Larry was acquainted with Grandad Wilken when he started out. I'm referring to his knowing Dad and all the rest of us. Larry says he never heard of any other family distilling one generation after another like ours. I don't know about that, but I guess there's no other Family's Recipe like ours anyhow!

Harry E. Wilken

You're getting the self same whiskey as us!

—and our Family's been distilling 50 odd years

I'll just bet Grandad Wilken's eyes would pop if he was here to see how everybody's so keen for The Wilken Family's own personal recipe! And I just know we're trying like anything to follow out every one of his teachings so as he'd have a right to be real proud of us.

When you come right down to it, William and Tom and me—and I guess all you folks that are so tickled over the mildness and tastiness of The Wilken Family Whiskey—I guess we all have got to hand every bit of the credit to Grandad and Dad. It was Grandad that taught Dad, and Dad that taught us. So there's no getting around it—all we're doing now is watching out to make sure every batch we turn out is made just like Dad said to.

Well there's no fear of us ever slacking up on our care. You'd find the lot of us on the job every day from 6 a.m. till quitting time. It was mighty seldom we got off to fish this summer. Well, the creek's all dried up now anyhow!

VIOLENCE MARKS STRIKE ACTIVITY IN MINNEAPOLIS

Use of Troops Withheld; Two Mills Reopen.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The Minneapolis strike front saw several new outbreaks of violence and the reopening of two flour mills today as the use of mobilized National Guardsmen to control the threatening situation was postponed pending the outcome of conferences.

A group of men, believed to be pickets or sympathizers in the strike of the General Drivers' union, attacked and severely beat two workers unloading a freight car for the K. Aslesen Wholesale Grocery company, officials of the concern reported.

Members of the drivers' union have picketed the wholesale grocery district since the start of their walkout in mid-August. The strikers seek union recognition and wage adjustments.

15 Men Break Into Office.

Fifteen men drove up to the Archer-Daniels-Midland company elevator, scene of several outbreaks by pickets in the month old strike of flour, feed, cereal, and elevator workers, broke into the office and pulled a a telephone from the wall. Axel Peterson, foreman of the closed plant and alone in the building at the time, told police the men did no other damage.

The two mills reopened were those of the Pillsbury Flour Mills company and the Northwestern Consolidated Milling company. They had been closed about a month as a result of the strike in their industry. A third large mill, operated by the Washburn Crosby company, resumed operations last week.

As he awaited the outcome of conferences with representatives of the department of labor, disputing employers and striking employés, Gov. Hjalmar Petersen defended his mobilization of 400 National Guardsmen for possible strike duty.

Feed Concern Urges Force.

The governor said that Harry Lesky, secretary of the Farmer-Labor-Progressive Federation of La Crosse County, Wisconsin, had wired to protest against the use of the militia against strikers, and that Frank Ellis, president of the Independent Union of All Workers, at Albert Lea, Minn., had urged that he abstain from using troops.

At the same time the Hilltop Feed company of Minneapolis urged immediate use of force to restore order. In asking that the troops be called out, the sherif of Hennepin county had said the situation was out of his control.

Gov. Petersen declared the guard mobilization was justified by existing conditions in the city, which has been beset by strikes for many weeks.

The governor emerged from the conferences tonight with a declaration that federal mediators would submit a proposal to union leaders. He said he expected a settlement soon.

Work on Bridge Halted.

Hennepin, Ill., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Construction of a new highway bridge across the Illinois river here was halted today by labor trouble allegedly based on refusal of the Wisconsin Bridge and Iron company to recognize union groups.

About 175 men, mostly from La Salle and Peru, were on the picket line. Their appearance caused a crew unloading steel from trucks to quit work immediately. Work on the bridge started only yesterday.

Rubber Workers to Return.

Akron, O., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Members of the Goodrich local of the United Rubber Workers of America voted unanimously tonight to return to work at the B. F. Goodrich company plant, which suspended operations, making 10,000 employés idle after a series of "sitdowns."

L. L. Callahan, president of Goodrich local, announced the vote.

Members of the local voted immediately after receiving a report from a union committee which had been in conference all day with company officials. Callahan said the vote eliminated the probability of an outright strike.

LABOR SHORTAGE DEALS BLOW TO COTTON HARVEST

Clarksdale, Miss., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A shortage of cotton pickers harassed the Mississippi delta today and threatened to curtail the harvesting of a bumper crop through waste.

Drouth conditions through the maturing season caused the cotton to whiten the fields, but vast stretches will be spotted and ruined unless the crop is gathered before a rainy season begins.

The call went out for 10,000 cotton pickers to work the fields in the northern half of Mississippi.

Harris Barnes of Clarksdale, Coahoma county farm agent, said that approximately 1,000 pickers had been rounded up today, but that the supply of labor was far short of needs.

Farmers were unable to explain the sudden dearth of pickers, except to express the belief that the bands of itinerants who migrate into the delta each year from nearby states to gather cotton were entering other pursuits.

The Works Progress administration at Washington ruled that qualified persons on the WPA rolls could be released to pick the staple under fair payment of wages without endangering their status with the WPA.

Dr. Wayne Alliston, Mississippi administrator for the WPA, said his bureau was "doing everything possible to assist in the harvesting of the crop."

"We have closed down all projects in the delta area which can be closed until after the cotton picking season," he said.

DIES OF HEART ATTACK IN GRILL.

Indict Arkansas Marshal on Charges of Slavery

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A federal grand jury investigating reports of peonage in the east Arkansas cotton belt indicted City Marshal Paul D. Peacher of Earle, Ark., on a charge of violating the anti-slavery laws today a few hours after a Crittenden county grand jury denied such conditions exist.

United States District Attorney Fred Isgrig said the indictment accuses Peacher of falsely charging eight colored men with vagrancy and bringing them before Mayor T. S. Mitchell, where they were convicted illegally and sentenced to work on Peacher's farm for his use and benefit. More than 20 men have been railroaded on trumped up charges, the prosecutor added.

The federal grand jurors, who had been in session all day examining witnesses, were discharged after filing the indictment.

Can't Find Evidence.

Even as the federal body conducted its inquiry, the Crittenden county grand jury at Marion, in the heart of the region under study, said it already has investigated charges of forced labor and intimidation and had "not found any evidence of violations of the law in any instance."

It offered to coöperate in the federal inquiry.

Nine colored field hands were among those called before the federal investigators. Other witnesses were Mayor Mitchell of Earle, where disturbances were reported early this year; A. B. Carter, deputy clerk of court for Crittenden county, and B. L. Damron, agent with the federal bureau of investigation.

Peonage Told to Agents.

Department of justice investigation followed upon charges by individuals and by the Southern Tenant Farmers' union, with headquarters at Memphis, that peonage was practiced in the sharecropper belt.

Miss Willie Sue Blagden, 29, Memphis social worker, who charged she and the Rev. Claude C. Williams, Little Rock minister, were flogged at Earle last June during a cotton croppers' strike called by the tenant union, expressed "surprise" today at the Crittenden grand jury report.

"I would have been glad to go over there and testify," said Miss Blagden, who has filed federal court damage suits against five Crittenden county men for her alleged whipping.

E. J. White, Crittenden grand jury foreman, said at Marion Miss Blagden and Mr. Williams had been invited to appear "but did not show up."

INCREASE IN FREE CONCERT SEATS IS SOUGHT BY PARKS

A plan by the park district to develop a natural amphitheater in Grant park for the 1937 series of free band concerts may be abandoned in favor of a new proposal, George T. Donoghue, superintendent of the district, said yesterday. The space available for such a theater would limit seating capacity to about 25,000 persons and deprive others of vantage points, he said.

"Because of the heavy attendance at this year's concerts, we are considering plans to provide more seats," Donoghue said. "However, we have about decided that an amphitheater would not meet the needs. We are now studying a plan to grade the land near the Grant park bandstand so as to elevate seats. This should provide more people with a good view of the shell."

CZECHS PROTEST GERMAN CHARGES THEY AID RUSSIA

Speeches at Nazi Rally Anger Prague.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—The Czechoslovakian chargé d'affaires today presented a note to the German foreign office protesting against several speeches made at the Nuremberg Nazi party caucus in which Czechoslovakia was mentioned. The Czechs charge the speeches were "detrimental to the improvement of neighborly relations between Germany and Czechoslovakia and tended to increase political tension in the Danube basin."

Czechoslovakia protested because Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, and Dr. Alfred Rosenberg, adviser on foreign affairs to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, reiterated old charges that soviet Russia is building airfields on Czechoslovakian soil.

Rumania Also Aroused.

The Czechoslovakian protest was preceded by a visit of the Rumanian minister at the foreign office to "express misgiving" about what Rumania terms "a systematic campaign waged by the German press against our country."

The German press repeatedly has charged that Rumanians and Czechs are building "strategic railroads linking those countries and extending them to soviet Russia, thereby opening paths for bolshevism in Europe."

Leaders Voice Fears.

"The repeated denunciations in the German press as to an alleged bridge to soviet Russia have aroused fears in Rumania that the Germans are trying to prepare their own public opinion for action against Rumania," leading Rumanians said. "This feeling is strengthened by the closeness of relations between Germany and Hungary which is still on very bad terms with Rumania."

While Germans, Czechs, and Rumanians are squabbling over the meaning of the tiny railroad line built from Goss Vardein, Rumania, into Czechoslovakia and the true nature of Czechoslovakian air fields, Franz von Papen, ambassador extraordinary to Austria, is "bear hunting" in the Carpathian district of Czechoslovakia.

Hear Hungary Will Rearm.

BUDAPEST, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A report of a German-Hungarian agreement involving a twelve month Hungarian rearmament policy tonight reached Little Entente legations as Baron Konstantin von Neurath, German minister for foreign affairs, concluded four days of conferences here. The foreign office immediately branded the rearmament report as "infamous and ridiculous."

A foreign office spokesman said Hungary did not desire to follow Germany and Austria in announcing the breaking of peace treaties "even though they are unjust."

According to the report the German-Hungarian agreement covered at least three points:

1. Continuation by Hungary of a pro-German policy.
2. A twelve month Hungarian rearmament policy including the establishment of airports along the Czechoslovakian-Hungarian and Rumanian-Hungarian borders.
3. The supply by Germany of 250 airplanes to Hungary in exchange for Hungarian products.

Ukrainian Planes to Fly in Air Festival Sunday

An aviation festival with stunt flying, races between commercial types of airplanes, and parachute jumping will be held at River Road airport, River road and Touhy avenue, on Sunday afternoon under the sponsorship of the Slavonic colony of Chicago. Several airplanes manufactured in the Ukraine will be flown and there also will be a parade by the uniformed Ukrainian Young division. The United Hetman organizations of Chicago announce the meet as the first Ukrainian aviation festival and picnic.

GERMAN PRESS HITS CATHOLIC PLEA FOR PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—The Nazi party tonight released to the German press a bitter attack on the Catholic bishops in Germany and particularly on their pastoral letter defending the sectarian schools.

The article was written by Gustav Staebe, former Hitler Youth Press chief. It deplores the bishops' failure in the face of the terror in Spain "to ask all Catholics to put themselves at the disposal of the Nazi movement" and warns that the Nazis are determined to preserve the unity of the nation with one school.

"The Fulda bishops' conference has other troubles, however," the article continues. "The pope does not weep [for Spain] like his predecessor in wartime. The German bishops do not weep. They have not time for that. They sit over the theme of nonsectarian or sectarian schools. That is supposed to be the all-important question.

"In their pastoral letter they refer to 'the battle waged over the holiest and most sacred possession,' but not in Russia or in Spain but in Germany. They speak of 'holy martyrs who went joyfully to their death,' not in Russia, not in Spain, but in Germany, for the preservation of the sectarian schools."

Nazis to Slip 26,000 Ton Battleship Into Sea Oct. 3

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Germany's first 26,000 ton battleship will be launched Oct. 3 at Wilhemshafen, it was announced today. Provisionally called "battleship D," it will carry nine 11 inch guns, and twelve 6 inch anti-aircraft pieces. The launching will be a festive occasion, with special trains carrying "strength through joy" sightseers to the ways.

JOHNSON PLANS TO EXPAND CITY KINDERGARTENS

A plan to accommodate nearly 1,000 kindergarten children now unable to attend public school classes was announced yesterday by Supt. William H. Johnson. At a meeting of the board of education next Monday Mr. Johnson will ask for authority to employ 15 additional teachers.

The proposal is intended to settle an issue which developed in 1931 when the board reduced the number of kindergarten teachers by half leaving the present 130.

Hit Day Nursery Trend.

School officials at that time charged that the beginners' classes were filled with children under 5 years old, the age at which they are accepted. The kindergarten was becoming a day nursery, accommodating children of mothers who devoted their afternoons to bridge, the board members said.

In addition to more teachers, classrooms will be enlarged for the youngsters to prevent overcrowding, Supt. Johnson said. Crowded conditions in the elementary and high schools have been relieved this year by new buildings and additions.

9,900 Less Pupils Register.

The official registration for the entire school system, completed this week, is 485,064, or a reduction of 9,900 pupils as compared with 1935.

The high schools enrolled 131,638 this year, a decrease of 992. The largest decrease was in the elementary schools, where the registration of 327,360 pupils is 9,661 below the 1935 figure. The public evening schools, with 20,746 persons last year, now have 21,742 in attendance. The junior colleges have 3,722 students as compared with 4,039 last year, while the Chicago Normal college registration increased from 528 to 602.

City Asks WPA to Take Over Garbage Removal Work Oct. 1

Oscar Hewitt, city commissioner of public works, yesterday requested officials of the federal Works Progress administration to suggest an existing city relief project under which WPA labor might be used to collect city garbage and clean the streets between Oct. 1 and next January. The request was made in a move to expedite the proposal for this use of WPA workers by avoiding the customary red tape encountered in applying for a separate project.

The plan to shift the two responsibilities from the city to WPA was told by Ald. John Coughlin [1st] at a special council meeting on Wednesday.

2,400 To Lose Jobs.

It was learned then that the city will have to lay off 2,400 men in the street department on Oct. 1 because it has been compelled by the courts to pay $1,530,711 from the 1936 appropriation for the restoration of employés salary cuts made as an economy measure in 1931. Permanent registration raised the shortage to $2,045,379.

All city department heads have been instructed to trim expenses during this year as a means of compensating for the setback in finances. Hewitt was asked to save $1,041,000 in his department.

Study Health Project.

V. A. Anderson, assistant director of the WPA district which includes Chicago, said yesterday that a city health project, already approved by the government, might be suitable to carry on the garbage and street cleaning work.

"This is just one of the possibilities being considered," Anderson said. "There are, of course, several problems to be discussed before we make a definite recommendation."

Among the questions unanswered last night was whether or not WPA wages can be paid to the present employés of the street department or whether these employés must be replaced by men from the WPA rolls. Mayor Kelly, however, said he believes the city workers have little chance of staying on the job as WPA employés.

ITALIAN LEADER HITS 'SUBVERSIVE POWER OF JEWS'

ROME, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Roberto Farinacci, former secretary of the Fascist party and a member of the Fascist grand council, editorially assailed tonight "the subversive influence of Jews" on European governments.

His editorial was printed in his newspaper, Régime Fascista, and attracted wide attention because of his prominence in the Fascist party in which anti-Semitism has never been a tenet.

"From the monopoly enjoyed under the dictatorship in bolshevist Russia, to the prevalence it has achieved in the bolshevist government of France, the subversive influence of Jews is very evident as the cause of existing disorders," Farinacci wrote. "International Jewry is anti-Fascist. Never has a Jew uttered a word of admiration or gratitude for Fascism."

GERMAN SECRET POLICE SEIZE 3 JEWISH LEADERS

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—Dr. Franz Meyer, second secretary general of the Reich Central Commission for Jewry, and Rabbi Max Nussbaum and Dr. Benno Cohn, both directors of the League for Jewish Culture, were taken into custody today by the secret police.

While no specific charges have been lodged against them, it is believed the three men are suspected of being responsible for the "passive resistance" now asserting itself in influential Jewish quarters to the government's "suggestion" that the League for Jewish Culture adopt the Hebrew language as the medium for its cultural activities.

It is reported that Dr. Nussbaum's detention may also be the result of alleged criticisms of a political nature contained in his New Year's sermon last week. Another Berlin rabbi, Dr. Bernard Cohn, was reported temporarily detained by the police for the same reason.

GERMANS MAKE CHOCOLATE BARS OUT OF COAL TAR

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—(AP)—"Chocolate bars," made out of coal tar, appeared today in Berlin confectionaries. They looked like soap, but tasted like chocolate.

There was no attempt by proud synthetic food manufacturers to color the bars brown.

It was the first appearance of "new raw material" since Adolph Hitler, at Nuremberg, announced his four-year plan for a self-sufficient Germany.

Not a Laxative

"The continued use of laxatives and cathartics only aggravates constipation," says a prominent medical authority.

Nujol is an internal lubricant, not a laxative, so cannot gripe. Take Nujol regularly and you will prevent the absorption into the blood of poisons from the constipated bowel.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach, and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle and so natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Just try Nujol regularly for the next month and see if you don't feel better than you ever suspected you could.

Ask your druggist for Nujol and insist on the genuine.

SYNOPSIS.

After 13 years with the Canadian Mounted, Inspector Noel Irving, at 33, finds himself without relative, friend, or career. Noel, in his Winnipeg apartment, receives a midnight call from an engaging young stranger, who will only give his name as Jimmy, and who is being pursued by a gang of desperadoes. Noel tells Jimmy of his discharge from the mounted because of dynamiting the hideout of Frank Rocco, master criminal, not knowing two women were with him. Rocco, as a result, becomes a glorified legend, while Noel is disgraced. Jimmy asks Noel to become his partner in a secret prosperous enterprise. Jimmy is shot and killed while telling his story to Noel. Noel and his friend Sergt. Spencer search for clues as to Jimmy's identity, but find none.

INSTALMENT V.

VENGEANCE SWORN.

As the coroner's physician rose to testify and drew the attention of the room, Spencer slipped a little picture from his pocket and cupped it in his palm so that only he and Noel could see it. A tiny faced snapshot, cut to the size and shape of a silver dollar, the picture was the one bit of evidence which they had kept to themselves, for humane reasons.

"She's not. I've already looked."

"I must say," Spencer commented, "that Jimmy picked a winner for his girl friend. She's downright lovely, Noel."

"His girl friend? Don't jump to conclusions. For all we know, she might be his sister. She resembles him a lot."

"Sister? Did you ever see a fellow carry his sister's picture in his watch case? Neither did I! I'm going to keep an eye on the morgue and on Jimmy's funeral. She might show up."

Noel glanced down again at the tiny photograph; at the black haired beautiful girl looking up at him from the palm of Spencer's hand. She did resemble Jimmy, remarkably. Her hair and eyes were black, like his; her nose and high intelligent forehead seemed feminine counterparts of Jimmy's; the fine glowing vitality about her was like a softened echo of Jimmy's splendid buoyancy.

Spencer proffered him the photograph. "You seem interested. I won't need it any more."

Noel took the picture, crumpled it, tore it to tiny bits; and as Spencer stared at him, astonished, he said:

"That picture was dangerous, Herm. To that girl. It might have got away from us and into the papers. It won't now. Whoever she is or whatever her relationship was to Jimmy, I believe she's of decent sort. If you do contact this girl, shield her. Don't let her get dragged through the notoriety of a murder case."

When the last witness had testified, Superintendent Ostrand rose impressively to his feet.

"Certainly, sir. Go right ahead."

Across the table Noel met the gaze of his former commanding officer. As a division head and a man of prestige, Ostrand could have saved him from the Rocco backfire; but the officer had not lifted a hand to still the public clamor. Though a competent enough administrator, with long years of service at Ottawa, Ostrand had risen to his high rank chiefly because he was a calculating climber who knew how to pull the right wires, choose the right associates, go to the right church social functions, marry right, and always gauge public opinion right. He blew with the main wind; and he was doing that now, in this little courtroom, across the gun and blood stained shirt of the dead Jimmy.

"Irving," he said sternly, "after listening carefully to your account and the other evidence, it is my opinion that you are deliberately withholding information vital to this case."

A ripple of applause passed around the room. Noel sat cold and silent. With a gracious nod to his audience for their approval, Ostrand went on:

"Your story about this midnight phone call, midnight visitor and midnight killers is too flimsy for a man of my experience to believe." Dramatically he pointed an accusing finger. "Noel Irving, you are concealing something about this murder!"

The applause broke out again. Herm Spencer went redfaced with anger at the spectacle of the smug, wealthy Ostrand baiting the penniless and disgraced ex-officer, but Noel himself did not move or change expression.

Exasperated by his silence, Ostrand fired a final threat at him:

"Very well! Since you choose to be recalcitrant, let me warn you that I intend to push this case and arrest those men, and if I discover that you did obstruct justice here, then you're going to suffer the full penalty of the law."

Noel smiled in derision at Ostrand's vow to take that shadowy outfit. On this case Ostrand and the city police and the regular Mounted were hopelessly beyond their depth. That outfit was no city gang, fitting into some ordinary pigeonhole, but a pack of outlanders, strange and unguessable. Whoever picked up their trail would be good, and whoever ran that trail would likely wind up dead, like Jimmy.

The jury filed out, to deliberate their verdict privately. The tense quiet of the room broke, the hum of low voices arose, and Noel went back to that battle within himself.

In vision he saw Jimmy coming across the room to him last evening; felt his strong handclasp and the warmth of his smile; heard the young adventurer calling him "partner." Jimmy had been his guest, killed in his home; and by a law as ancient as the human home itself it was his solemn duty to see that Jimmy was avenged.

He reflected, too, that somewhere in the Dominion there was a pack of men brazen enough, confident enough, disdainful enough of the Mounted, that they had slain a man in the very abode of one who had led the Mounted intelligence for years. They had flung a challenge at the might and the majesty of the law. That challenge must not go unanswered. Somebody had to take up that gage.

In a few minutes the jury shuffled back in with their verdict, and the foreman read it. Of those tedious whereas's and aforesaid's, only six words lingered with Noel—"at the hands of parties unknown." How true those words, he thought. And forever those parties would remain unknown. Like wraiths those men had faded into the mist last night, with a wanton laugh. Today, somewhere, they were alive, in the sunshine; and Jimmy, in that gray old building down the street——

Noel scarcely heard him. In the moments just past he had lost the battle which had been raging within him since last midnight. In bitterness of heart he had sworn that he would never again lay hand to police work or go back into that shadow world where he had wasted thirteen years of his life. But now he had to go back. Inexorably he was driven by conscience and duty and personal vengeance to go after those unknowns. The good sword which he had spent thirteen years in forging and polishing and which he had vowed never to use again—well, he must use it once more, for Jimmy's sake.

Spencer took him by the arm. "Come home with me, Noel. You need a rest. You're done out."

Noel shook his head, slowly. "Thanks, Herm. Before I rest there's a little matter to be attended to."

With a nod of "so long" he turned abruptly and shouldered his way up the crowded aisle for the door.

Three nights later, carrying a dufflebag that contained a few clothes and personal belongings, Noel called around at Sergeant Spencer's home, near one o'clock.

He found Spencer hard at work at a table in the little living room. Tired and harassed, the sergeant was combing through a mass of fingerprint keys, rogue-gallery snaps and various paraphernalia from the Mounted files. On a couch across the room Eleanor Spencer was lying asleep, a blanket over her, a magazine and a half eaten apple on the blanket.

BUTCHERS CUT PRICE OF MEAT FOR WEEK-END

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

There is a tendency for retail food prices to swing back up to their level of two weeks ago. After loading their counters and cases with bargains last week, retail merchants have gone through all departments and marked up most of their food items.

They are offering few bargains to shoppers today and tomorrow except in the meat departments. Butchers have cut their prices on more than the usual number of fresh cuts of pork, lamb, and fish.

Retail butcher shops are beginning to reflect the recent decline in live stock and wholesale meat prices. Most fresh cuts of lamb and pork are cheaper this week than last. Leg of lamb and pork spare ribs are down about 3 cents a pound in many shops and some also have lowered their prices on lamb chops, pork loin roasts, and bulk pork sausage. Several kinds of fresh fish are slightly lower than last week.

Wholesale Meats Down.

Prices of all kinds of live stock and wholesale meats continued their downward trend this week at Union stockyards, according to federal live stock reporters. Live cattle sold steady to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower than last week and some wholesale beef cuts dropped as much as 50 cents a hundred.

The better grades of live hogs went down 15 to 40 cents a hundred pounds and wholesale pork cuts dropped 50 cents to $3 a hundredweight, following a heavy price cut last week.

Farmers got 75 cents to $1 a hundred less for fat lambs than last week. Most kinds of wholesale lamb cuts dropped about $1 a hundred pounds.

Butter Prices Lower.

Butter is lower than a week ago. Most stores have shaved the price of butter 3 cents a pound and a few 4½ cents. Green beans are slightly lower in stores generally, although prices still are considered high.

Potato prices are unsteady. Some stores have reduced the price of Wisconsin whites and Idaho baking potatoes a few cents a peck, and others have marked up their price tags on all kinds of potatoes. There has been a general downward tendency in potato prices on the wholesale market during the last few days. Favorable weather for digging is said to have caused an increase in shipments from Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, and Idaho. Sweet potatoes are slightly lower than last week in most stores.

Head Lettuce Still High.

Head lettuce still is high, and many stores have ceased to handle it. The quality is generally poor. Wholesale prices on lettuce are coming down, and dealers expect them to be back about to normal within a week. The strike in California that has interfered with lettuce shipments for the last three weeks still is unbroken, but a fair volume of the crop is beginning to move again despite the strike.

Fresh tomatoes are cheaper than last week in some stores; wholesale prices dropped during the week. Cabbages and grapefruit are slightly cheaper in a few stores.

Carrots, spinach, fresh peaches, and green peas are higher than a week ago in many stores.

GLAZED APPLE TARTS ARE SIMPLE TO MAKE AND APPEAL TO TASTE

GLAZED APPLE TARTS.

1 cup sugar.
1 cup water.

Pare and core apples and cut into quarters. Over them squeeze the juice from the lemon to prevent discoloring. Cook the sugar and water together for five minutes, and then simmer the apples in the sirup until tender, but not broken. Drain off the juice and to it add several drops of red vegetable coloring. Cook until it becomes very thick. Spread the apple quarters in baked tart shells. Over them pour the thick sugar and water sirup. This, when cooled, will form a jellylike coating.

TOMATO SALADS ADOPT VARIOUS TASTY FILLINGS

Cooking Editor Describes Delectable Stuffings.

"Tips on Tea Parties," a booklet of afternoon tea suggestions, menus, and recipes, is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents. By mail, 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address mail requests to Mary Meade, Chicago Tribune.

BY MARY MEADE.

More beautiful salads don't exist than those made with chilled, peeled, whole tomatoes accompanied by stuffing, filling, or special dressing. And this beauty is not without virtue, for most such salads are even more delightful to the palate than to the eye.

There are a number of ways in which to arrange tomatoes attractively for salads. Let me describe three of them, after which suggestions for "what goes with" will be made.

TOMATOES FOR STUFFING: Select firm, medium sized tomatoes, peel, remove thin slice from top of each, and take out seeds and some of the pulp. Sprinkle inside with salt. Invert and chill for thirty minutes before stuffing is added.

POINSETTIA TOMATOES: Peel firm, medium sized tomatoes, chill, and cut in eighths from the top, not severing sections. Open to represent flower petals and spread out upon lettuce or watercress on individual salad plates. Fill center with thousand island or some other dressing, or with any of the combinations suggested following. Do not use too much filling, or the tomato petals will be concealed.

TOMATOES FOR FILLING: Cut firm, peeled cold tomatoes in parallel slices from top to bottom, not severing sections. Place slices of cucumber, avocado pear, cheese, or spoonful of stuffing between the slices and serve on salad greens with French dressing.

TOMATO SALAD STUFFINGS.

BEETS AND PEAS: Mix equal parts of peas and diced beets with a little diced celery, chopped hard cooked egg, and a dressing of equal parts mayonnaise and chili sauce. Salt and pepper to taste.

CREAM CHEESE: Mash cream cheese and moisten with French dressing. Pack into a mold and chill thoroughly. Slice thinly and place between slices of tomatoes prepared for filling. For stuffing whole tomatoes, the cheese need not be chilled. A mixture of Roquefort and cream cheese also is good this way.

PINEAPPLE-NUT: Mix shredded pineapple with a third the amount of nuts, and moisten with mayonnaise.

CHICKEN SALAD: Combine equal parts of cooked diced chicken, diced celery, and peas. Add a few chopped nuts if desired. Season and blend with mayonnaise.

SARDINES: Break sardines and marinate in mayonnaise. Add one teaspoon lemon juice [to one can sardines], one-half teaspoon horseradish, a few drops of Worcestershire sauce, salt, and cayenne pepper.

OLIVE AND CHEESE: Mix cottage cheese, chopped olives, and tomato pulp, scooped from tomatoes prepared for stuffing, with French dressing to which a sprinkling of mustard has been added.

CELERY AND APPLE: Mix equal parts of finely diced apples and chopped celery with mayonnaise. Nuts may be added if desired.

CAULIFLOWER AND STRING BEANS: Mix equal parts of cooked cauliflower which has been cut in small pieces, with cooked string beans, cut finely. Marinate in French dressing.

Try This Way of Making the Turnip More Tasty

To liven up our old friend the turnip, heat turnip cubes or balls in melted butter to which is added one or two teaspoons of lemon juice, a few drops of onion juice, and one tablespoon or two of minced parsley.

YES, THIS FOOD ENDS YOUR CONSTIPATION

Look out for those half-sick days, when you feel listless, headachy, out-of-sorts. You trouble may be constipation. The real cause of common constipation is too little "bulk" in meals. Your system misses its regular exercise.

Get this needed "bulk" in a delicious cereal. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently sponges out the system.

Why keep on feeling bad when you can feel good? Millions of people use ALL-BRAN. Tests prove it's safe and effective. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. Serve as a cereal, with milk or cream, or cook into recipes. Remember, ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

Certainly you'd rather eat a food than take pills and drugs. Buy ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HOW TO PREPARE TASTY CUTLET OF RICE AND TOMATO

Rice and tomato cutlets for a fall luncheon dish are prepared in this fashion:

- ⅓ cup uncooked rice.
- ¾ cup meat stock or bouillon cube dissolved in boiling water.
- 2 cups canned tomatoes.
- 1 slice onion.
- 1 medium carrot, sliced.
- 1 sprig parsley.
- ⅓ teaspoon salt.
- 2 cloves.
- ¼ teaspoon peppercorns.
- 1 teaspoon sugar.
- 1 egg, slightly beaten.
- ¼ cup grated cheese.
- 1 tablespoon butter.
- Pepper to taste.

Wash rice well to remove loose starch particles. Cook in the boiling stock until rice has absorbed the liquid. Simmer tomatoes 20 minutes with onion, carrot, parsley, thyme, cloves, peppercorns, and sugar. Rub through a strainer and add to rice. Cook until rice is soft. Remove from stove, add egg, cheese, butter and pepper. Cool mixture, then shape in cylinder forms, roll in fine bread crums, dip in beaten egg, and again in crums. Fry in deep fat heated to 390 degrees F. until brown and crisp. Makes eight cutlets.

OVEN-COOKED MEAL SAVES IN TIME AND FUEL

Many Items Baked and Served in One Dish.

Today's article is the first of a series on oven cooked meals. Oven cookery is an economy of both time and fuel, as the oven need be heated only once to bake several dishes. Many of the foods cooked in the oven may be served in the dishes in which they were baked.

Today's menu is as follows:

Stuffed Flank Steak with Carrots and Potatoes
Baked Squash Squares
Jellied Fruit Salad
Rolls, Butter
Pineapple-Gingerbread Upside Down Cake
Coffee

In each article the menu and the necessary recipes are to be given.

STUFFED FLANK STEAK.

- Flank steak
- 2 cups stale bread crums
- 1 medium onion chopped fine
- 2-3 cup chopped celery
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Pepper to taste
- 2 tablespoons meat drippings or butter

Wipe flank steak with a damp cloth and lay it out ready for stuffing. Heat the fat in a frying pan and brown in it the onion and celery. Add the other ingredients and simmer five minutes. If too dry to pack together add a little hot water. Spread the stuffing over the steak, and starting at the side, roll it up like a jelly roll. Tie around firmly in several places with string. Sear on all sides in a little fat in a heavy skillet. When well browned, slip meat into a baking dish, add hot water, cover tightly, and cook in a moderate oven [350 degrees F.] until tender, about one and one-half hours. Add diced potatoes and carrots to the steak during the last hour of cooking.

BAKED SQUASH SQUARES.

Cut a Hubbard squash into squares for serving. Scrape out seeds and fibers and arrange on a baking sheet. Dot with butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake until nearly tender [about one hour], then mince over each square a little parsley. Finish baking for about ten minutes.

It's Easy to Prepare a Minted Pear Salad

For a minted pear salad, simmer fresh pears for 30 minutes, or canned ones for 10 minutes, in a sugar sirup flavored with oil of peppermint and colored with green commercial coloring. Add the coloring a little at a time until the desired shade is obtained. If canned pears are used, the juice from the can may be used; if fresh pears, use a sirup made of equal parts of sugar and water.

TO TENDERIZE LIVERS, SOAK IN BUTTERMILK, THEN STUFF AND BAKE

Pig or beef livers will be tenderized and deliciously flavored when soaked in buttermilk, then stuffed and baked.

STUFFED LIVER.

- 1½ pounds beef liver
- Flour
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 2 apples, sliced
- 6 cooked prunes
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 3 slices bacon

Have liver cut in thick slice. Soak it overnight or for several hours in buttermilk. Cut the liver in the thick side to form a deep pocket, sprinkle the cavity with salt and pepper, fill it with apples and stoned prunes, and dots of butter. Skewer or sew the liver together. Dredge the liver with flour and wrap it with strips of bacon, put it in a baking dish, and add one-half cup of water. Bake for two hours in a moderate oven, about 325 degrees F., basting it occasionally.

"don't put the cart before the horse"

'THAT'S what a neighbor told me when I complained of dingy grey clothes and dull streaked dishes!

'You've got to cut the grease first before the water has a chance to wash the dirt away', was her advice. 'This problem calls for more than an ordinary cleanser . . . you need a grease solvent . . . CLIMALENE!'

I took her tip, sprinkled CLIMALENE into the water before adding my soap flakes!

For the first time I watched a real cleansing combination go to work. I was duly rewarded with snow-white clothes and gleaming dishes!

CLIMALENE not only cut the grease, it cut my working time ½, saved ½ my soap!

Latest Parisian Styles Will Be Shown in Color

Tribune Presents Exclusive Fashion Photos.

Molyneux's evening gown of blue ottoman silk, made with a full skirt and a tiny bodice top with shell pink flowers for contrast, will be shown, with a royal purple cocktail costume, presented by Robert Piquet, using yards of supple purple wool broadcloth in the skirt.

This has a deeply square cut neckline, full sleeves, and covered buttons down the front, together with a new, amusing trim called shark's tooth pointed edging. See the newest version of the postman's hat with a scarf also edged with the shark's tooth trim and the romantic muff made of glossy green leaves and a huge bunch of violets.

These new French fashions were posed exclusively for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE direct from the recent presentations of world famous French designers, and the color pictures were made in Paris by the celebrated Scaioni.

These first color photographs show the exact shades of the newest designs. Also all the typical, inimitable fine details, the inspired originals as only these same designers can achieve. Beauty of fabric, richness of color, and distinctive silhouette, together with new sleeves, short or long, definitly smaller, accented waistlines, are other important details these photographs will portray.

For instance . . . new cloth evening gowns; long, suavely fitted models, of the finest and softest of broadcloth. Wool broadcloth is revived and has spectacularly rocketed high across the fashion skyline. Sophisticated clothes of wool are this season's newest and best excitement whether they are in smart sleek black or any of the jewel-like rich tones of autumn.

Flowers are held over from the success of last spring and summer and are used again for contrast and decoration. Silk or velvet roses, violets, and geraniums are the favorites. Wide full skirts, smoothly fitted over hipline and flared with much distinction from the knees to the floorline or ankleline, in new cocktail or dinner outfits, promise the lavish use of material whether of smooth soft wool or velvet, or swishing yards of silk. Puffed sleeves, with the fullness managed by experts without a sign of bunchiness or clumsiness are also new. Most of them are fitted from either the elbow to the wrist, or from a short distance below the elbow to the wrist. Coat sleeves and the picturesque full sleeves of evening wraps also are accommodatingly full, so that it is an easy matter to wear full sleeved dresses under these new coats.

Cocktail and dinner clothes are almost a complete showing in themselves. These new costumes feature fitted bodices, long sleeves, or the long sleeved short jacket made of the same material as the dress. Most of the jackets button demurely down the front with tiny covered buttons of the fabric used in the costume, fit snugly around a small waistline, giving the effect of a smart two piece affair because of the short peplum. Small hats likewise designed to wear with such a costume are as decorative as they are small, and typically French. Even muffs of anything else but fur are used to complete such after-five ensembles.

French evening gowns flatter any one who wears them. Lots of fullness in the skirts, small waistlines, small tight bodice tops with shoestring shoulder straps. Stiff silks, taffetas, slipper satins, together with old-fashioned ottoman silks so stiff they could almost stand alone, mark a revival of elegance more than welcome after years of skimpy skirts, slinky silhouettes and the severely tailored models.

velvet with under flounces of silk velvet with under flounces of silk, fashion picture book evening gowns. Drop shoulders, invisible shoulder straps of flesh net, clusters of silk flowers or demure buds of gardenias high at neck or tucked among the ruffles or bodice buttons, and full skirts, attached to basque like bodice tops, mark the return of old-fashioned charm in nearly all the French collections.

Overnight Sleeper Plane Service to West Is Offered

American Air Lines yesterday replaced single engine Vultee planes with twin engine Douglas DC-2 transports on all routes between Chicago and Dallas, it was announced by C. R. Smith, president. This change in equipment makes it possible for the air line to offer the first overnight sleeper plane service between Chicago and Los Angeles, by transferring Chicago passengers to the new Douglas sleeper transports at Dallas, Smith said.

Passengers leaving Chicago at 8:40 p. m., will arrive in Dallas at 1:27 a. m., and there can take berths aboard the DC-3 sleeper plane. They will then arrive in Los Angeles at 7:51 a. m., Pacific coast time. There are only three intermediate stops on this flight, St. Louis, Dallas, and Tucson, Ariz. The DC-2s and the sleeper planes both carry 14 passengers.

Ex-Bootlegger for Valentino Is in the Films

An Extra, He Maneuvers Star's Old Auto.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Hollywood, Cal., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—When a British made auto of ancient vintage balked on the set of Merle Oberon's new picture, "Love Under Fire," on the Sam Goldwyn sound stage and baffled the property men, one of the extras got into the car and nonchalantly made it behave.

Player and auto were, it developed, old friends.

The extra was George Murphy. The car was a $3,500 creation that the late Rudolph Valentino had imported.

Murphy explained: "Despite his large salary, Rudy was generally out of ready cash when he wanted it. I used to be a Hollywood bootlegger. This was during prohibition. Valentino was one of my good customers. The day this car arrived in customs he didn't have the necessary $3,500 in hand to take it over. I happened to be making a delivery and lent him the money. Valentino not only returned the money next day but as a sort of interest let me drive the car when I wanted to show off. But I never drove it in my business."

Murphy's own days of big money ended in 1930 and 1931 when two of Hollywood's larger financial institutions collapsed.

Hal Rosson, Jean Harlow's ex-husband, has succeeded William Daniels as head camera man for Greta Garbo in her film "Camille." . . . Daniels had been Garbo's camera man for eleven years. He recently fell ill. . . . Because kids from the neighborhood had been sneaking into her yard and swimming in her patio swimming pool, Frances Langford installed two baby alligators in the pool. No surreptitious bathers have ventured into it since. Jean Hersholt keeps a framed portrait of Lon Chaney in his dressing room. Hersholt thinks Chaney was the greatest of all film actors. A letter from W. C. Fields in Las Encinas sanitarium outside of Pasadena says, "I have thinned down quite a bit and feel better for it." The pain has gone from the long time soreness in the comedian's sacro-iliac and he is now recuperating slowly from the close brush with death when he contracted pneumonia. Fields is clamoring to have his Hollywood friends visit him at the sanitarium, but his two physicians won't permit visitors as yet.

When Bill Powell and Myrna Loy had to leave for location at San Francisco yesterday for sequences in their sequel to "Thin Man," Jean Harlow caught the same train with the couple, giving rise to reports of a new flareup of the once red hot Harlow-Powell friendship. Asked about it, Miss Harlow grinned and said: "I'm going along as chaperon for Myrna." . . . Last Friday was Greta Garbo's thirty-first birthday, and the Swedish star, just getting over an illness that had interrupted her current starring picture, was due to have the birthday celebrated when she returned to the set of "Camille." . . . Instead of this, Miss Garbo sent word that she would appreciate having no birthday celebration of any kind, and the huge bouquet of flowers the working crew had chipped in to buy for her was diverted to one of the hospitals.

Stepping back up the ladder to movie prominence is George Bancroft, now given the character lead in "A Man and a Woman" at Paramount. He shares billing and prominence in this picture with Edward Arnold and Gladys George. The story is by John Bright, who became a scenarist shortly after leaving Senn High school in Chicago, and Robert Tasker. . . . Peter Lorre departs from sinister makeup and weird devilment for his coming story "Crackup" at Twentieth Century-Fox. Brian Donlevy is to be in the story with him. It is a story of heroism on an ocean flight with two flyers who don't get along too well with each other personally. The same studio has bought a story "Women with Wings" from Genevieve Haughan, stunt flyer. . . . Shirley Temple will appear in "Wee Willie Winkle," a Rudyard Kipling yarn, this winter. . . . Constance Bennett presented more than thirty lapel watches to members of the working crew on her recent picture "Ladies in Love."

Rare Christian Relics Are Found in Vault of New Jersey Monastery

Paterson, N. J., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—What is believed to be one of the greatest single collections of Christian relics in existence has been discovered in the archives of the Franciscan order monastery adjoining St. Bonaventure's Catholic church in this city.

It was stated at the monastery today that the church treasure, which was presented to a member of the Franciscan order by the vicar general of Pope Gregory XVI. on Aug. 9, 1843, has lain in the monastery vaults for almost 100 years to be rediscovered recently by accident.

Father Placid Hennessey, O. F. M., spiritual director of the shrine, stated today that the relics are accompanied by the official papal document necessary to make them authentic.

Mother Decides to Get Off Pedestal in Child Relations

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Mothers attending a parent education institute here agreed that it's about time they "climbed down off the pedestal" in dealing with their children. The decision followed the story of a 16 year old girl who was the unwilling recipient of a boy's kiss, told by Miss Flora Lee Sherman, parent education director for the Albany public schools.

The girl blushed painfully, Miss Sherman said, and then asked "for advice on what she should do when she was kissed unwillingly. She added that she couldn't ask her mother because her mother didn't know that boys kissed her at all.

One mother offered the information that she had been partly successful in winning her boys' confidence by telling them "slightly naughty" stories. This, she said, paved the way for them to confess their own indiscretions.

While it might not work in all cases, Miss Sherman said the system had the merit of "removing the pedestal upon which parents are apt to climb."

Here's my Vote for American Family Soap and with it long life to my clothes

—says MRS. R. S. TRAPP

"I cast around a number of years trying to find an economical soap for my laundry. First I bought on price—but never again. Here's my vote for American Family Soap. I found it makes my wash whiter and sweeter-smelling, and that my clothes last much longer."

And here's the secret of the amazing success of American Family Soap. Why it makes washing easier, safer, quicker. Laboratory tests prove that American Family contains as much as one-third more suds-making material than other leading laundry soaps sold in this market. And dissolves almost instantly into rich, creamy, active "DOUBLE SUDS." These "DOUBLE SUDS" work doubly fast—float out the grimiest dirt without hard rubbing—and in utter safety to fabrics. That's the miracle of American Family Soap. Why colors stay true. Why ALL washables keep their life and newness much longer. More women in and around Chicago use American Family than any other brand. Start today to use American Family Soap and prove, beyond any shadow of doubt, that it is cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes. Made by Procter & Gamble.

Comtesse de Lailhacar and her children, Robert and Jacqueline.

Family Reunion

Here for a two month visit with her parents, the Robert H. Cabells, is Comtesse de Lailhacar and with her are her two children, Robert and Jacqueline. This is the children's first visit to America. Before they sail on Oct. 20 for their home in Paris they will go to Colorado Springs with the Cabells for a few weeks. There Patterson Cabell, Mme. de Lailhacar's brother, who lives in Denver, will join them to make the family reunion complete. A number of old friends of Mme. de Lailhacar are entertaining for her while she is here.

Social World Is Ready to Greet Noted Visitors

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE arrival of distinguished or popular—they may be both, of course—visitors always occasions interesting plans for entertaining the guests, so Lake Forest is agog over the impending arrival of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Sidney R. Bailey, who will visit her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. M. Scott Bromwell. Admiral Bailey and his wife, the former Mildred Bromwell of Washington, D. C., have not visited the United States since their marriage in Charlevoix, Mich., in August, 1922, and this will be only a brief visit, for the admiral has just a short leave from his duties with the royal British navy.

The Baileys land at Quebec on Oct. 3, but whether they will come directly to Lake Forest is not known yet by the Bromwells. Mrs. Bailey's mother, Mrs. Charles Bromwell, will return from her summer home at Charlevoix before the visitors arrive. She will be at the Deerpath inn in Lake Forest.

Scott Bromwell and his bride, the former Mari Smith, went abroad on their wedding trip and at that time visited the Baileys at Rickling house, Newport, Essex. The Bromwell-Smith wedding took place in the summer of 1927 in Lake Forest; they have not been to England since, and it has been some years since they have seen the Baileys. Mr. and Mrs. Bromwell are making no definite plans for entertaining their guests until after they arrive.

Lady Burney's Old Friends Attend Dinner.

Lake Forest is in somewhat of a whirl now with plans for entertaining another English visitor—an American born one, though—whose husband is an officer in the British navy. The visitor is Lady Burney, who surprised her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Henry High, by flying into Chicago Tuesday night instead of arriving by train on Wednesday. The round of parties that will keep Lady Burney busy during the month she is here started last night, when the Highs entertained about fifty of her old friends at the regular Thursday dinner-dance at the Onwentsia.

Most of those in the party had known the especial guest, the former Glady High, ever since she was a little girl, so it was a very jolly party with that touch of charming informality that such reunions are apt to have. Some of those whom Mr. and Mrs. High had invited were their other daughter, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen Jr., and Mr. Bowen, the James B. Forgans, the DeForest Hulburds, the John A. Kings, the Paul Moyers, the John T. McCutcheons, the Curtis Munsons, the Philip Pecks, and the Edward H. Bennetts.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McGann have returned from Santa Barbara, where they had been for some months, and are at the Lake Shore Drive hotel.

The Charles Breasteds, who had been in Chicago for several days on their way east from the west coast, left yesterday for New York where they will spend the winter.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Bissell are moving today from 5755 Kenwood avenue to 1359 East 57th street.

The apartment that the Bissells are giving up will be occupied by young Joseph T. Ryerson and his bride, the former Maria Ducey of Boston, who are arriving in Chicago Sunday from their wedding trip. They were mar-

Plan to Revive Music Festival on North Shore

N. U. Trustees Head Move; Dr. Stock Engaged.

Organization of the Northwestern University Festival association to revive and carry on the famous annual spring music festivals, formerly sponsored by the Chicago and North Shore Festival associations, was announced yesterday by a group of Northwestern trustees in coöperation with a number of Chicagoans who are deeply interested in music.

Dr. Frederick Stock, conductor of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, has been engaged by the new association. Dr. Stock will serve as director of the festival. He will be assisted by John W. Beattie, acting dean of the music school of Northwestern university, and by Glen Cliffe Bainum.

The festival will be given as before in Patten gymnasium. Present plans schedule the festival for the second or third week in May, 1937. There will be four performances, three at night, and one for children on a Saturday afternoon. There will be one choral performance, one orchestra and artists' night, one children's festival, and one opera night. Leading artists will be engaged.

Among the outstanding organizations that will participate will be the Northwestern University chorus of 1,500 voices; the a cappella choir, founded by the late Peter C. Lutkin, dean of the Northwestern university music school and the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

The Northwestern University Festival association is officially sponsored by Northwestern university. It may therefore be considered a university institution.

The former organization, the Chicago and North Shore Festival association, is now being liquidated. It produced spring festivals annually for twenty-four years until 1932. It was financially successful. In 1932, for the first time in its history, it called upon the guarantors.

During its long sponsorship, the old organization gained national fame for its programs.

"The Northwestern University Festival association will restore the festival that was for so many years produced by the Chicago and North Shore Festival associations," said a spokesman for the new association last night. "It will maintain the same high standard in music."

The new association has the cordial support of officials of the old North Shore association.

ONE of the legends about the district known as the Caroline hills in New York state that Carl Carmer overlooked in his "Listen for a Lonesome Drum" concerns the "hillside" or "Caroline" cows. "Hillside" cows were animals put to graze in the Caroline hills. As the sun coursed from east to west the cows grazed round and round the hills each day, always keeping in the shade. As a result the legs on one side of the animals became shorter than on the other.

Then, as Caroline valley became more thickly populated, it became necessary for the farmers to cultivate the hillsides, and the men, working all day on the steep, hilly land, developed a shortness in one leg. These tales come from Esther Palmer, who sends on a recipe for a local drink many of the farmers still quaff while working in the field on hot days. It is called "Swizzle" and the recipe follows:

Take one good-sized brown jug and pour in one part vinegar, two parts molasses and three to four parts water. Shake well and drink as much as you can hold. A sure thirst quencher.

THE story of the cows and the farmers with legs of unequal length because of their days spent on hilly land brings to mind a suggestion made in a delightful book we once read called "The Happy Traveler," a copy of which we should like to acquire. It was written by an English vicar, who was fond of traveling and who accumulated a fund of homely, naive travel "helps." One of them was a tip to walkers. Should you be walking on a cambered road be sure to walk first on one side and then on the other, he counseled. In this fashion you will wear down the heels of your boots evenly.

EARLY this month two middle-aged Cub fans of Swedish extraction came to Chicago from Moline to see the Cubs play. They miscalculated the time, with the result that they were an hour late and arrived at the ball park during the seventh inning, with no score. The elder of the two gentlemen, gazing at the score and seeing naughts for the seven innings, sighed with relief and commented to his companion, "It's all right. We haven't missed anything yet."

WHILE motoring through the hills of Kentucky a group of motorists, including Merle Challoner of Chicago, stopped in a little town in search of food. The one restaurant was closed and a sign proclaimed "Out for lunch. Be back at 1." So the party, hungry and thirsty, traipsed down the road to an old farmhouse. They asked the farmer's wife if she could fix them up with a snack of food, and, reflecting for a moment, she agreed. They would have to wait about a half hour because she didn't have nuthin' fit to eat in the house, she added. In that length of time they sat down to crisp fried ham, fried chicken, rashers of bacon, apple pie, hot biscuits, jellies, milk, and eggs.

"Would 35 cents apiece be too much?" she ventured after some hesitation.

But will in promise, or when

In second and in third a shall

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Indian summer is all very well for the poets, but it's a season when all too many of us are apt to feel like that poor, well known last rose of summer. We want new clothes, a new face, a new hairdo and a new figure. Just the urge to get set for a swell season.

We wouldn't know how you'd go about getting the clothes—but the rest is comparatively simple. We do know how you can get what might pass for a new face. It's all done with the aid of a mask that just came to the beauty market. We tried it first in a beauty treatment, then went around all day and evening dazzling our friends and even our enemies [female] with our radiance of complexion.

Then, just to make sure this wasn't all some magic in a beauty operator's fingers, we tried it at home and got some willing guinea pigs to do likewise. The findings: It's a lulu for the quick pickup when you're tired and your skin is too.

It's a cream. It doesn't harden as it's left on the skin, which should be for fifteen or twenty minutes. It retains its pink creaminess. It's rather a peppy mask. You'll feel your skin tingle—but don't let this disturb you because it's stimulation your skin needs. Like all masks it's used after cleansing, with the skin entirely free of grease.

Then it's patted on. To really do yourself, as well as your complexion, some good you should lie back, relax and think sweet, unworried thoughts during the ensuing fifteen minutes. It comes off easily—and after it your skin takes makeup beautifully and looks and feels absolutely radiant.

By all means look this up if you're bored with your dull complexion.

Charm of Silk Still Very Real, Shoppers Find

Its Rustle Is Feminine and Provocative.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The rustle of silk . . . still the most provocatively feminine "swish" imaginable. Silk gowns that rustle so alluringly with every move, crackling stiff silk taffeta slips or flounced petticoats under thin wool for daytime, under clinging satin, full skirted evening gowns. Silk combined with velvet, silk gowns that swing under short fitted jackets of velvet, that are in turn lined with whispering taffeta.

Full skirted picture book silk satin evening gowns, with tiny bodices, with small waistlines subtly accented with the lavish yardage in the skirts. The same idea in silk velvet with the long full skirt scalloped around the hemline to show the lovely gleaming silk satin lining or facing mostly in contrasting color.

The newest and most exciting evening fashions are the indescribably beautiful cloth evening models, but inevitably somewhere, somehow silk is used. If not in the under slip you hear, but do not see, then in the lining of the coat, the lining of the short jacket, the facing on the cascading side draperies, or as the flashing contrast somewhere in the draped bodice top, or suavely tied belt sash or deftly tied bow at the neckline.

Silk afternoon dresses are miracles of artistry from the complicated new draped skirts, the daringly full new sleeves and the fitted princess streamline . . . and they're dresses so distinguished, so subtle and so revealing in silhouette, that only the most pliable of materials can be used. These include all of the new "drapable" heavy all-silks, the silks of dull textures of supersmooth weaves, the newly revived superbly smart cantons and the heavy, heavy lustrous silk satins.

Only all-silk can achieve the stately beauty of draping, of fullness without bunchiness, of soft flattering feminine clothes without a hint of trying sharpness or boardiness. Only all-silk can fashion dresses that are created "undated" that hang in the same lyrically lovely lines after countless trips to the cleaners, that retain exquisite color after weeks of wearing, that remain fresh and distinctive when you reluctantly replace them with other silks of different color or contrast. Ask for all-silk; wear all-silk, for lingerie, for smart daytime and evening clothes, for costume accessories, blouses, and crisp effective costume hats.

Fashion photograph . . . featured during Silk week. A perfect example of the newest silhouette, a full skirted slim waisted model of black silk taffeta. The neckline is heart shaped and accented with silk flowers. The long unusual gloves are of silk lamé.

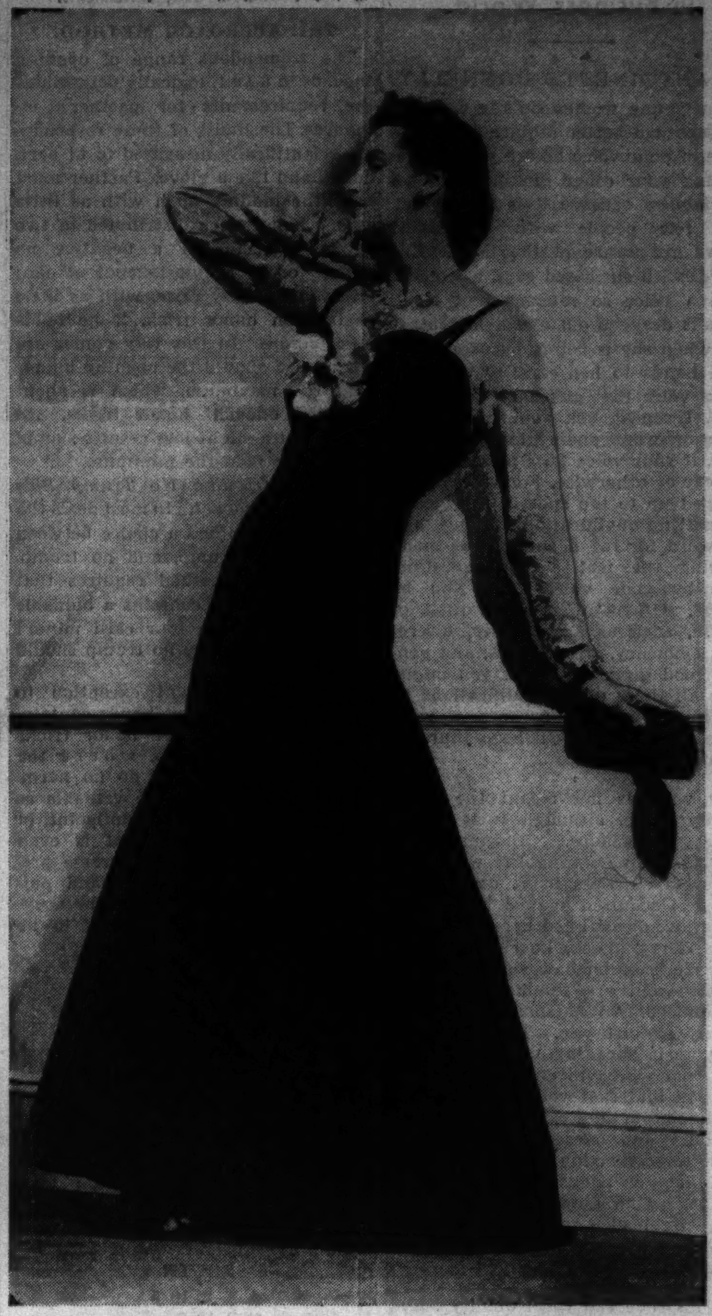
New Silk Fashions



New princess silhouette full skirt and slim waisted is this dress. The material is rustling black silk taffeta, with the heart shaped neckline, silk flowers for contrast and long gloves of silk lame.

Voice Is Major Asset in the Hunt for Jobs

Pleasant Quality Desired in Business World.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

You young women on the warpath for jobs had better inquire about the state of your voice before you go presenting your other qualifications. I say inquire because it is a sad fact that few people with unpleasant voices are aware of the fault. I've heard, with surprised ears, a woman, with a voice so raucous that it always is dragged out and held against her when she is being discussed, say, with hands to her ears: "What an awful voice that girl has!"

So, I repeat, ask your best friend and your worst enemy, for certainty's sake, if your voice falls pleasantly on the ear or otherwise. For voices have stepped up to top spot in this year's job getting qualifications. Don't take my word for it. A survey was made proving the fact, beyond question, that by your voice shall you be scored. Other things are wanted, of course, such as adaptability, discretion, efficiency, smart dress, and general good grooming. But you might have all these other qualifications in top form and still, because of your voice, be told: "We'll keep your application on file!"

By voice is not meant the tonal quality alone, although it is of infinite importance. Pronunciation matters. For running her words together, a shiftless habit one particular girl acquired against her better education, disqualified her for a good post. The "knock, knock" game is an ear opener on how words may be jumbled and are jumbled and mispronounced. "Whatsmatters" weigh heavily against you. There are too many girls speaking well bred English from whom to choose.

If you find that you have tonal or pronunciation faults, or both, simply get busy and overcome them. For the latter correction you have a wide open field of books you can get in the library to guide you. You can buy little books quite inexpensively showing the commonest mispronunciations.

To improve the vocal quality itself you may have to take a few instructions in breathing and breath control, on how to lower the tone from nasal deliverance to diaphragm and throat. In the aforementioned books you will find instructions on how to clear up a number of the vocal faults. You will have to find the way somehow to gain the voice that business wants.

Yom Kippur Services Begin Tonight and Continue Tomorrow

After 10 days of penitential fasting following the celebration of New Year's day, or Rosh Hashanah, Jews throughout the city will begin to observe Yom Kippur, or day of atonement, at sundown tonight. The feast, together with prayers and meditations, will continue until sundown tomorrow night.

Yom Kippur is known in the Bible as the "Sabbath of Sabbaths," when repentance for sin is emphasized. Traditional music to be heard in all temples during the day will be climaxed by that of the Kol Nidre which will open all services.

Yom Kippur services in the Chicago Loop Orthodox synagogue, 16 South Clark street, will begin at 6 p. m. Services will be held all day Saturday beginning at 8 a. m.

The day is also marked by memorial services for those who have died.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, the "Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily instalments.

THE APPROACH METHOD.

The tremendous range of opening one-bids in a suit, logically determines the requirements for partner's responses. The limits of these responses are scientifically measured to fit partner's hand like a glove. Partner must keep the bidding open with as little as one honor trick distributed in two suits by means of a negative no trump; or by a suit takeout of one; or, by a courtesy raise, with as little as half an honor trick, if he holds four trumps. In this way games are not missed should the opening bidder hold the maximum, which is about five and one-half honor tricks. No loss or but a slight loss results should the opener hold the minimum.

Putting Opening No Trump Bids Into a Strait-Jacket. In most deals the opening hand offers a choice between some suit as trump, and no trump. The approach method requires that whenever a hand contains a biddable suit [be it only a four card minor] the suit and not the no trump should be chosen.

The only important exception to this rule is a range of hands containing about four to five honor tricks and 4-3-3-3 distribution, where the opening no trump can do no harm. In fact, it becomes quite valuable as a limit bid from the standpoint of honor strength; and, what is even more important, for its extreme precision in delineating the hand pattern 4-3-3-3. [There are other exceptions of minor importance, to be described later.]

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 no trump	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

The bidding was bad. North should have passed to one no trump, but even after he erred in taking out to two hearts, South was not strong enough to jump to three no trump. Two no trump or two spades would have been ample.

West opened the four of diamonds; East's ten went to declarer's jack. The queen of hearts was led and both West and East ducked. The ten of hearts was taken by West's king, and since West could not be sure but that declarer had left the A 9 7 of diamonds, he shifted to his fourth highest spade. East took the ace and then, instead of ridding himself of the heart ace as though it were a plague, he returned the seven of diamonds. Declarer ducked; West won and continued the suit. Declarer took the ace; cashed the king and queen of spades, effectively robbing East of exit cards, and then brutally led a heart! East now had to play the ace and could return nothing but a club. Thus, dummy's club queen miraculously became an entry for the two established hearts.

Obviously, had East led out the heart ace while he still had plenty of exit cards, the contract would have been defeated two tricks, since dummy could never have gained the lead for its good heart tricks.

About half of the elimination and throw-in plays owe their success to trapping an opponent with a card that he should have played at an earlier stage.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Declarer scooped in a trick so quickly I couldn't see my partner's card. Was I not entitled to ask him what he had played?

Answer: According to the letter of the law, once a trick has been turned it may not be examined, but, as a matter of fact, every player should be given a reasonable opportunity to see the cards played to a trick.

ried on Aug. 1 in Northeast Harbor, Me., and passed through Chicago the next week on their way to California. They now are in New York, having gone there via the Panama canal. Until their south side apartment is ready, the young couple will be with his parents in their Astor street home.

Foreign Relations Group Will Open Season Today.

At the opening luncheon of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations today in the grand ballroom of the Palmer house Clifton M. Utley will speak on "Germany in 1936." Mr. Utley, director of the council, has just returned from a three month European trip, and will compare conditions in Germany today with those of a year ago as he observed them then.

Seated at the speakers' table will be Adlai E. Stevenson, president of the council, and Mrs. Stevenson, Robert L. Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Paul B. Magnuson, Mr. and Mrs. Laird Bell, Mr. and Mrs. David L. Shillinglaw, Mr. and Mrs. Lessing Rosenthal, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Mowrer, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Austin, Elmer Stevens, Harry D. Gideonse, and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Eitel.

Among those who have made reservations for the luncheon are Mr. and Mrs. J. Waller Marshall, René Weiller, French consul general; Mrs. Mitchell D. Follansbee, Mrs. Henry M. Dawes, Stuart H. Otis, Mrs. Stanley Keith, Mrs. Silas H. Strawn, Mrs. M. Scott Bromwell, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Ingram, Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, Mrs. Hubert Burnham, Mrs. Wilhelm L. Baum, James H. Douglas Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William P. Sidley, Robert Hall McCormick, and Victor Elting.

Plan Benefit Show for Children's Camps.

Those women who are interested in the Emily Lehmann Peacock camp for crippled children at Lake Villa are sponsoring a benefit the evening of Oct. 9 at the Deerpath theater. The motion picture, "The Return of Sophie Lang," with Sir Guy Standing and Gertrude Michael, will be shown, and there will be a fashion show.

Mrs. Stanley Morrill, Mrs. William K. Meyers, Miss Barbara Morse, Mrs. Sidney Strotz, Miss Katherine McLennan, Miss Betty Longstaff, and Miss Hope Leonard will model the newest in fall fashions. Mrs. Theodore S. Proxmire is chairman of the benefit, and Mrs. Lithgow Mitchell is handling publicity. The camp provided 32 children from the Home of Destitute and Crippled Children with a holiday in the country this summer.

The trained deer who rides in a car and can turn off the light or the radio will be among the varied attractions of the country fair that is taking place today and tomorrow at the Ridge Country club.

The Ridge Service guild is sponsoring the event again this year as a benefit for the Morgan Park Home for Dependent Children, and Mrs. Richard Irwin is chairman, with Mrs. A. J. T. Bennett Jr., Mrs. Frederick W. Turner, Mrs. James A. Griffin Jr., Mrs. G. A. Freeman Jr., Mrs. R. H. Pease, Miss Betty Roby, and Mrs. Henry M. Kline among those assisting at the head of committees.

There will be a baby contest, a canning contest, a vegetable show, fortune telling, games and pony rides for the children, and the true highlight of the fair, motion pictures of Beverly Hills and Morgan Park residents. Sam, the accordion player, will stroll about the grounds making music, and a luxurious dollhouse will be on display. Mrs. John McKinlay Jr. is president of the auxiliary.

Alliance Arranges for October Bridge Tea.

The Chicago and North Shore branch of the Southern Women's Educational Alliance will meet on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William M. Riach in Evanston to discuss plans for a bridge tea the organization is giving on Tuesday, Oct. 13, at the Patten house in Evanston.

In past seasons members of the alliance and their friends have opened their homes at different times in the fall for similar parties, but this year there will be just one large party. The money raised goes into a fund for the education of rural young people in the south. The Patten home will accommodate 600 bridge players. Mrs. George Lawrence Wilkinson, in whose Evanston garden the benefit committee has been meeting this summer, is honorary chairman of the party, and Mrs. J. Louis Rubel is active chairman. Mrs. William Allen Pusey is honorary president of the Chicago branch of which Mrs. Robert M. Jeffries of Highland Park is president this year.

A night on shipboard is in prospect for members of the junior auxiliary of La Rabida Jackson Park sanitarium and their friends who attend the organization's annual benefit ball Saturday, Oct. 10, at the Lake Shore Athletic club.

Tickets are in the form of an embarkation certificate on the S. S. Queen Mary. Arriving guests will cross a gangplank, and some of the sports popular on trans-Atlantic liners will be included in the program of entertainment.

Arrangements for the dinner-dance are in the hands of Miss June Manson, general chairman, and Mrs. Harry Winston, co-chairman.

Chairmen of subcommittees are Mrs. Louis E. Mohr, Mrs. Kurt Groener, Mrs. Earl Conant, Mrs. Robert Riley, Mrs. C. W. Henkle, and Miss Frances Flavin. Proceeds of the party will be used to maintain the children's ward of the auxiliary.

Mrs. George B. Dryden has offered the use of the ballroom in her handsome Evanston home to the Evanston Wells club where the club will hold a series of lectures beginning on Oct. 28 and continuing for three successive Wednesday mornings. Clifton Utley will talk on current events.

Mrs. Charles F. Hemenway and Mrs. Charles A. Bunnell are co-chairmen for ticket sales in Evanston. Mrs. Arthur Walsh will sell tickets in Winnetka, and Mrs. C. Lysle Smith will take charge of tickets in Glencoe. Mrs. Donald M. Pattison, vice president of the Evanston Wells club, who lives in Highland Park, will handle ticket sales for that suburb. Mrs. E. Mann Hartley is president of the club.

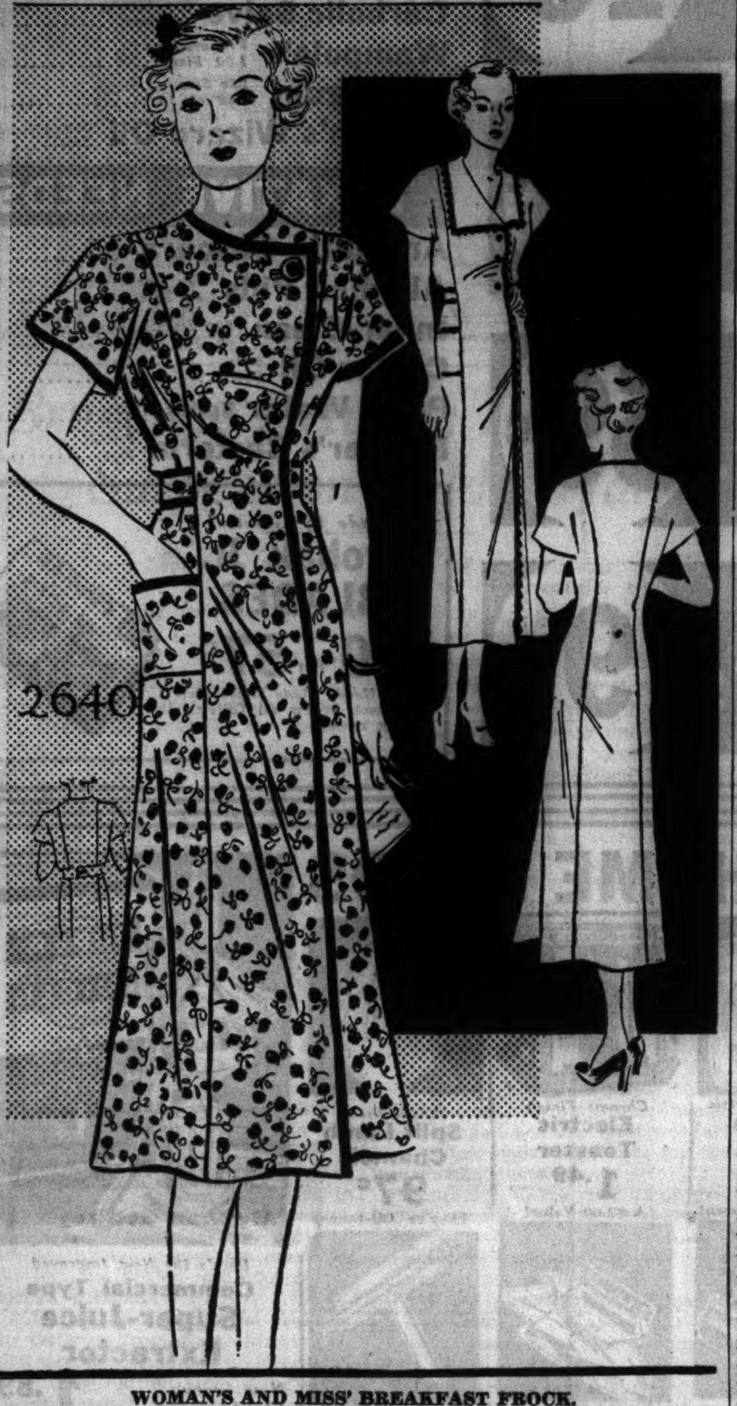
Practical Wrap-Around Lines



WOMAN'S AND MISS' BREAKFAST FROCK.

This trimly tailored little wrap-around model is perfect for early morning wear and for household duties all through the day. It is comfortably although smartly styled, is easy to put on and take off, and delightfully simple to launder.

A housewife wearing this frock need not be self-conscious in receiving impromptu callers. They will find her attractively, neatly, and smartly attired. This little dress also is an ideal one to slip on over your "good" dresses when you are playing hostess. It wraps around and keeps every inch of your party dress covered.

The dress, by virtue of its adjustable belt, always fits the figure perfectly. In the original it is made of chintz cotton with colorful bias binding for trimming. Plain cottons with rickrack braid for contrast also are appropriate and serviceable.

Style No. 2640 is designed for sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 4⅛ yards of 39 inch material, with 7¼ yards of binding.

Matrimonial Chances Slim at Age of 40

Woman Optimist to Think Charms Will Endure.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Not long ago we presented in this column Leona's letter, in which, at 36, she reported herself as a "defeated" human being, with little worth while to look back upon and less to look forward to. Her plight was, in her own words, that she'd frivoled her best years away, thinking her popularity would outrun the usual term allotted the single woman.

In response, today we present a curious communication from one Valencia, on which you readers may write your own conclusions. It would be interesting to hear what some of your opinions are. So, if you feel like commenting, please do so.

We'll boil Valencia's response down to the barest outline.

"I'm a young woman 30 years young and feel that I have a lifetime before me yet and still can give the youngsters from 20 on a swift run for their money when it comes to competition. I have a string of beaux, smart numbers, too, who, at the crook of my little finger, will come a leapin'. I would be a candidate for the nut factory now if I had married the man of my dreams at 20. At 24 I had a terrible time climbing out of the pit over a second love affair. If I came face to face with either man today I would laugh out loud.

"From 30 to 40 is a woman's marvelous age. She has complete control of her emotions and, if she wishes to marry, she does so intelligently. There always are three or four men at her elbow waiting for her, men who are dependable, substantial, and understanding. As for me, I know I will be different at 36, a great deal different. I'm going to be even better. I haven't missed any of the normal things of life except, perhaps, children. But I will escape the romantic love match and also escape the turbulence and misunderstanding and heartaches that go with such. At 40 I shall calmly accept one of my serene companions. In the interim I'm having a grand time and trying to absorb all the things that seem to me worth while."

O, yea, Valencia? You have it all mapped out, haven't you? You're certain about that 40 year old opportunity? Maybe you'll win, but we doubt it. Simply because you will be a woman with a lively past and a long, cultivated, personal absorption, all of which is not very salable in the matrimonial market.

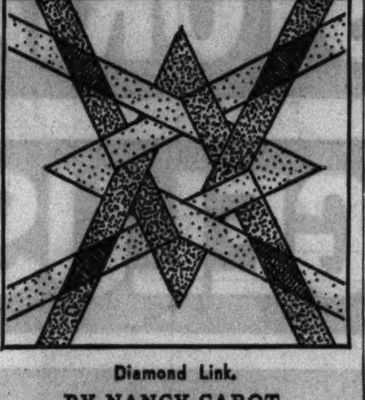
Simple Applique Quilt Appears as Difficult Design

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: 1 South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.



Diamond Link.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Frances Maddux, Night Club Singer, Is Married

Rumson, N. J., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Frances Maddux, New York actress and night club singer, and Paul William Reese, treasury department employé in Washington, were married late today at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Belmont.

The couple postponed plans for a Mediterranean honeymoon until spring, saying that for the present the bride would remain in New York and the bridegroom in Washington, except for flying trips to New York for week-ends. The singer was formerly married to John P. Martin of Chicago.

Regularity Is Best for the Younger Child

Too Much Variety Upsets His Little World.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

The young child thrives on regularity. The idea that variety is the spice of life is more acceptable to him when he's older. Although a child's life may seem uneventful to us, it is full of variety for him because such little things loom so large on his horizon.

Too much of the unexpected is not good for the young child.

His world, you see, is new. Even in the ordinary course of events it is full of surprises, falls, bumps, as well as new physical sensations and new emotions as the result of his developing powers and his eagerness to adventure. He has plenty of change without our supplying it.

What he needs from us is, on the whole, regularity, but even this should not become a fetish. I've known children who were kept so rigidly on schedule that any deviation from it was quite devastating to them. For instance, they were allowed to see only one person at a time [outside the family] and only at stated intervals, with the result that an unexpected guest overexcited them to an extreme degree. So we mustn't schedule children within an inch of their lives, but regularity they must have.

Regularity and familiarity help give the baby and younger child a sense of security they so need.

Regularity also saves a tremendous amount of energy on the part of the mother, and the child, too, for that matter. We know our baby or little child has to eat, to sleep, to be bathed. What a waste of strength and emotion to have to argue daily about these things!

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

We have fully written leaflets on the three routines—eating, sleeping, and elimination. A large, stamped, self-addressed envelope is required for each one.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in the Sunday Tribune.

Art Objects Worth Millions Shown at British Antique Fair

LONDON, Sept. 24.—[Havas.]—Art objects worth many millions of dollars were viewed by a throng of distinguished visitors today when Earl and Countess Athlone opened the third antique dealers' fair at Grosvenor house. All the United Kingdom's important antique dealers were represented among the 107 exhibitors. The exhibits include furniture, silver, china, glass, jewelry, paintings, and miscellaneous art objects, all of them made before 1830.

Among the outstanding exhibits are a silver mace used in the Irish parliament from 1765 until its dissolution in 1801; a beadwork wallet made by Queen Mary for King William III.; a pair of diamond and emerald earrings which belonged to Marie Antoinette, and many fine examples of Chippendale, Adam, Heppelwhite, and Sheraton furniture. Lord Louis Mountbatten, Viscountess Snowden, and Lady Sasson were among the visitors today.

Fall Season Is Opened by British Association

It was founded more than 40 years ago. Approximately 80 attended last night's meeting.

Actor Ratoff Gets Citizenship Papers —and Buys a Drink

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Gregory Ratoff, the actor with the Black sea accent, became a United States citizen today.

"Hey!" he yelled to bystanders as he left the federal building, "they made me a citizen. I can vote. Let's all get a drink."

"Say!" he exclaimed, "they forgot to ask me questions! I was ready to answer about the legislative, the executive, the judicial. The legislative is making the laws——"

He was enthusiastic about Judge Alfred C. Coxe, who gave him his citizenship papers, too. "I will vote for him some time," he said.

"Federal judges are appointed," he was reminded.

$500,000 BID BY A SYNDICATE IN LOS ANGELES

Jacobs Wants It for Atlantic City.

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—There is a strong possibility that James J. Braddock, world heavyweight champion, may fight Joe Louis in a no-decision contest in February, several months before he is scheduled to defend his title against Max Schmeling next June.

This developed today when the champion and his manager, Joe Gould, received offers from two sources for bouts with Louis. One of these came from Mike Jacobs, promoter for the Twentieth Century Sporting club and Herman Taylor, Philadelphia promoter, who together staged the Louis-Ettore fight last Tuesday night.

Offer Braddock $500,000.

They offered the champion 50 per cent of the gate receipts and $10,000 for training expenses, to meet Louis in Convention hall, Atlantic City on Feb. 22. Convention hall will seat upwards of 40,000 persons and it was figured this would offer a big enough seating capacity to make the promotion successful.

The other offer came from a syndicate of Los Angeles promoters. It offered Braddock a guarantee of $500,000 to meet Louis in a twelve round bout in the stadium where the 1932 Olympic games were held. This fight, if accepted would also be scheduled for February, probably on the 22d.

Gould Favors Los Angeles.

Joe Gould, manager of Braddock, was sincerely interested in both offers but was frank in saying that the offer from Los Angeles had the greater interest for him.

It was pointed out that under the rules of the California boxing commission no decisions are rendered in twelve round bouts. Thus Braddock would not be jeopardizing his title except in the event of a knockout, in which public opinion would render the verdict against him.

John Roxborough, one of the managers of Louis said that he was willing to sign Louis for a fight with Braddock anywhere that suited the champion and was not particular against financial angles.

RODAK WINS DECISION

Leo Rodak won a disputed decision over Armand Sicilia, Springfield, Ill., featherweight, in a ten round bout at White City last night. Referee Norman McGarity scored 53-47 and Judge Harry Hall 54-46 for the former Chicago Golden Gloves champion, and Judge Frank L. Jackson voted 51-49 for Sicilia. Rodak weighed 124 pounds, two less than his rival from Springfield. Armand suffered a cut behind the ear in the seventh round.

Chet Le Vere beat George Geohagen in a five round bout. Ray Drake, substitute for Gene Higgins, defeated Lou Naseef in another contest at five rounds. Rolla Taylor beat Frankie White and Mike Krismis trounced Mickey O'Shea.

MACPHAIL DENIES HE IS PLANNING TO BUY BROWNS

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Larry S. MacPhail, who recently resigned as general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, today denied reports that he is seeking to purchase the St. Louis Browns. MacPhail said he had no plans for the future.

"My resignation does not take effect until Nov. 1," he said, "and I am not giving any thought to future plans at this time."

Brundage Returns; Defends Suspension of Mrs. Jarrett

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the American Olympic committee, returned today from Europe aboard the liner Vulcania. Subjected to a barrage of questions on the dismissal of Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett, he steadfastly defended the committee's action in dropping the backstroke swimmer from the team for breach of training regulations.

"There was no choice," Brundage said. "Twenty of the leading sports authorities in America sat in judgment on the case, carefully examined the evidence and unanimously followed the only possible course."

Doesn't Want Reëlection.

Brundage announced that he did not intend to seek reëlection as president of the American Athletic union, an office which he has held six times. He was elected to represent the United States on the international Olympic committee while at Berlin and will confine his activities to that office.

By way of giving emphasis to the difficulties of nonpaid executives in this country's amateur athletic activities, Brundage revealed that his duties as Olympic committee president had left him $10,000 to $15,000 out of pocket, personally.

Although he received the brunt of the criticism from sympathizers with Mrs. Jarrett, Brundage declared that actually he did not vote in the meeting at which it was decided to drop her from the American team.

Reviewing the Mrs. Jarrett case from all angles at the request of his interviewers, Brundage stated the swimming star's first breach of discipline had evoked an official warning. The second outbreak definitly settled her status.

Mrs. Jarrett, along with all the other members of the Olympic squad, signed an individual pledge to observe the training regulations set down by the committee before sailing. Brundage produced the pledge signed by the swimmer.

Brundage stated that a majority of the hundreds of letters and cablegrams he had received concerning the case upheld the committee's act.

Outside of this one untoward incident, Brundage described the 1936 American team as "the finest in history and the best conducted."

Queried on the suspension of Jesse Owens for refusing to go through with a scheduled post-Olympic barnstorming trip, Brundage said, "I was not present at the time of Owens' suspension and know little about the case. I am sorry to hear of his difficulty, for Jesse was a fine, well mannered boy and a great performer."

Financing Big Flaw.

The one big flaw in America's marshaling of its 1936 Olympic forces was financial, according to Brundage. "I am prepared to urge that we start immediately collecting funds for the 1940 games," he said.

Elaborating on the conduct of Mrs. Jarrett aboard the liner Manhattan, which carried the Olympic team to Germany, Brundage said:

"Mrs. Jarrett was rooming with two young girl swimmers, one 15 and the other 16. Suppose you had a young daughter on the swimming team.

"Why," Brundage exclaimed, "one man wrote that he had his 15 year old daughter with him at a movie when a news reel was shown with Mrs. Jarrett speaking and advocating champagne as a training diet. This father said he was flabbergasted and ashamed."

He was returning from Italy, where he and Mrs. Brundage had been vacationing since the Olympic games. Daniel J. Ferris, executive secretary of the A. A. U., met him.

Wisconsin Spirit at New High, but Time Must Tell the Story

BY WILFRID SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Sept. 24.—It may be that Coach Clark Shaughnessy of Chicago was thinking of Wisconsin when he said the Maroons will lick some one this year. Perhaps, Harry Stuhldreher, Wisconsin coach, in his secret thoughts also has designs on the Maroons. Right now, however, two days from the opening of the 1936 campaign the Badgers fear South Dakota State.

Stuhldreher won't even give a thought to Marquette, drilling diligently at Milwaukee, and hoping to repeat last year's smashing victory over Wisconsin. He won't consider Purdue, or Notre Dame, Chicago, Northwestern, Minnesota, or even Cincinnati, which whipped Indiana one year ago.

Fear South Dakota State.

Stuhldreher and the Badgers fear South Dakota State. Last year these prairie lads licked Wisconsin, 13 to 6, and began the series of defeats which was climaxed in a furor that saw two coaches fired, and during which the Western conference threatened to oust the Badgers from the Big Ten.

All is quiet on the Lake Mendota front. The faculty committee, the board of regents and the alumni have made their peace. The Big Ten faculty committee has approved the love feast. But it remains to be shown if the folks will survive the honeymoon and live happily ever after.

For permanent improvement in Wisconsin athletics more is needed than application of the timeworn formula of "fire the coach." Plainly speaking, Wisconsin doesn't have and hasn't had grade one material. Wisconsin probably won't attract better athletes until the spirit of coöperation now in evidence has been tested more severely with favorable results.

Dissatisfied Spirit Is Gone.

The boys who will represent Wisconsin Saturday afternoon are, in the main, the same lads who lost seven games last fall and finished in a whirlwind argument with their coaches.

That unruly, dissatisfied spirit is gone. This is certain. The Badgers have the will to win.

No squad ever has gone through a more rigorous training period. There's been almost a crusader's touch to the drills as if this squad would give the lie to those who intimated last year it didn't have what it takes when the going was rough.

Lose Seven, but Whip Purdue.

These boys lost seven games, yet they whipped Purdue, 8 to 0, in one of the major upsets of the season. In 1934 Wisconsin lost four games, but the Badgers tripped Illinois, 7 to 3, and knocked the Illini out of the Big Ten championship. So, perhaps, it is not too much to ask that Wisconsin start this season with a victory over South Dakota State.

The handicaps are many. Stuhldreher never has seen any of these players under fire. Injury and illness have beset the varsity. Ineligibility has eliminated others permanently. The team is playing a system entirely foreign to the power type of offense taught by Dr. C. W. Spears. The players lack speed. The guards, in particular, are not the type needed for the clean, fast blocking of the Notre Dame system.

There isn't an open field runner whose ability marks him as outstanding. The forward passing is mediocre, but the varsity possesses weight. It is defensively aggressive, and it is determined that it will not be pushed around even if it fails to bowl over the other fellows.

Jankowski Is Back.

And Wisconsin does have Eddie Jankowski, senior full back, from Milwaukee, who can lug the ball on straight smashes and whose delight is to back up the line in defense. Give this team a victory Saturday to bolster its belief in itself, and while it may lose later games it will not be humiliated.

Jankowski is the high note of optimism. His presence actually gives the back field a threat. His defensive work will support the line ably and

Blanton Checks Chicago on Three Hits.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Cubs yesterday closed out their 1936 National league business at Wrigley field with an attack on Cy Blanton and the Pirates that was most mouselike. In taking a 4 to 0 licking—their sixth whitewashing of the year—the Cubs skidded to the brink of fourth place. The Pirates, Cincinnati bound, are one game back of the Cubs, who wind up the season Saturday and Sunday against the Cardinals in St. Louis.

The 1935 champions terminated their home season with a performance in which they not only lost their punch, which was nothing new, but they quit hitting when the heat wasn't on, which is somewhat unusual. They made a total of three hits off Blanton—a single by Hartnett in the second, an infield single by Stan Hack with two out in the fourth inning and a double by Bill Herman with two out in the eighth inning. Herman's sock, his fifty-seventh double of the year, was the only full blown Chicago hit of the game.

French Gives Up Ten Hits.

Larry French, given two starts in the three game Pirate-Cub series principally because the Lefty was eager to accomplish his nineteenth victory of the season and establish a new major league high for himself, pitched eight innings, in which he was pounded for ten hits. The first two Pirate runs were driven in on Al Todd's double in the second inning and the other two were registered on Pep Young's triple in the sixth.

French became self-conscious about his nineteenth victory problem an inning earlier than he did when the Pirates knocked him out Tuesday. With one down in the second inning, Suhr singled past Jurges and stopped at second on Brubaker's single to left. Young popped to Jurges, but Todd doubled to right, Suhr and Brubaker scoring. Hack threw out Blanton.

Young's Triple Scores Two.

The Cubs got two runners on base in their second, but a familiar fade-out ensued. Demaree walked and was forced by Hack. Hartnett caromed a single off Vaughan's glove for the first Chicago hit, Hack stopping at second. Then Gill forced Hartnett and Jurges forced Gill.

French was bruised some more in the sixth. Vaughan opened the inning by walking and went to third on Suhr's single to left center. Brubaker was called out on strikes, but Young lined a triple to right center, Vaughan and Suhr scoring. Todd was given an intentional pass, after which Blanton hit into a double play started by French.

LAFAYETTE VOWS PURDUE LOYALTY; 7,000 AT MEETING

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Seven thousand townspeople tonight joined hands with students in a pledge of loyalty to Purdue university. Amid tributes to the memory of Carl Dahlbeck and Tom McGannon, football players who lost their lives as a result of a gasoline explosion two weeks ago, the citizens of Lafayette expressed their faith in Purdue and its team and promised whole-hearted support in the struggle to surmount the handicap the tragedy had placed on Coach Noble Kizer and his squad.

Lawrence Downs of Chicago, president of the Illinois Central railroad and a member of the class of 1894, was toastmaster.

Tells of Early Tragedy.

"When I was a student here," Mr. Downs told the attentive thousands, 'we were given an engineering building that at the time was the largest structure in the world devoted exclusively to engineering. It was finished on Friday, dedicated on Saturday and burned down on Sunday. It was a major tragedy on the campus and in Lafayette. On Monday morning at convocation, President Smart stood before us with his head bowed with grief. He stood silent for a full minute, then said: 'I've shed all the tears I'm going to shed over that building. It will be rebuilt and when it is I promise you that tower will be one brick higher.'

"We have not shed all the tears we are going to shed over McGannon and Dahlbeck. But Noble Kizer and the football team will rebuild Purdue spirit and when it is rebuilt it will be one brick higher."

Layden Among Speakers.

Other speakers included Harry Leslie, former governor of Indiana, a survivor of the wreck in 1903 which claimed the lives of 15 Purdue football players who were en route to the annual game with Indiana at Indianapolis; Elmer Layden, coach and athletic director at Notre Dame; Joseph Andrews, state representative from Lafayette; Fritz B. Ernst of Chicago, vice president of the American Steel Foundries; Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of the Big Ten; Arch Ward, sports editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE; Coach Kizer and Capt. George Bell, varsity center.

Beyond Hubbell World Series' Pitching Plans Are Uncertain

[This is the third of a series of articles comparing the New York Yankees and New York Giants, opponents in the approaching world series.]

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

There's an old argument they use in baseball that a team can't win a big league pennant without at least a couple of standout pitchers. The bewhiskered idea got quite a jolt in the two major races just concluded. And because that happened there isn't much chance to make sane predictions as to what might take place, so far as pitchers are concerned, in the world series which gets under way next Wednesday at the Polo grounds between the New York Yankees of the American league and the New York Giants of the National league.

Bill Terry, who manages the Giants, probably is asking himself, "After Carl Hubbell what happens?"

And if Joe V. McCarthy, who pilots the Yanks, has a chance to talk to Terry before the series starts he'd ask the same question in a slightly different way. McCarthy could and would add a barb to the query by saying, "What are you going to do after you have used Hubbell?"

Hubbell Tops Yank Pitchers.

The above doesn't mean that McCarthy, after making allowances for Hubbell's phenomenal skill, can chuckle over his good fortune in having an array of talented mound workers. McCarthy has nobody who can come even close to matching the great Missouri left-hander. Hubbell is consistently great. McCarthy's men, and he has a lot of them who have lent a pitching arm to the Yanks' successful pennant venture, are problems. None of them has been steady at any time during the year.

Lack of steadiness, however, may not be a true line on some of them. As everybody knows, the Yanks constitute one of the heaviest attacking teams in many years. Collecting runs is a hobby with them. And they have been so successful in their collecting that their pitchers have seldom been confronted by the necessity of bearing down. In a world series where a little individual pride is involved they might show they were only fooling around and taking life easy all season.

Yank Staf Rated Superior.

Even if they are no better than their earned run averages indicate, the Yank staf still must be regarded as possessor of considerably more skill than owned by the Giant staf as a whole. The Yank pitchers undoubtedly have the added advantage of confidence in the entire layout. They progressed to a pennant without straining a muscle. The Giants go into the series as the result of developments they themselves didn't expect. They've gone through a hectic couple of months and teams that are tossed into world series that way usually don't do well, whether it is their pitching, their fielding or hitting.

If McCarthy's staf is unreliable and he knows it, a great deal will depend on his own judgment. He'll have to play hunches and if he picks the right man on the right day everything will proceed smoothly for the American League. McCarthy has the added problem of giving what he thinks is the best he has in the opening game against Hubbell or withholding his best and gambling. If he doesn't choose to gamble but relies on the power of his team, he probably will nominate Charley Ruffing as the great southpaw's opponent in the inaugural battle.

After Hubbell.

Terry, after using Hubbell, will have to operate along much the same lines as McCarthy. Outside of Hubbell none of the Giants' pitchers have especially imposing records but Terry might pick the right man for the spot. Let the Yanks catch Hal Schu-

†One tie.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—(AP)—The New York Giants climaxed their Horatio Alger success story today by clinching the National league pennant.

Topping off one of the most astonishing drives in baseball history, they nosed out the Boston Bees, 2 to 1, in a ten inning pitching thriller in the first game of a double-header to sew up the flag.

Their victory made the first subway series since 1923 a certainty, with the New York Yankees as the American league representatives. The classic gets under way next Wednesday in the Giants' Polo grounds.

Cards Can't Catch 'Em.

Today's victory was the Giants' 91st of the season, leaving them with three games to play after the twin bill with the Bees. The best the second place St. Louis Cardinals can accomplish between now and the end of their schedule would still fall short of a tie.

Hal Schumacher, the question mark of the Giants' pitching staf, accomplished today's triumph almost single handed, but a costly error by Bill Urbanski was a big help. Urbanski juggled Travis Jackson's grounder in the tenth and then threw wide past first, enabling the veteran third baseman to reach second. Schumacher brought him home immediately with a single.

Bees Win Second Game.

In the second game, Terry replaced most of his regulars with second string men and the Bees won, 4 to 0, behind Bill Weir's six hit pitching.

The first game victory was the Giants' 51st against 18 losses in the spectacular drive that carried them from the second division to the championship between July 15 and today.

Collapsing after fighting for the lead early in the season, Bill Terry's troupe sank out of the first division and seemed through for the season.

Then Carl Hubbell, the year's greatest pitcher, started hitting his stride. Rookie Jim Ripple became a heavy hitting outfield asset. Terry's bad knee recovered sufficiently for him to get into action at first base through most of the stretch games.

Hubbell Leads the Way.

With Hubbell leading the way, winning 16 straight pitching victories, the Giants shot past one contender after another, reached first place at the height of a 15 game winning streak on Aug. 25, and stayed out in front from there to the finish.

The pennant triumph is the second accomplished by the Giants since Terry took over the managership from John McGraw. In 1933 they took the title with 91 victories, and went on to defeat the Washington Senators in the world's series.

ILLINOIS RESTS STARS FOR GAME WITH DE PAUL

Zuppke Bans Scrimmage for Varsity.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—In order that the Illinois football team may be fresh for the De Paul game on Saturday Bob Zuppke held the first and second elevens out of scrimmage today, contenting himself with formation and other drills.

It looks as if the coach has made up his mind about most of the starting positions for Saturday with the exception of left guard which is still fairly open. Bob Porter, chunky sophomore from Oak Park, and Dick Fay, junior linesman, are among the leaders in the race for the position.

Porter has come along rapidly and apparently will be a strong contender for a guard post. A guess at the starting line up is: Johnson and Castelo, ends; Lasater and Dykstra, at tackles; Porter or Fay, and Kuhn, guards; Sayre, center; Nelson, quarter back; Stasica, left half back; Spurgeon, right half back, and Zimmerman, full back.

DE PAUL DRILL ENDS TODAY.

Pass defense and punting practice occupied the time of De Paul university's football squad yesterday afternoon for its opening game of the season tomorrow with Illinois at Champaign. It still is doubtful if two of the De Paul tackles will be able to play. Maurice [Moose] Washburne, veteran of two season's play, hasn't recovered from an old injury, and Joe Gagliardo, giant junior, still is out with a chest injury.

This afternoon a light exercise is scheduled. The trip to Champaign will be made tomorrow morning.

N. U. TO PLAY FROSH.

Northwestern's football team will put two weeks of practice to a test tomorrow afternoon in a regulation game with the freshmen. The game will be played on the regular field and will be in charge of Big Ten officials. An admission of 25 cents will be charged to help send the band to the Illinois game on Oct. 24.

Tomorrow's game will go a long way toward determining the starting lineup for the Iowa game next Saturday. Several players who will be called upon to replace injured stars will be given a thorough trial. Jack Major, promising sophomore half back, will be unable to play due to a knee injury. Clarence Hinton and Will Boger, reserve backs from last year, are being groomed for the right half back assignment.

IOWA EASES UP.

Iowa City, Iowa, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Coach Ossie Solem, looking ahead toward Northwestern, took no chance on further injuries to the Iowa football squad today, holding a light drill in which offensive tactics were emphasized.

That Solem will hurl a flock of back field men into the opener with Carleton Saturday seems assured. Starters probably will be Hild at quarter back, Ozzie Simmons and Wagler at the halves, and Frank Balazs of Chicago at full back.

Two full backs have been lost for the Carleton and Northwestern games, the sophomore Grange being in the hospital with stretoccic infection in his throat and Haltom, veteran quarter, suffering from a brain concussion sustained in scrimmage. Wagler, 200 pound back, became eligible today after passing an examination.

WOLVERINES SCRIMMAGE.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Coach Harry Kipke excused the Michigan football squad from morning practice today for school registration, but in the afternoon had his regulars scrimmage for the second time in two days.

The Wolverine coach continued to use Alex Loiko at end and had John Jordan at center. In the back field were Stanton, Curren, Cooper, and Smithers. Curren showed drive in plunging through the line, and Cooper made repeated off-tackle gains.

The regular game on Saturday will go a long way toward determining the lineup that will take the field against Michigan State a week from Saturday.

IRISH LINE SCRIMMAGES.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Attention was focused on the battle for starting positions in the Notre Dame line as Coach Elmer Layden conducted a line scrimmage this afternoon.

Frank Kopczak and Art Cronin Jr., senior right tackles, alternated at the post in today's drill, and it is doubtful whether Layden will pick a starter for the Carnegie Tech game Oct. 3 until just before the kickoff.

The battle at left tackle also assumed interesting proportions with the return to the lineup of Denny Amanuel, who has been out several days with an infected knee. He alternated with Bill Steinkemper, senior monogram winner, in today's drill.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

FOOTBALL OPENING.

FOOTBALL for the season of 1936 opens tomorrow among a majority of colleges, although the big burst of artillery fire comes a week later. Still more than the usual number of elevens have contests billed which are more than the usual opening season practice affairs.

The Pacific coast claims a majority of major issues. There is the Minnesota-Washington tussle previously discussed, Oregon State at Southern California and Santa Clara against the champion Stanford team, which has lost by graduation so many of its stars of the last three years.

In the east Colgate risks early season defeat against Wallace Wade's Duke squad, whose two defeats last season by Georgia Tech and Alabama Poly were regarded at the time as upsets.

Right here in the Big Ten one cannot call opponents of conference teams setups. They are Ohio university at Purdue, De Paul at Illinois, Lawrence at Chicago, Carleton at Iowa and South Dakota State against Wisconsin, appearing for the first time under Harry Stuhldreher's tutelage. These Dakota boys were winners in last year's opener, 13 to 6, presaging an indifferent Badger season.

There appears a tendency on the part of stronger elevens to chart more difficult schedules, appealing to the public with fewer easy games. The Wake attributes this tendency, in part, to the wish of athletic managements to secure gate receipts and build up funds depleted by the depression during which both attendance and prices of admission fell off markedly. Attendance and gate receipts are on the way back but still below the halcyon days.

I had 12 bottles of whisky in my cellar and my wife told me to empty the contents of each and every one of them down the sink or else. So I proceeded with the unpleasant task. I withdrew cork from first bottle with the exception of one glass which I drank. So with the second and third bottle. I then withdrew the cork from the fourth sink and poured the bottle down the glass which I drank. I pulled the bottle from the cork of the next and drank one sink out of it and poured the cork down the bottle. I pulled the next cork out of my throat and drank the glass. Then I corked the sink with glass, bottled and drank and drank and poured.

When I had everything emptied I steadied the house with one hand, counted the bottles and corks and glass with the other 29. To be sure, I counted them again as they came by and had 74. Finally I had all the houses and bottles and corks and glasses counted except one house and one glass which I drank.

force the enemy to turn to sweeping runs or passes for gains. In short, the big Pole is a football player.

Wisconsin expected to turn over direction of its team Saturday to Ervin Windward, another Milwaukee boy. But Windward is in the infirmary and may not be able to play. Neil Pohl, number one center, also is on the sick list, and the report is he is definitly out of Saturday's scrap. Since Joe Clauss, junior center from Springfield, O., must pass an examination tomorrow to be eligible, the center job quite likely will belong to Allen Mahnke, a Racine, Wis., senior.

Tommerson Right Half Starter.

Roy Bellin and Edward Misiak, both of Milwaukee, are slated for left half. Clarence Tommerson, a La Crosse senior, probably will start at right half with Bronko Malesevich, a sophomore, getting a chance. Some nice words have been said about these players, but the coming star of the group is regarded as Howard Weiss, Fort Atkinson sophomore. Weiss is injured now, having pulled a tendon in his knee.

Frederick Benz, Milwaukee junior, and Leonard Lovshin, Chisholm, Minn., senior, the only Phi Beta Kappa man on the squad, are expected to start Saturday at the ends. Stan Haukedahl, who won a letter in 1934 and is recovering from a stomach ailment, may grab one of these positions eventually. Vernon Peak, a junior from Eau Claire, is another prospect.

Lenphear, Johnson Starting Guards.

Starting guards Saturday may be George Lenphear, 192 pound junior from Beloit, and Ervin Johnson from Wisconsin Dells, who also weighs about 190. Walter Cole, a senior, has been playing right guard considerably, and others on the first three lineups are John O'Brien, Arlin Schultz, and Bill Jones. All three are sophomores.

Capt. John Golemgeske, 221 pounds, a senior from Waukesha, is slated for left tackle; Paul Jensen, another senior, 214 pounds, from Madison probably will pair with Golemgeske. Each of the seven tackle candidates weighs more than 200 pounds except Ralph Kutchera who misses by three pounds. This group, however, is slow and a fast running attack will cause the boys trouble.

Wisconsin may show a flash now and then throughout the season. But most folks are prepared for a longer grind which they hope eventually will lift the Badgers to the top of the Big Ten. The turn out of freshmen this fall is the largest in history. Despite the $250 tuition fee for nonresidents, several Pennsylvania boys have entered the university and there is a scattering of others.

GOPHERS ESCAPE BIG HOTEL FIRE; CONTINUE TRIP

Equipment, Clothes and Money Lost in Blaze.

Missoula, Mont., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Minnesota's football players were back to normal tonight and on the way to Seattle, Wash., for the intersectional game with the University of Washington Saturday afternoon after escaping from the burning Florence hotel here at 4 o'clock this morning. The building was destroyed.

The Gophers suffered no casualties, but lost money, clothes, watches, and $1,000 worth of medical supplies and equipment. The medical supplies and equipment were quickly replaced here before the squad's special train pulled out for Seattle.

When the fire was discovered in a drug store in the lobby of the hotel, the players, many of them scantily clad, hurried to the Chicago and Milwaukee road's sleepers and returned to bed with the loss of less than an hour of sleep. H. A. Scandrett, president of the road, who is making the trip with the football party, called out all available employés and put up the berths so the boys could return to sleep.

Practice plans went ahead on schedule. Coach Bernie Bierman called off the morning chalk talk, but conducted the last stiff drill in the afternoon on the University of Montana field. If anything, the excitement caused by the fire pepped up the Gophers, for they had a lot of snap and dash during their last serious drill.

Shop for New Shoes.

When the Gophers lined up for today's practice, Andy Uram was back at right half back, while Spadaccini was at full back. They, with Julie Alfonse and Bud Wilkinson, will be the starting backfield.

Athletic officials had to do a lot of shopping before they got out of Missoula. Bob Johnson, Marvin Levoir and Warren Kilbourne lost their shoes in their hurried exit from their rooms and new purchases had to be made.

Co-Capt. Ed Widseth, tackle, was the heaviest loser in the fire. He left $60 and a gold watch. Coach Bierman also left an expensive watch behind, as did Oscar Munson, equipment custodian, who mourned the loss of a gold football the 1934 Gophers had given him. Other players lost top coats, pocketbooks, hats, and haberdashery.

The University of Montana came to the aid of the Gophers and turned over its diathermy and other heating machines used in the training room.

Bert Baston, end coach, was the hero of the fire. When a check up at 4:20 o'clock showed that Frank Warner, end from Minneapolis, and Mike Milesevitch, end from South St. Paul, were missing, Baston rushed back into the flaming building. The boys, who at first refused to get up because they thought the fire warning was a joke, had slipped down a fire escape and were safe. Baston was slightly overcome by the smoke, but recovered after receiving first aid from the training staf.

Ed Shave, sports writer of the St. Paul Daily News, was first to discover the fire. He smelled smoke, rushed into the hotel lobby and warned the night clerk, who sent in the first alarm. Then the guests were aroused by the clerk and two bell boys. All the guests, including Mayor Thomas E. Latimer of Minneapolis, his wife, sports writers, and Minnesota fans, got out safely, but left most of their personal effects behind.

The four story hotel and a half dozen small business establishments were destroyed and damage was estimated at $500,000.

The Gophers will reach Seattle tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Talking It Over

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

THERE are three Swedish-Irish boys on the Notre Dame football squad this fall, and Larry Danbon, who is all Swedish. . . . The three referred to are Len Skoglund, Chicago junior, who has a scholastic average of 95; John Murphy of South Bend, and Bill O'Loughlin of Toledo. . . . You probably know by now which are the Irish and which the Swedish fathers. . . . Orville Matthews, Oklahoma all-state interscholastic star in track and football, was brought to Los Angeles at the insistence of a wealthy oil man who follows the athletic fortunes of Southern California. . . . After one year spent on freshman teams at U. S. C. and fighting that old "debbill" scholastic eligibility, Matthews has returned to his home and has matriculated at Oklahoma university. . . . Wonder if reformers who wail about the evils of intercollegiate football appreciate the fact that you never hear of an outstanding gridiron star marching in a communist parade or participating in student Red demonstrations. . . . Maybe there's something to the training they receive. . . . Bing Crosby has offered $15,000 for the managerial contract of Bob Nestell, Pacific coast heavyweight boxer, who is handled by Gus Wilson. . . .

Applications for working press seats at this year's world series are the heaviest in history. . . . The London Mail, impressed by the success of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE meet, is considering sponsorship of a Golden Gloves tournament. . . . The Shanghai Post-Mercury already has taken it up. . . . Don Heap, Northwestern half back, last year averaged 5.3 yards as a ball carrier. . . . The Wildcats face the heaviest part of their schedule in October. . . . Opponents include Iowa, North Dakota State, Ohio State, Illinois, and Minnesota. . . . If they survive these, all they will have to defeat for a clear record are Wisconsin, Michigan, and Notre Dame. . . . Ruth Aarons, 18 year old table tennis champion, who recently turned pro to give exhibition matches with Sandor Glancz, never has lost a game in competition. . . . In her exhibitions she challenges all comers to a 21 point game and will spot her opponent, man or woman, ten points. . . .

After Trainer Maxie Hirsch had seen his mounts lose a number of races by a nose in Florida, he sent out a gray horse wearing red blinkers and a white sheepskin noseband. . . . Leading the horse past the judges' stand on the way to the post, he said to the judges: "See if you can notice this one when it's in front." . . . Next to the home state, Illinois is the heaviest contributor of talent to Michigan's 1936 football squad. . . . Joe E. Brown's son, who weighs 190, is listed on the U. C. L. A. roster as a guard. . . . The 1936 national amateur golf tournament proved that on match play an 85 could win and a 75 could lose. . . . Ottawa, Ill., home town of Slip Madigan, expects to send 1,000 fans to Chicago when Madigan's St. Mary's eleven plays Marquette at Soldiers' field the night of Oct. 30. . . . Joe Guyon Jr., son of the famous Carlisle Indian and Georgia Tech star, has enrolled at Pennsylvania. . . .

Eddie Goosetree, scout for the Detroit Tigers, says the best catcher in the minor leagues is a youngster named Early with Jacksonville, Fla., who belongs to the Washington Senators. . . . Nebraska has sold more than 15,000 season books for its five home football games. . . . The Chicago city series will have it over the world series in at least one respect. . . . It will present the leading hitter of the major leagues, Luke Appling, of the White Sox. . . . In midseason Appling confided to friends he hoped to finish the schedule with an average of .325. . . . He is over .380 with only three days to go. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—The New York Yankees won the American league pennant when they defeated the St. Louis Browns twice. . . . Babe Ruth hit three home runs. . . . Walter Hagen won the P. G. A. championship when he defeated Leo Diegel, 4 and 3. . . . Chicago and Detroit were officially admitted to the Natonal Hocky league. . . . Stuffy McInnis, Pirates' first baseman, was given his unconditional release. . . . Gene Tunney received a tremendous welcome when he arrived in New York.

INJURIES AGAIN HIT MAROONS ON EVE OF OPENER

Lawson and Sass Latest Casualties.

With their season opener coming up tomorrow against Lawrence college at Stagg field, Chicago's Maroons continued to be dogged by ill fortune yesterday.

Harvey Lawson, sophomore half back from Ft. Madison, Ia., who specializes in passes and punts from the port side, sustained a muscle injury in the left shoulder which will put him on the sidelines until next week. Fred Sass, sophomore guard candidate, suffered a similar hurt.

Lawson is the fifth Maroon back field man who has been forced out of action since practice opened. He, Morton Goodstein and Ned Bartlett in all probability will be unable to play tomorrow. Lew Hamity and Fred Lehnhardt, the other casualties, probably will start, although Lehnhardt's neck is so stiff he has difficulty turning his head.

Lawrence's squad of 30, led by Coach Paul Derr, will arrive in Chicago this afternoon. The Appleton team opened the Maroon schedule in 1903 and 1904, losing in the former year, 23 to 0, and the latter, 29 to 0.

British Driver Plans Attempt Against 301 M.P.H. Record

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Capt. George Eyston, British holder of numerous long distance auto speed records, announced today he is building a car to attack Sir Malcolm Campbell's record of 301.33 miles per hour in 1937. "I am uncertain yet where I will make the attempt," Eyston said. "I would like to make it on the Salt lake, Utah flats, but do not like to say so because I have not yet received an invitation from officials there."

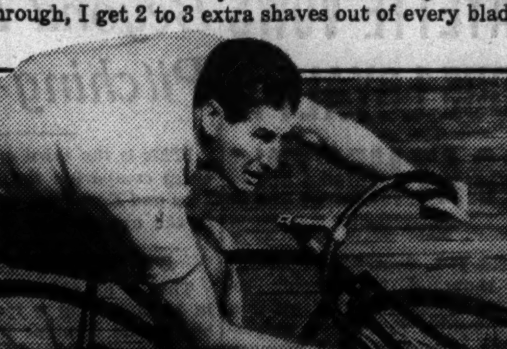
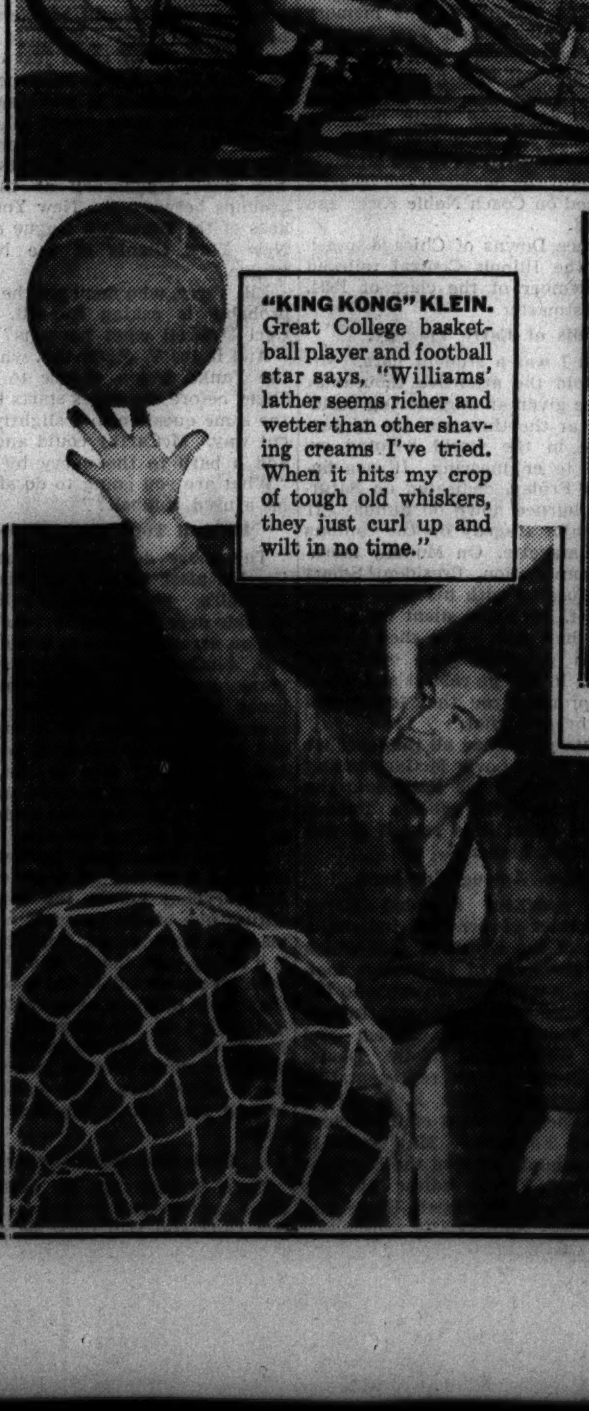
IT TAKES THE "STARCH" OUT OF WHISKERS!

Say these Famous Athletes

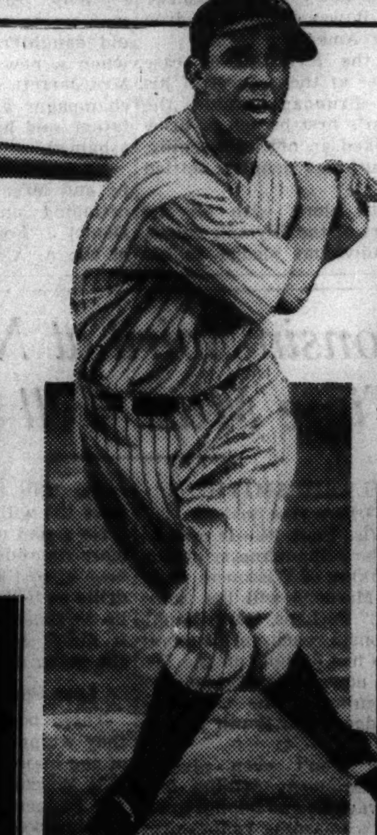
BIKE RACER. Norman Hill is American All-round Cycling Champion. A brilliant sprinter and powerful over the longer routes, Hill made a sensational record last year. He says: "Williams takes every bit of 'starch' out of my beard. It leaves my whiskers so easy to cut through, I get 2 to 3 extra shaves out of every blade."





"KING KONG" KLEIN. Great College basketball player and football star says, "Williams' lather seems richer and wetter than other shaving creams I've tried. When it hits my crop of tough old whiskers, they just curl up and wilt in no time."

LAWSON LITTLE, winner of the British and U. S. Amateur titles, says, "I never could seem to get a really clean shave until I started using Williams 'Twin-action' Shaving Cream. A cooling dash of Aqua Velva after every shave makes my face feel clean and fresh all day. It's soothing to my skin."



FRANK CROSETTI, brilliant hard-playing shortstop of the New York Yankees, says, "Switching to Williams 'Twin-action' Shaving Cream gave me the first clean, close shave I've ever had. And a dash of Aqua Velva every morning after shaving leaves my face cool and refreshed."

OLYMPIC SPEED-SKATING CHAMPION. At Lake Placid in 1932, Dartmouth's great skater, Jack Shea, was the outstanding star of the speed events. He says, "For years there's been only one shaving cream for me—Williams! It soaks my whiskers soft. Aqua Velva after shaving makes my face feel cool and clean."

"Twin-Action" Shaving Cream Softens Your Scaly Outer Skin—Wilts Whiskers Right Down to Roots

IF your beard is heavy and tough . . . if daily shaving makes your face feel tender—you'll get quick relief with Williams "Twin-action" Shaving Cream.

First, Williams' thick, wet lather penetrates through the oily film on your whiskers, quickly takes the "starch" out of the 40,000 horny bristles that make up your beard.

Second, it soaks and softens the scaly outer skin of your face . . . allows your razor edge to reach right down to the base of each hair.

Your razor swishes through these limp, starchless whiskers, cutting off each hair at the base without scraping . . . or irritating.

After a Williams shave there's nothing so refreshing as a cool dash of Aqua Velva, the largest selling after-shave preparation in the world. It tones up your skin—keeps your face feeling fit all day long.

Soaks Whiskers—Softens Skin

A special homogenizing process gives Williams a greater capacity to hold water than ordinary creams. 1. Soaks the "starch" out of whiskers quicker. 2. Instantly softens scaly outer skin on face. Try a tube.

CARDINALS WIN 2 GAMES FROM REDS, 5-4, 2-0

Dizzy Dean Captures His 24th Victory.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 24.—(AP)—The fighting Cardinals took a double-header from the Cincinnati Reds today by winning a 12 inning opener, 5 to 4, and topping the Reds, 2 to 0, as darkness ended the second game after 5½ innings.

While the Gas House gang was defeating hurler Gene Scott in the first battle, Joe Medwick established a new National league record with his 63d double of the season. This tops the 62 Paul Waner gathered in 1932 for Pittsburgh.

After Hubbell Series' Hurling Plans Dubious

macher with a good day and they'd have trouble. But the trouble is that Prince Hal isn't the man he was several years ago when he was a portion of the Giants' big four of which Hubbell, Parmelee, and Fitzsimmons were members. Neither is Fitzsimmons as good as several years ago but there always is the possibility he might come up with a brilliant battle. He's a tricky pitcher and adds to his effectiveness by the sensational way in which he fields his position. Both these fellows probably will start.

Hubbell, whether he wins or loses the opening game, is a cinch to come back after two days of rest and probably only one. He's the kind of a fellow who can work out of turn without losing his effectiveness. But winning two world series games without proper rest isn't easily accomplished. Something usually goes wrong. When Hubbell makes his second start it will be on the Yankees' lot and the McCarthy gang is mighty tough in that park.

McCarthy Has Ace in Hole.

McCarthy has an ace in the hole that probably will be overlooked until it is revealed. The ace is Vernon Gomez, the lefty. The señor hasn't had much of a year but that won't discourage McCarthy from using him if he thinks the situation is right. Gomez, despite his poor 1936 record, is still rated as a talented workman. Let the Giants show that they have a keen appetite for right-handed pitching and you may find Gomez in there the next day. And southpawing can stop Mel Ott and Terry, the two Giants members of the American leaguers must consider at all times.

Terry also has a left-hander aside from Hubbell. That's Al Smith but not the one who wears the brown derby. Nobody ever has accused the Yankee sluggers of being especially feeble before southpaws. Smith, like Gabler, Castleman and a couple of others, aren't particularly experienced. If the latter feature is as important as generally supposed, McCarthy has Pat Malone, at least for relief purposes. The ex-Cub has been invaluable in this rôle all season and even if he started he'd be a pretty good gamble.

PRESIDENT WILL SEE THIRD GAME OF WORLD SERIES

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt will attend the world series game at the Yankee stadium on Friday, Oct. 2, the Yankee baseball office was notified today. The game will be the third of the series [unless rain intervenes], and the first at the stadium, since the opening contest will be played at the Polo grounds on Wedneday, Sept. 30, and Thursday, Oct. 1.

The last time President Roosevelt attended the world series was in 1933 when the Giants played the Senators. The President saw one of the games played in Washington. At that time he said he was rooting for the Giants. His preference in the all-New York series this year is not known.

Pirates Defeat Cubs in Series for Season, 12-10

The Pirates took the season series from the Cubs, 12 games to 10. Thus the 1935 National league champions became the losers of their series with the three other teams in the first division and the team that tops the second division. The Cards lead them, 13-7, with two games to play. The Reds whipped them, 12-10. The Giants also won their season series with Chicago.

The Pirates can tie the Cubs for third place if they beat the Reds Saturday and the Cubs lose to the Cards. Then Sunday's games in Cincinnati and St. Louis will decide whether the former champions are to finish in fourth, a new low for a decade.

The dugout athletes, who sweltered in the first two games of the series, shivered in their jackets yesterday. The attendance was 3,002 paid with 10,000 frost-bitten lady guests observing their last free show before next April.

Forrest Jensen, Pirates' left fielder, boosted the total number of his trips to the plate for the season to 683, setting a new major league record, when he came to bat five times yesterday. The old mark was 681, set by Lloyd Waner of Pittsburgh in 1931 and equaled in 1935 by Joe Moore of the New York Giants.

ATHLETICS BEAT YANKEES, 4 TO 3; GEHRIG HITS 49TH

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Yankees wasted timely hitting by Lou Gehrig and a fine pitching performance by Monte Pearson today as they dropped a 4 to 3 decision to the Philadelphia Athletics.

Gehrig belted his 49th homer and a double to drive in all the New York runs. Pearson allowed the Athletics two hits for seven innings, and then, straining his back in walking the first Philadelphia batter in the eighth, had to leave the game.

The Athletics landed on his relief, Johnny Murphy, for three hits and three runs before the inning was over to sew up the game.

Cubs and Sox Iron Out Details for City Series

Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis and officials of the White Sox and Cubs yesterday got together on rules and other details of the Chicago city series, which is scheduled to start at Wrigley field next Wednesday.

The only change from the plan followed in the past is found in the fact that the tickets will be dated instead of numbered, a plan which enables fans, especially out of town customers, to make their plans with a greater degree of certainty than heretofore.

The first two games will be played at Wrigley field and the next three will be at Comiskey park. If the four out of seven series is not settled in five games, the teams will return to Wrigley field to wind up the set. All games will start at 2 p. m.

Tickets for Single Games.

Tickets will be sold for single games at prices prevailing during the regular season. Bleacher seats will be sold on the day of the game at 55 cents, as will grandstand seats at $1.10. Box seats will be sold in advance at $1.65.

Under the plan of dating the tickets a purchaser who desires to see the Sunday game at Comiskey park, for instance, may purchase his ticket for that date and be certain of seeing the Sunday game at the south side park. This would hold true even if the games at Wrigley field were rained out. Under the old numbering plan a No. 1 ticket would call for an admission to Wrigley field even if weather postponed the opener till Thanksgiving.

Commissioner Landis said the umpires, deputy commissioner, and other officials would be announced later. The list of eligible players follows:

CUBS.

Ethan Allen, Clay Bryant, James O. Carleton, Phil Cavarretta, Curtis B. Davis, Frank Demaree, Elwood English, Lawrence H. French, August Galan, John Gill, Charles J. Grimm, Stanley Hack, Charles L. Hartnett, Roy Henshaw, William Herman, William Jurges, William C. Lee, Gene Lillard, James Kenneth O'Dea, Charles H. Root, George Stainback, Walter Stephenson, Lon Warneke, and Coaches John Corriden and Roy Johnson.

WHITE SOX.

Luke Appling, Henry J. Bonura, Clinton H. Brown, Merritt Cain, Italo Chelini, William J. Dietrich, James J. Dykes, Frank Grube, George W. Haas, Minter C. Hayes, Vernon Kennedy, Mike Kreevich, Theodore A. Lyons, Joseph Morrissey, Anthony F. Piet, Raymond Radcliff, J. L. Rosenthal, Luke Sewell, Mervyn Shea, William Shores, Monty Stratton, Fred Walker, John H. Whitehead, and Coaches Harold Ruel and William J. Webb.

Yankees Divide Series Cut Into 27 Full Shares

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The New York Yankees, American league champions, today voted to cut the 1936 world series money into 27 full shares. Part time players, secretaries, assistants, and several others were given fractional shares. Manager Joe McCarthy and Coaches Art Fletcher, John Schulte, and Earl Coombs were given full shares.

Jake Powell, outfielder, who came to the champions in June from Washington; Myril Hoag, outfielder, who was forced out for the season by illness, and Don Heffner, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, were voted full shares.

Mark Roth, traveling secretary, and Trainer E. V. Painter were given three-quarter shares. Two recruits, Kemp Wicker and Bob Seeds, were voted half shares. Others given money were:

ALL BOX SEATS SOLD.

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The New York Yankees announced today that all box seats for the world series games in Yankee stadium have been sold, giving some indication that the looked for financial record breaker may become a reality.

While the New York Giants prepared to fill the rush of ticket orders tomorrow, now that the club has clinched the National league pennant, the Yanks' management said that many reserved grand stand seats are still available, although the boxes are gone.

The box seats, selling in strips of three, for the three games scheduled in the stadium, sold for $6.60 each.

BURMAN ARRIVES FOR LEWIS BOUT; LOOKS IN SHAPE

He appeared in excellent condition, following his victory over Billy Ketchell at Brooklyn, N. Y., Tuesday. He weighs 180 pounds, four more than he expects to carry against the light heavyweight champion.

He expects to whip Lewis with a body attack. The clever eastern redhead, who showed impressively while whipping Billy Treest and scoring a knockout over Buddy Knox at the Stadium last spring, saw the champion successfully defend his crown by beating Jock McAvoy, British champion, in an international scrap at Madison Square Garden March 13. But he wasn't overly impressed by Lewis' exhibition. McAvoy was an odds on favorite to dethrone Lewis.

"McAvoy didn't punch to the body and that's the reason he took a beating," Burman said. "Lewis is wide open for body punches and I'm going to keep shooting blows in that direction throughout the fight. He's bound to fold up."

Marek Seeks 4th Straight Knockout Win

Max Marek expects to chalk up his fourth straight knockout against Max Zona, whom he meets in a scheduled ten round bout at Arcadia Gardens next Tuesday.

The former Chicago Golden Gloves champion, who stopped George Vallas, Eddie Boyle, and Vincent Parrille in recent weeks, intimated as much as he boxed five rounds yesterday at C. Y. O. center, three with William [K. O.] Brown and two with Ed Wills.

"I'm going to try to end it within three rounds," he said after the drill.

His trainer, Paddy Kane, does not think that the match will end in a knockout.

Joe Louis will make his next Chicago appearance at the Stadium Oct. 13 in the rôle of referee in a show sponsored by the Schenley Athletic club. The 1934 Chicago Golden Gloves champion, who is at his ailing wife's bedside in a Detroit hospital, will head for Pompton Lakes, N. J., Wednesday to start drills for a battle with Jorge Brescia at the New York Hippodrome Oct. 9. Bresica may be the Brown Bomber's last opponent this year. . . . Haywood Storey, Hugh Allen, Tiger Williams, Ambrose Geohagen, Eddie Jacobs, and K. O. Brown are members of the Jones Athletic club on the south side, reputed to be the oldest colored boxing gymnasium in this section of the country.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Every son of Kentucky, and they are numerous at Lincoln Fields, bet on that Kentucky mare, Silverette, yesterday afternoon. It was cool yesterday morning and the Kentuckians' thoughts were of home and Silverette was to get them there.

Sadly enough, but most appropriately, Kentucky Blues came along to nip Silverette in the featured Junior League purse. So today the Kentuckians are still here, and they are not wearing overcoats, either.

Kentucky Blues runs in the colors of George Clarke's Rosedale stable. Mr. Clarke is a Canadian, so there were few hard boots who bet on his filly, though she was second choice in the wagering. She paid off at $10.80 to win, $5.80 to place, and $3.20 to show. The good thing, Silverette, was second and Slim Rosie, Ike Weil's faint hearted filly, third.

Chalks up Third Victory.

This three year old daughter of Blue Larkspur-Blue Light, had to be much the best in scoring her neck victory. She was trying for her third victory of the year, but her first in Chicago, the two previous ones having been scored down at Latonia last spring.

As was to be expected, Slim Rosie broke on top of the field of seven. It was Silverette which went right with her, while Jocky Ted Dickinson was content to keep Kentucky Blues back in fifth place, free of interference. By the time the stretch was reached Slim Rosie had given up to Silverette and the Kentuckians were counting their money. Kentucky Blues moved up to third place on the outside.

Then Dickinson swung the filly sharply to the inside, and coming with a tremendous burst of speed she shot through the opening left by Slim Rosie's fade-out to take the lead. She outfinished Silverette. Boston Mary, also moving up, was cut off by Kentucky Blues' move to the inside, or she might have been a factor at the finish.

Runs Six Furlongs in 1:11.

Kentucky Blues in beating her good field ran the six furlongs in the fast time of 1:11, the best of the meeting. She raced well all last year and stamped herself as a promising filly.

The Grant Park purse, also decided during the afternoon, revealed that Dick and Pat Nash may own one of the best 2 year olds in the west in the colt Quincy, a son of Teddy-Superstitious.

This fellow is a late development and gives unmistakable signs of being capable of running all day. He started to show his true ability at Washington Park where he rolled up two victories. In his first start at Lincoln Fields he was second, beaten narrowly, on an off track.

Drives Up From Behind.

In the Grant Park yesterday at 6 furlongs which gave him ample opportunity of stretching out his long legs, he drove up from behind, conquered the early flyers and then drew on out to win by more than two lengths.

Jocky R. Dotter rated him to perfection. He permitted Valdina and Saranara to make the early pace. When he called on Quincy it was all over but the shouting and the collecting.

Quincy ran his 6 furlongs in 1:12 2-5. He could have shaded that mark by a full second had there been any need of it.

Quincy Pays Off at $10.40.

Quincy never is backed very stoutly because the Nash horses have been in a losing streak most of the season. In the Grant Park, Quincy paid off at $10.40 for a $2 ticket.

PRINCETON 1935 FOOTBALL GATE BIGGEST SINCE '30

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The undefeated 1935 Princeton football season produced the largest receipts for the university's Athletic association of any season since 1930, according to its financial statement for the fiscal year ending June 30, which was released today by Asa S. Bushnell, graduate manager of athletics.

The $333,302 taken in on football nearly twice the receipts of the 1934 season, left a surplus of $82,252 for the Princeton Athletic association. This reduced the accumulated deficit of the Princeton Athletic association to $94,838. Football was the only sport to pay for itself.

"Total revenue for the year amounted to $370,000," Mr. Bushnell said in a statement which accompanied the financial report.

Latter, raced wide, moved up rapidly after reaching the final quarter, got to front in last sixteenth and held on well but could not withstand the winner. PLAYMASTER had speed from the start, saved ground throughout and gave way slightly in the last eighth.

Latter, under light restraint for a half mile, was forced wide in stretch and closed with determination in a good effort. TINSEL LADY, shuffled back early, saved much ground and rushed to the leaders in the stretch, tired near the end.

JADAAN, raced wide and never a great distance back, offered fine response when called upon and, easily wearing down the leaders, won with something left. FANCY FLIGHT made the early pace under restraint, increased her advantage when shaken up after reaching the stretch and held on well but could not withstand the winner. DARK SEEKER, a factor from the start, dropped back slightly soon after reaching the final quarter, was in close quarters entering the last eighth and held on fairly wel when clear.

Winner trained by D. McEachern. Went to post at 3:52. At post 2 minutes. Good start from Bahr gate. Won easily, place driving.

QUINCY, never far back, had MERINA and NEDSON in close quarters as he moved up on the turn, easily wore down VALDINA after straightening up in the stretch and won with speed in reserve. VALDINA displayed excellent speed from the start, saved ground after the first eighth and held on well to the last sixteenth where he weakened badly. MERINA, beginning fast and impeded after she had forced Quincy wide approaching the turn, was in hand until the final eighth where she held on well under light pressure.

KENTUCKY BLUES kept well up, raced wide on the stretch turn began to move up as she responded to mild pressure when racing on the outside after entering the stretch, went to inside in final eighth and, continuing with determination, outfinished SILVERETTE. Latter forced the pace under light restraint, was forced very wide by SLIM ROSIE when wearing latter down and held on with good courage to the finish but was not good enough. SLIM ROSIE had the most speed from the start, swerved out when shaken up in the stretch and gave way slowly after reaching the final eighth.

LUMILLION, on inside for five-eighths and in close quarters in the back stretch, also came out in the stretch and, closing resolutely, outfinished LEGAL GAMBLE. The latter inclined to bear in during the early running, and a factor from the start, swerved out in the stretch and weakened after making a mild bid.

REDNECK, vastly improved and under snug restraint for three-quarters, was only mildly shaken up as he increased his advantage when approaching the final quarter, where he continued strongly despite light restraint in the final eighth. ATTAUQUECHEE, rated under restraint for seven-eighths, held on well under pressure. POMPARAGON, allowed to remain out of it early, was forced wide on the second turn, closed resolutely under strong handling and was wearing down ATTAUQUECHEE.

DEFIER, rated under restraint for three-quarters, continued well under repeated mild pressure in final quarter and probably had something left. SIS AGNES, forced to lose much ground and in hand for five-eighths, bettered her position steadily thereafter and outgamed SILK COVERING. The latter, also well in hand early, was strongly shaken up entering stretch and held on well to the last sixteenth before tiring.

WHEAT ATTAINS NEW PEAKS IN CHIEF MARKETS

Selling Is Absorbed; Corn Also Higher.

Wheat prices in the world's leading market advanced yesterday to new high levels for the season, continuing the upturn which has been under way, with minor interruptions since Sept. 2. Closing trades were at or near high point of the day.

Net gains in Chicago ranged upward to 2⅛ cents per bushel. Winnipeg closed 1½ to 1¾ cents higher and Liverpool was up as much as ⅝ cent.

Heavy selling of wheat futures developed on the advance by operators who had substantial profits as the result of the upturn of 11 cents in Chicago and 17 cents in Winnipeg within the last three weeks. The selling was absorbed in a mysterious manner. Pit brokers said it was difficult to trace the buying orders.

Hedges Removed at Winnipeg.

Removal of hedges against estimated export sales of 1,250,000 bushels of Canadian cash wheat helped along the upturn at Winnipeg.

The continued advance in wheat futures is regarded by brokers as reflecting rapid strengthening in the world's statistical position, with a persistent demand for cash grain by importing countries, rather than a speculative movement.

Wheat prices in leading markets have been on upgrade since early in July. September contracts on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday at high point of $1.18⅞ showed an advance of 24⅝ cents from the low figure in July. Kansas City has gained 29 cents, and Minneapolis, 28⅝ cents.

Foreign Markets Gain Most.

American markets have lagged considerably as compared with Liverpool and Winnipeg during the same period. The October delivery in Canada moved up 30⅝ cents and in Liverpool the advance has been 36⅛ cents. Current prices in the latter market are the highest since 1930, with October contracts yesterday touching $1.23⅝ at the top. Early July sales were made at 87½ cents per bushel.

Closing prices on the December delivery of leading grains, with comparisons, follow:

	Yest.	Wed.	Wk.ago.	Mo.ago.
Wheat	$1.17⅛	$1.15½	$1.13⅝	$1.10⅞
Corn	.95⅝	.94¼	.96¼	.95⅝
Oats	.43⅛	.42⅝	.43	.43¾
Rye	.84	.82⅝	.81⅛	.82

Short covering was regarded largely responsible for an advance of 2⅞ cents in September corn yesterday with the close at $1.13⅛. New crop contracts gained a cent. Oats moved up fractionally, and rye was 1⅜ to 1¾ cents higher. Speculative interest in coarse grains and rye was not as large as in wheat.

Foreign Corn, Rye Pour In.

Approximately 100,000 bushels of Argentine corn and 255,000 bushels of Latvian rye were received yesterday at Atlantic ports. Estimated exports of corn from Argentina this week totaled 11,220,000 bushels. It is believed this included fairly large quantities to the United States and Canada.

The largest exports of corn from Argentina on record were 15,039,000 bushels for the week ended Oct. 10, 1931. Since Aug. 15 Baltimore and other Atlantic ports are estimated to have received more than 1,000,000 bushels of rye from Latvia.

Lake shipments of grain out for Fort William-Port Arthur showed a slight further gain during the week ended Sept. 18, the Lake Shippers' Clearance association reported. Wheat shipments were listed at 7,440,363 bushels, compared with 6,943,962 in the preceding week, and 5,539,435 in the like period last year.

Receipts of wheat at elevators there amounted to 9,495,293 bushels, a decline from the 11,659,352 a week ago, but a gain over the 7,605,933 a year ago. This brings wheat holdings to 34,218,542 bushels, against 32,091,058 last week, and 50,697,601 last year. Storage holdings of all grains now amount to 48,050,640 bushels, compared with 40,724,157 a week ago, and 59,232,213 a year ago.

U. S. SPENDING PERILS SAVINGS, BANKER ASSERTS

Boston, Mass., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Former governor Channing H. Cox, president of the Old Colony Trust company, warned the national council of the National Association of Life Underwriters here today that "profligate, needless, and wanton public spending today constitutes the greatest threat to honest savings."

"The power to tax," Cox said, "is the power to destroy. Public waste must be curtailed or savings be taxed to exhaustion."

In an earlier speech the convention delegates heard William Lyon Phelps, professor emeritus of Yale, declare that government control of private business leads ultimately to control of speech and thought.

"Regimentation," Prof. Phelps said, "is the enemy of progress. Individual independence means every man under his own vine and fig tree. This desirable state of affairs cannot be brought about by standardization or by suppression of individual liberty."

$350,000 of Tax Warants Are Sold by County Board

The county board yesterday sold $200,000 of 1936 county corporate fund tax anticipation warants and $150,000 of county highway fund warants. The purchaser was Stifel Nicolaus & Co., which agreed to charge the county 3½ per cent interest.

Shippers Will Use More Cars than Year Ago

Business conditions in the Chicago district are expected to continue favorable in the last quarter of this year, according to the midwest shippers' advisory board, which released preliminary figures yesterday estimating that freight car requirements this year will be about 6.6 per cent over actual loadings in the corresponding 1935 period.

In arriving at their estimate the board uses a number of selected commodities. This year's requirements will be 763,000 cars, compared with the 716,000 cars actually used in the last quarter of 1935 to handle the selected commodities. The territory of the board covers loadings originating in Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin.

Gain Due to Industries.

While all industrial shippers said they will require more cars this year, the disastrous effects of the drouth are reflected in the estimates of the agricultural shippers, which show sharp declines from last year.

Grain shipments are expected to be 30 per cent below the 1935 total. Hay shipments, which are normally relatively unimportant in this territory, will be 35 per cent below last year.

Fresh fruits are expected to require 60 per cent less cars than in the last quarter of 1935 and fresh vegetables are expected to be 40 per cent lower.

Expect Gain in Live Stock.

Because of an unusual situation live stock shipments are expected to show an increase of 10 per cent. The fact that prices of feeds are high is expected to result in extensive marketing.

Reflecting the increased industrial activity shipments of ore, it is estimated, will show an increase of 40 per cent, while coal shipments will rise 10 per cent. In the manufacturing lines increases up and down from a general 10 per cent advance in car loadings are anticipated.

Detailed figures regarding the board's forecast will be released shortly by the Association of American Railroads at Washington.

CARNEGIE STEEL STARTS ANOTHER BLAST FURNACE

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 24.—(AP)—A United States Steel subsidiary blew in another blast furnace today and "cleaning up" activities about its long idle beehive coke ovens were reported, steps which the steel trade here regarded as indicative of an impending increase in production.

A fresh wave of buying by automotive, railroad, and other industries seeking to escape a $2 a ton increase effective Oct. 1, has been expected to step up the output, placed at 73½ per cent capacity last week by Iron Age.

The Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation blew in the 21st of its 38 district blast furnaces in the suburban Edgar Thomson mill, the largest number it has operated since 1930. A year ago 12 were in use.

Uniontown reported the H. C. Frick Coal and Coke company, producer of virtually all the coal for the steel corporation, began clearing up several closed mines and beehive coke ovens there. Officials declined to affirm or deny this report.

Am. Ice Dividend Delayed to Appraise New U. S. Tax

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Directors of American Ice company have decided to defer dividend action on the preferred stock for the last quarter until the November board meeting because of inability accurately to forecast what effect the new surtax on undistributed profits will have on the company's earnings, it was announced today. It was also stated the directors desired to get a better idea of income from operations for the entire year before taking further action.

National Tea Sales Show 8.88% Gain Over Year Ago

Consolidated store sales of the National Tea company for the four weeks ended Sept. 12, 1936, amounted to $4,667,804, compared with $4,287,207 for the corresponding four weeks in 1935, an increase of $380,596, or 8.88 per cent, the company announced yesterday. The number of stores in operation declined from 1,224 on Sept. 7, 1935, to 1,212 as of Sept. 7, 1936.

CHIEF FILM THEATERS REPORT BEST GROSS RECEIPTS IN 4 YEARS

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Gross receipts for first run motion picture houses in key cities throughout the country established a four year record in the Labor day week ended Sept. 11-12 last, it was disclosed today.

With a total of 175 such theaters in operation for the period, Motion Picture Daily, a trade publication, placed indicated gross at $2,090,144. This compared with $1,747,748, paid into 163 theaters operating, in the preceding week.

The number of theaters operating over Labor day this year was by far the largest for the period since the depression embraced this industry in 1932. The performance was considered especially outstanding, since the amount grossed also ran far ahead of any New Year's week receipts in the four year period.

The survey covering first run houses operating in 28 leading cities revealed that receipts increased in a total of twenty-one centers and were smaller in the remaining seven.

EXTRA DIVIDEND BY KALAMAZOO STOVE COMPANY

Another company listed on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday declared an extra dividend. The Kalamazoo Stove company of Kalamazoo, Mich., voted an extra of 25 cents and a regular quarterly disbursement of the same amount, payable Nov. 1 to stock of record Oct. 20.

The company reported that gross sales for the first eight months of this year were 50 per cent above those for the corresponding period of last year, and said that if earnings hold up to expectations directors expect to declare an additional dividend this year because of the federal surtax on undistributed earnings.

The Pacific Lighting corporation declared an extra of 30 cents and a regular quarterly of 60 cents on the common stock, both payable Nov. 16 to stock of record Oct. 20.

The Nunn-Bush Shoe company voted a dividend of 75 cents, payable Nov. 2 to stock of record Oct. 15. This compares with 25 cents paid on June 30.

The McClellan Stores company ordered an initial common dividend of 20 cents and a regular quarterly of $1.50 on the preferred stock, both payable Nov. 1 to stock of record Oct. 10.

PENNSY SPEEDS N. Y.-WASHINGTON TRAIN SERVICE

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad announced today it will start on Monday what is said to be the fastest train service ever scheduled between New York and Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington.

The Congressional Limited, north and south bound, will cover the 226 miles between Washington and New York in 215 minutes with six intermediate stops. The run between Washington and Philadelphia will be made in 2 hours and 8 minutes, and between Baltimore and Philadelphia in 1 hour 27 minutes.

KRAFT-PHENIX BUYS MISSOURI CHEESE PLANTS

Kraft-Phenix Cheese corporation yesterday announced the purchase of three cheese plants in Missouri, located at Mountain Grove, Mansfield, and Hartville. Each of the plants has a fluid milk capacity of 40,000 pounds daily.

The plants will be operated by C. L. Tissler, former production manager for Kraft-Phenix at Denison, Tex. The company announced that all of the plants are being reconditioned and equipped with the most modern machinery, and that an effort would be made to increase milk production in that area.

Los Angeles Gets Option on Utility for 46 Millions

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—After years of negotiating, a tentative agreement was announced today for the city owned Los Angeles municipal power and water bureau to buy the electrical properties of privately owned Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation for about $46,340,000. The city is given an option expiring Sept. 30, 1939.

Peak Private Awards Lift Building Total

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Record breaking private awards carried engineering construction commitments this week to a total of $68,041,000, the second largest volume for any week this year, Engineering News-Record reported today.

Private awards amounting to $36,823,000 broke last week's six year record, while state and municipal awards also were higher at $25,717,000. Federal awards of $5,501,000 brought total public awards up to $31,218,000.

Much Smaller a Year Ago.

This heavy volume of awards for the week compared with $27,755,000 in the corresponding week of 1935, a gain of $40,286,000.

Private awards in the 1935 week were $3,694,000, while public were $24,061,000, including $20,320,000 state and municipal, and $3,741,000 federal.

The outstanding development of the week was the continuance of the heavy commercial building program, which, with a total of $22,352,000, topped last week's high record. This increase was caused by a large number of speculative building developments in New York and New Jersey. Industrial building also was higher at $12,175,000 and public buildings at $6,139,000.

Highway Awards Increase.

Highway awards increased to $13,020,000 and sewerage, bridges, and unclassified construction were higher again. Classification subtotals were: Bridges, $4,139,000; sewerage, $2,179,000; waterworks, $912,000; earthwork and drainage, $2,497,000; unclassified, $4,629,000.

Among the larger awards for the week were: Furniture exchange, San Francisco, Cal., $2,000,000; General Motors corporation, auto assembly plant at Linden, N. J., $5,575,000.

PRE-PROHIBITION STOCK OF BONDED LIQUOR EXCEEDED

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Liquor stocks in bonded warehouses were shown in a treasury report today to be far greater than those of preprohibition days.

Stocks at the end of August totaled 339,819,518 gallons, the report said, of which 328,808,215 gallons were whisky and most of the remainder rum, gin, or brandy. On July 1, 1917, described by officials as a "normal" preprohibition year in the production of spirits, stocks totaled 199,257,087 gallons.

Production during August, it was said, totaled 19,736,045 gallons, of which 17,823,790 were whisky. Spirits withdrawn from warehouses aggregated 5,200,487 gallons. Kentucky was the largest producer, manufacturing 6,352,723 gallons. Others included Illinois, with 3,890,320 gallons; Indiana, 3,931,691, and Pennsylvania, 1,696,016.

In a separate report, fermented malt liquor produced in August was listed at 5,771,428 barrels. Stocks on hand Aug. 31 were 8,121,971 barrels.

BANKRUPTCY SUIT IS FILED AGAINST UTILITIES POWER

Freeport, Ill., Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Utilities Power and Light corporation, with principal offices in Chicago, was the defendant in a bankruptcy action filed here today in federal court by four Chicago and Rockford creditors holding $8,500 of twenty year debentures.

The petition declared that the company was insolvent and asked that it be placed in bankruptcy until a reorganization could be effected under section 77-B of the bankruptcy act. It stated that the present earnings of the corporation were not sufficient to cover the payment of dividends, and the company's assets, placed at a reasonable value, would not equal its liabilities.

FRANCE BOOSTS DISCOUNT RATE TO GUARD GOLD

Loss Leads to Talk of Revaluation.

In a decisive move to protect its shrinking gold reserve the Bank of France yesterday raised its rediscount rate from 3 to 5 per cent, the sharpest increase that has been made in more than a year, and the first since the Blum government came into power. Skepticism was expressed here and abroad as to whether the boost in the rate would accomplish the desired result, and interest centered around possible future steps that France may be forced to take to protect her gold position.

LEON BLUM.

For months it has been believed in financial circles that eventual realignment of French currency is inevitable and the view was expressed yesterday that if gold continued to flow out of the country at the present rate the government will be forced to resort to an early revaluation of the franc.

Loss Is Heavy for Weeks.

The decision yesterday of the regents of the French central bank to raise the rate in the hope of keeping capital at home follows several weeks of heavy withdrawals. Most of the metal leaving France has been shipped to this country and England.

The statement of the Bank of France, released yesterday showed a continuation of the gold drain during the week of Sept. 18. A loss of 840,000,000 francs [$55,272,000] during the week reduced the central bank's reserve to 52,691,000,000 francs. Since last Friday gold exports are estimated to have been sufficient to further reduce the central bank reserve below 50 billion francs [$3,250,000,000] which is regarded to be the limit below which France cannot safely go. Military experts in France have contended national safety required that the gold reserve should be held at that minimum.

Cabinet Meeting Awaited.

Several conferences of cabinet members have been held recently to discuss the currency situation. Yesterday's rate action was taken on the eve of today's cabinet meeting which is awaited throughout the world for a clew as to the course the government is likely to steer. It was pointed out that if the government decides on revaluation it is possible that the action may be announced this week-end when the world markets are closed.

It was reported that France has obtained a promise from Great Britain to refrain from further devaluation in the pound if a realignment of the franc is attempted. Without such an agreement with Great Britain, as well as some sort of an understanding with the United States, devaluation of French currency might lead to an international currency war.

Gives Position of U. S.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau has publicly stated on several occasions that the United States was prepared to discuss currency stabilization when other nations were ready. So far Great Britain has shown little inclination to enter into any agreement. It has been believed that a general stabilization agreement would be impossible without a downward realignment of the franc in terms of American and British funds.

Great Britain's promise to refrain from further devaluation was reported conditional on a French agreement to lower tarif rates proportionately with the reduction in the franc value.

Sir Frederick Leith Ross, economic adviser to the British government, conferred with Premier Blum and Finance Minister Vincent Auriol last week. The latter two conferred with other French cabinet ministers Wednesday.

Yesterday's increase in the bank rate was accompanied by a boost from 4 to 6 per cent on loans on securities, and 3 to 5 per cent on 30 day advances.

May Embargo Shipments.

In the period from Aug. 7 to Sept. 18 the exports of gold from France amounted to approximately $150,976,000. Observers pointed out that the Blum government before going to the extreme of devaluation, may invoke an embargo on gold shipments. Although there is a strong demand for inflation among certain groups in France the population as a whole is opposed to it. The middle class which is predominant politically suffered most in the post-war devaluation of the franc.

Despite talk of devaluation, the spot

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 24.—Anti-branch banking forces in the American Bankers' association at a rump meeting today moved to counteract the influence of the Giannini and Eccles interests by voting to set up an alliance of independents within the A. B. A. to fight the cause of unit banking. A motion to organize an outside "federation" was defeated.

A. P. GIANNINI.

Having promised the management of the A. B. A. not to start a "civil war" at this critical period, the independents were careful to avoid personalities and carefully explained that the alliance of unit bankers would function within the A. B. A. and for the time being, at least, would not set up a competitive organization.

Giannini's Wine Works.

Sole reference to A. P. Giannini was a facetious remark by William C. Christensen, secretary of the Independent Bankers Association of Oregon who said he couldn't make a long address because he was "a little hazy" from having imbibed a little freely of some of the wine Giannini's Bank of America had sent him yesterday. Part of the Bank of America's program of lavish hospitality at the convention consists of a case of choice California wines sent to the room of each of the 3,000 visiting bankers.

According to tentative plans the independent bankers will set up a skeleton organization to coördinate the work of the independent banker groups which are already functioning.

Today's meeting afforded the unit bankers, who have been smouldering with resentment against attempts to smother their pet issue in the convention, their first opportunity to say their pieces.

Unit System Defended.

William S. Elliott, vice president of the Bank of Canton, Canton, Ga., stirred the audience with an impassioned appeal for states' rights in banking and preservation of individual initiative, recalling the great progress made by the United States under the unit system of banking.

"We have been told," he said, "that at such a time as this it would be treason to come out and state our beliefs plainly. I reply in the words of Patrick Henry, 'If this be treason, make the most of it.'"

Charles Zimmerman, secretary of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association, who has been one of the moving spirits behind the anti-branch banking fight, announced that he would "die with my boots on in the battle for defense of the American banking system."

"We realize," he said, "that there are certain forces within the Reserve City Bankers' association [an organization of big city bankers within the A. B. A.] which believe that unification of banking is ahead of us and that we might as well look in the direction of centralization.

Urges Fight for System.

"We have seen the developments of the system of delegating to men the power to make regulations replace the old system of a government by laws passed by congress. We must fight for the things we believe in. Our interests are not being properly regarded and our difficulties are being made more difficult.

"There may be a perfectly reasonable demand for federal coördination, but I'm not willing that the consequences of coördination shall be the absolute regimentation of banking, and I realize that that is the direction in which we are heading."

Representatives of the independents say privately that the unit bankers believe that Giannini and Eccles interests are scheming to get through congress an act which would permit branch banking across state lines. This is the chief reason for their alarm. Marriner S. Eccles is head of the federal reserve board. A. P. Giannini, whose 447 branches dominate banking in California, is a New Dealer who recently indorsed President Roosevelt for reëlection.

Eccles There Before Meeting.

Eccles was in San Francisco for a conference with friends just before the convention.

Orval Adams, Utah competitor of Eccles and outspoken critic of the New Deal, who yesterday was elected first vice president of the A. B. A., was not present at today's conference. Those who participated, however, were practically all Adams adherents.

50 MILLION LOAN FOR LONDON SOLD IN FIVE MINUTES

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A London county council loan of £10,000,000 [about $50,000,000] at 99 per cent, bearing 3 per cent interest, was subscribed today in five minutes.

The loan was not a conversion operation. It consisted of "new money" except £3,000,000 for redemption of housing bonds. Most of the remainder is to finance slum clearance and to provide a belt of countryside around London.

The council is the governing body for the London district.

BANK CLEARINGS DIP, BUT EXCEED TOTAL YEAR AGO

New York, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Bank clearings in 22 leading cities totaled $5,305,774,000 in the week ended Sept. 23, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. This was a gain of 5.3 per cent over clearings of $5,040,128,000 reported in the same week a year ago, but was $1,151,210,000 under the previous week's figures.

Clearings at New York City aggregated $3,189,792,000, a decline of 2 per cent from 1935. The total at outside centers was $2,115,982,000, a gain of 18.5 per cent.

BANKERS INSIST ON CUT IN TAXES, U. S. SPENDING

Hear Editor Liken Eccles to Marx.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—Alarmed by the growth of socialistic credit agencies that have sprung up under the New Deal and by the steady increase in government spending, delegates to the American Bankers' association convention here today adopted a resolution declaring that "the most formidable barriers against complete recovery appear to be the continuing budget deficits of our national government and the growing burdens of taxation."

"We reiterate the statement made in the resolutions adopted at our last convention that while unusual economic circumstances and necessary efforts to relieve human suffering and deprivation, under emergency conditions, may justify unusual expenditures of public funds, they should not be allowed to obscure the vital fact that a definite return to a balanced budget should be the prime consideration of a sound fiscal policy," the resolution stated.

Way to Aid Employment.

"It is our belief that expenditures—federal, state, and local—should now be brought more definitly under control. We believe this is essential as an assurance to business that our national finances are on firm foundations, and that business and industrial enterprise are justified in going ahead with expansion of their activities, which is the surest method to create greater employment for workers of all classes."

Adhering to the spirit of caution when treading on political matters, the delegates sought to give a nonpartisan note to this expression of belief by asserting that "these problems are nonpartisan in character and call for joint effort and unity of purpose among all of our people."

At the same session, however, the bankers were stirred by an address by Merle Thorpe, editor of Nation's Business, official organ of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who pointed to similarity in the utterances of Lenin and other Marxists on the one hand and Undersecretary of Agriculture Rexford Guy Tugwell and Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board on the other hand.

Warns of Trend to Marxism.

Thorpe asserted that the surest way to communism or socialism lay in increasing political control of the banking and credit structure of the nation. He warned the bankers to wake up in time and help check the trend toward Marxism.

"Discussion is important," said Thorpe, "because this nation must

STOCKS NARROW AS TRADERS EYE FRENCH CRISIS

Moderate Rally Follows Early Setback.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 24.—Stocks closed irregularly higher today after moving about in a cautious and uncertain manner for a great part of the trading period. Movements in most groups were decidedly mixed and closing prices in a majority of issues varied only slightly from the previous finish.

In the opinion of observers, the speculative fraternity took particular care in making commitments largely because of the crisis in the French franc, less because of the increasing prospects for devaluation than because of the uncertainty surrounding the whole affair. This cautiousness on the part of traders was reflected in the turnover, which at approximately 1,194,000 shares was the smallest in a week.

Rally Follows Early Decline.

Opening prices for equities were lower with no decisive trend being developed. At one time leading issues were off as much as a point, but when the selling efforts failed to bring out much liquidation some buying appeared and, although numerous cross currents manifested themselves, many stocks steadied above their lows of the day. Some selling again took place toward the close.

General news from industry and business continued to cheer the financial community.

In the afternoon upturn motor shares stood out prominently. Chrysler especially proved buoyant, as after dropping to 116 it bounced back to finish at 119 and registered a gain for the session amounting to almost two points. General Motors found plenty of support to score a fractional advance and Mack Trucks came within a fraction of its best mark.

Steel Group Is Irregular.

Leading issues in the steel group failed to make much headway against the capricious winds, but a number of the independents scored gains ranging from fractions to a point and more. United States Steel and Bethlehem receded fractions. On the other hand, Youngstown climbed more than a point, as also did Federated Steel, Acme, Keystone, and National.

Rail shares showed a tendency to improve, but at the final bell no uniformity was apparent in the group.

Losses of around a point were the rule in the chemical section and sugars turned sour on lower prices for the commodity. Utilities held just about steady, being buoyed by the record electric power output.

REST OF POSTAL WAGE CUT TO BE RESTORED

The Postal Telegraph and Cable corporation announced yesterday that it will restore the remaining 4 per cent of a 10 per cent wage cut to approximately three-fourths of its 9,000 employés on Oct. 1. The other 6 per cent was restored July 1, 1933.

"There has been an improvement in revenue, and as evidence of good faith and because of the management's promise to eliminate the deduction with the first improvement in revenue, we are taking this action at this time," the company said.

Postal Telegraph is now in process of reorganization, and it was said that the wage restoration was approved by the bondholders' committee, the trustees, and the federal court having jurisdiction.

BUTTER AND EGGS HIGHER; POTATOES ARE IRREGULAR

Production of butter last week was reported by the American association to have been 18 per cent less than during the corresponding period last year. This, with a prediction of higher prices by the department of agriculture, stimulated buying of futures on the Mercantile exchange yesterday and the close was ½ cent higher on November contracts at 32½ cents per pound. Sales of futures aggregated 102 cars.

Less attention was paid to further purchases of foreign butter and it was reported being offered at 18 to 19½ cents per pound delivered at New York. The import duty is 14 cents. Out of storage movement of eggs was reported heavy and brought in fair buyings of futures, which closed ⅛ cent higher with October contracts at 25¼ cents per dozen. Sales aggregated 102 cars. Potato futures finished 2 cents lower to 1 cent higher, the latter on January which closed at $2.27 per 100 pounds. Sales were 15 cars. Prices follow:

sooner or later make a decision. The decision will be a momentous one, because it will determine all the other national questions confronting us.

"Simply, the question is, who shall allocate or invest—or spend—the savings of the people? How shall such allocation be made? Who shall have the use of the funds? Shall it be done by individual bankers as in the past, or by a political board or bureaus? Already the battle lines are drawn.

"Capital allocation is one of the many mouthfilling shibboleths sired by the depression. It sounds like a discovery, something new; but it isn't. The political agencies should allocate capital, in other words, that they should allot the savings of the people, is the axle of the communistic wheel.

Centralization of Credit.

"Karl Marx had ten 'points' in his platform of communism. The first was: Centralization of credit in the hands of the state by means of a national bank with state capital and an exclusive monopoly.

"The urge to control banking resources, thus emphasized, comes from others who disavow communistic or socialistic ends. Not long since a witness appeared before the banking and currency committee of the house of representatives. He said that, to achieve certain objectives, the prevention of speculation and the stabilization for the formulation of national monetary policies in a body representing the nation. It is necessary to improve our machinery of monetary control. That witness was Gov. Eccles of the federal reserve board."

New Deal and Marx Purposes.

Further comparing the purposes of the New Deal with those of Marx and Lenin, Thorpe offered the following quotation from Tugwell:

"Capital allocation would depend on knowledge, from some planning agency, of how much for a measured future period ought to be put to one use rather than to another. Given this information the first step in control would be to limit self-allocation. This is the first great problem in this field. Industries, because of their past and present, regardless of temporary luck, grow over-confident of the future and expand their own activities beyond all reason."

"The tide is running strongly here as in the rest of the world." Thorpe continued, "toward political control. The pity of it is that the many do not recognize it."

OMNIBUS CORP. MAY TAKE OVER 2 SUBSIDIARIES

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—A special meeting of stockholders of the Fifth Avenue Bus Securities corporation, subsidiary of the Omnibus corporation, will be held tomorrow to vote upon a plan to liquidate the company which is already approved by the board of directors.

Upon dissolution, distribution would be made among stockholders of the sole asset, 191,269 shares of $10 par stock out of 235,000 outstanding shares of the New York Transportation company, which owns all outstanding capital stock of the Fifth Avenue Coach corporation.

Dissolution of the New York Transportation company is also being considered, which would give Omnibus corporation, with headquarters in Chicago, direct ownership of the Fifth Avenue Coach corporation. The revenue act of 1936 is deemed responsible for the simplification of corporate structure proposed.

COAL RETAILERS URGED TO FIGHT NEW DEAL PLANS

Federal Schemes Termed Threat to Industry.

New Deal philosophies and practices were denounced yesterday by speakers at the convention of the American Bituminous Retail Coal Merchants' association at the Stevens hotel.

James A. Emery, counsel, National Association of Manufacturers, Washington, warned that government is now the senior partner in every business, and said that pending legislation in congress for the control of the coal industry offers a threat to every one engaged in the business.

E. W. Dobson, Minneapolis, chairman of the board of the bituminous association, urged that all retailers in the country combine to combat the movement for consumer coöperatives which is receiving the friendly support of the New Deal.

Assails Government Interference.

Emery said that this country had experienced the greatest progress ever made by any nation under the philosophy that the individual is the dynamo of personal and social advancement. Declaring that new wealth cannot be created by statute or substituting the activities of the state for those of the individual, Emery said that there is no reward for labor, and no promise that employment can be maintained or enlarged by the discouragement of private effort or the substitution for it of the state as a director, the manager, or the owner of the means of production or enterprise.

"The scheme that impairs the dividends that reward thrift and investment cuts existing pay rolls and discourages the creation of new ones," he said.

Means Federal Control.

Discussing pending legislation for the control of the coal industry, Emery declared that the plan, which provides for the interested parties to fix the terms of production subject to price control by a government body, is as dubious in economics as it is bad in law.

"It initiates a policy of government price fixing and indirectly of government control," he said. "It has not the temporary justification of an emergency. It is frankly the beginning of a permanent policy of government.

"If the scheme is to be applied to coal it must ultimately cover competing fuels. If fuel, why not clothing, food, and shelter? From the necessities, the demand will be made for application to the conveniences of life."

"Movement Pure Socialism."

Describing the consumer coöperative movement as pure socialism, Dobson said it is evident that if all buyers join consumer coöperatives the net result will be greatly decreased income for all and a general lowering of the scale of living.

"The thing that is wrong and that makes this consumers' coöperative movement a serious threat to your existence is the fact that it is protected and promoted not only by radical church leaders but by the present administration in Washington. Not only does the New Deal approve but they are helping with real propaganda, most of it emanating from the department of agriculture and President Roosevelt's consumers' advisory council, headed by Walton W. Hamilton."

Among the exhibits at the Solid Fuel exposition held in connection with the retailers convention is the latest development in automatic stokers. This devise not only carries coal into the furnace but empties ashes as well.

BUSINESS BITS

Price discrimination and other significant features of the Robinson-Patman act will be discussed by John D. The New York Central Railroad company and its leased lines yesterday reported gross revenues of $29,938,319 in August, compared with $24,920,283 in the corresponding month a year ago.

Net operating income, after depreciation and retirements, amounted to $4,379,509, against $2,762,139. Passenger revenues for the month totaled $5,612,962 as compared with $4,813,952.

For the first eight months of this year the railroad reported gross revenues of $230,970,941, against $199,219,626 for the corresponding period a year ago. Net operating income after depreciation and retirements amounted to $28,323,905 against $19,567,160. Eight months' passenger revenues were $40,703,194 against $35,940,948.

FRANCE BOOSTS DISCOUNT RATE TO GUARD GOLD

Loss Leads to Talk of Revaluation.

franc held steady yesterday in the foreign exchange market. The closing spot quotation on the franc in the New York market was 6.58 5-16. The wide discount on francs for future delivery, however, increased slightly. The quotation on 90 day francs showed a discount of .59 of a cent under the spot quotation on the franc in the count of .58 of a cent on Wednesday. The comparative steadiness was believed to be the result of control operations in which British equalization fund was playing a part.

Other foreign currencies were lower yesterday in terms of American funds. The pound sterling dropped 1¾ cents to $5.05⅛ and Holland guilders, a gold currency, fell 3 points to 67.63 cents. Swiss francs were quoted a half point lower at 32.56.

GOLD POLICY ASSAILED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. attempted today to defend the New Deal's purchase of gold bullion at the "artificial high price" of $35 an ounce in response to a caustic questionnaire from Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.]. The senator's letter, along with a coldly formal reply from the treasury secretary, were made public by Morgenthau tonight.

Vandenberg questioned the wisdom of continuing the purchase of foreign gold at an arbitrarily enhanced price when it appeared that foreigners were pouring their profits into the purchase of American securities. The price of gold was $20.67 an ounce until Jan. 31, 1934, when the President, by executive order, raised it to $35 for the ostensible purpose of pulling up prices.

Senator Vandenberg's Argument.

"From such official figures as are publicly available, it would seem to be a fair deduction that while Europe cannot find the means to pay our war debts," said Vandenberg, "it can and does find the means to buy our securities; and it would at least superficially appear that our own gold purchase program not only encourages this process but also subsidizes it at the expense of the American people."

The Michigan senator went on to show that gold imports into the United States had exceeded the entire world production in 1934 and 1935.

Morgenthau admitted that during the two years net gold imports exceeded the world's production of new gold, exclusive of the United States output, by $1,181,000,000.

Aided Business, Says Morgenthau.

In reply Morgenthau asserted that the gold policy of the New Deal had "contributed materially" to halt the downward trend of prices and was "an important factor in stimulating business activity and in restoring confidence in prospects for recovery."

Vandenberg pointed out that $4,151,000,000 in foreign holdings of American securities represented a perilous situation because the funds might be called for at any time and the financial structure and price structure were dependent on foreign judgment or caprice.

To this Morgenthau replied that even if there were a heavy outflow of capital it should not affect the credit base. He declared that one of the factors that contributed to the rapid outflow of gold in 1931 was an internal flow into hoarding which was now unlawful.

New York Central Seeks $3,036,000 Pledge Release

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—[Special.]—The New York Central railroad today applied to the I. C. C. for approval of release from pledge from the RFC $3,036,000 of collateral pledged for loans. The road made a repayment to the loan agency of $2,420,262 on Sept. 18. The collateral consists of $2,280,000 of Indiana Harbor Belt railroad capital stock, $685,000 of Lake Erie and Pittsburgh railway first mortgage 4½s, series A, and $71,000 of Lake Erie and Pittsburgh first mortgage 5s, series B.

Northwestern Mutual Life Reports Gain in Business

New ordinary life insurance production of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company, Milwaukee, in August amounted to $19,350,968 on 5,571 new policies, an increase of $926,382, or 5 per cent, over the $18,424,586 of new business obtained in August, 1935, the company reported yesterday. The company's increase for the first eight months of this year over the like period of 1935 was 7.3 per cent.

U. S. GOLD STOCKS CLIMB TO NEW ALL-TIME PEAK

Total Nears 11 Billions; Bank Reserves Rise.

Monetary stocks of gold in this country last week reached a new all time peak, the federal reserve system reported yesterday. Importations of 24 millions of gold lifted the total stocks to the record level of $10,786,000,000.

In the last 12 months the influx of gold into this country has swelled the country's total supply by approximately a billion and a half dollars. During the same period the reserve of the Bank of France fell 18,514,000,000 francs [$1,218,000,000].

Increases Since Early August.

The gold supply in this country has been mounting to new peaks each week since early in August when the drain on the French bank began. Not all the French gold has come to this country. Although a large share has been shipped here, a substantial amount has been transferred to Great Britain.

Accompanying the increase in gold stocks was an expansion in bank reserves of 19 millions during the week. The volume of money in circulation declined 16 millions. Circulation expanded over the Labor day holiday when heavy withdrawals were made but has been declining since then.

Commercial Loans Rise.

The statements of the New York and Chicago reserve member banks, released yesterday, showed moderate increases in commercial loans in both centers. Chicago banks advanced an additional 4 millions in commercial loans and New York banks increased loans of this type by 5 millions. Brokers loans of the New York banks fell 14 millions from the preceding week.

A. T. & T. FILES 175 MILLIONS OF 3¼ PCT. BONDS

The American Telephone and Telegraph company yesterday filed with the securities commission a registration statement for $175,000,000 of 3¼ per cent, 25 year debenture bonds. Officials at the SEC, who announced the filing informally while preparing a public statement on further details of the action, described it as the largest issue ever filed with the commission.

Selected American Shares, Inc., of Chicago, filed a registration statement covering 250,000 shares of $2.50 par value common stock. Proceeds would be applied to investment purposes, to the furtherance of the business of the company, and to expenses of operation.

Hiram Walker, Gooderham & Worts, Ltd., and Hiram Walker & Sons Distilleries, Ltd., have called for redemption on Dec. 1, at 104 and interest, $2,000,000 of 4¼ per cent convertible debentures due Dec. 1, 1945.

A. E. Barit, president of the Hudson Motor Car company, announced that his company will accelerate the required schedule of maturities on its $5,750,000 of 6 per cent mortgage notes by voluntarily paying off on Oct. 1 an additional $1,000,000 of notes.

NEW WESTERN PACIFIC PLAN TO BE OFFERED

New York, Sept. 24.—[Special.]—A plan of reorganization for the Western Pacific railroad substantially different from that previously offered by the management will be presented by the Ecker committee representing the road's first mortgage bond holders when the I. C. C. hearing reconvenes Sept. 28, it was revealed today.

The committee plan provides for only two bond issues by the reorganized company, one with fixed interest and the other contingent interest, in contrast to the four issues proposed by the management. Fixed interest charges will be reduced to less than $900,000. The management plan proposed a reduction of fixed interest charges from present charges of $3,180,053 to $1,027,036.

TRAFIC MEN ASK FASTER FREIGHT, REVISED RATES

Advise Rail Leaders in Meeting Here.

Prominent corporation trafic executives, addressing a meeting of the Traffic Club of Chicago at the Palmer house, yesterday gave the railroads some pointers as to what they want when they buy transportation. Suggestions for improvement of freight service included adoption of reduced rates for train load shipments, faster freight trains, and better instructed freight solicitors.

Listening to the trafic men at the speakers' table were some of the leading figures in the railroad world, including J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads; S. T. Bledsoe, president of the Santa Fe; Paul Shoup, assistant chairman of the Southern Pacific; L. W. Baldwin, co-trustee of the Missouri Pacific, and H. S. Palmer, president of the New Haven.

Reduced Train Load Rates Asked.

Murray N. Billings, trafic manager of the United States Steel corporation subsidiaries in the Chicago district, urged the railroads to consider helping themselves by trying reduced train load rates to obtain business.

Continuance of the emergency rates will only help the trucks, he declared. He said that the railroads had met their competition in the passenger department through the use of faster service, air conditioned cars, streamlined trains, and lower fares, although the lower fares are still in the experimental stage. A thorough and impartial study of the freight rate structure might produce a better rate system, he said.

George A. Blair, general trafic manager of Wilson & Co., told of the huge volume of business given the railroads by the food industries and suggested that shippers and railroad officials maintain closer contact to settle their problems.

Faster Service Advocated.

J. A. Brough, assistant secretary and trafic manager of the Crane company, said that as a result of changes in buying habits by jobbers and distributors the less than carload tonnage ratio to carload lot shipments has steadily increased since 1921 and this change may be expected to continue. The fact that jobbers and manufacturers are not maintaining the large inventories and stocks they did prior to 1921 has made faster freight imperative, he said.

R. W. Campbell, manager trafic department, Butler Paper corporation, said freight solicitors should be better informed than they have been.

L. E. Muntwyler, general trafic manager, Montgomery Ward & Co., argued that while the speed of freight trains has improved, they still do not run fast enough.

COURT REBUFFS PLEA ATTACKING LOANS BY HOLC

A plea that the federal Home Owners' Loan corporation is a foreign corporation and is not licensed to make loans in Illinois was termed "ridiculous" yesterday by Judge Francis B. Allegretti in the Superior court.

Attorney Paul V. Pallasch had presented a motion to dismiss the HOLC foreclosure suit brought against Andrew Wall, owner of a two flat building at 4625 South Albany avenue. Wall has been in arrears on the principal of a $6,525 loan made in November, 1934. Pallasch was permitted to withdraw his motion and was given five days to file an answer to the HOLC suit.

Other foreclosure suits, in which the same defense is made, are pending in the Superior court. There are more than 1,900 foreclosure suits brought by the HOLC now in litigation in the Circuit and Superior courts.

Home Loan Banks' Credits Expand to New High Mark

Washington, D. C., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Record use of credits made available to savings and building and loan associations by the twelve Federal Home Loan banks was reported today by the Federal Home Loan bank board. Outstanding advances of the banks to their member institutions reached a peak of $126,863,757 on Sept. 12, maintaining an unbroken rise which began in March, 1935. The increased use of credit, officials asserted, showed greater activity in construction, purchase, repair, and refinancing of homes. The Chicago bank, serving Illinois and Wisconsin, leads the regional banks in the volume of outstanding advances.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 24.—The bond market disclosed a state of nervousness today due to increased rumblings of French monetary difficulties. The immediate effect, however, was an interruption rather than a reversal in the recent upswing in prices. Volume totaled $12,880,000, face value, compared with $15,987,000 Wednesday.

Belief that devaluation of the French currency is imminent brought selling in French government bonds. The 7½s, stamped, lost 5 points; the unstamped issue dropped 5½, and the stamped 7s yielded 1⅜.

Fear Drop on Devaluation.

These and certain other French obligations which are payable in dollars at the old gold value, have sold at high premiums ever since the United States foresook the gold standard. With devaluation of the French currency they would depreciate to a level commensurate with the reduced gold value.

Second grade railroad bonds, which have been the major factor in recent sessions, did just a little better than stand still. High grade rails also held their own. Gains of fractions to a point were made by Alleghany 5s of 1949 and the stamped 5s added ¼ at 64¾, Rock Island General 4s, Erie 5s, Pennsylvania General 4½s, Santa Fe 4s, and Baltimore & Ohio 4½s. Slightly lower were Missouri Pacific 5s, North Western 4¾s, and Southern Pacific 4½s.

Pressed Steel Car 5s Rise.

Federal court approval of the Pressed Steel Car company reorganization plan under section 77B of the bankruptcy act served as a catapult for the company's 5s, which whirled up 8⅜ points. Other substantial gainers included certificates representing Botany Mills 6½s, up 1; Bush Terminal 5s, up 2½; Paramount 6s, up 1⅜, and Richfield Oil 6s, up 1¼.

U. S. governments sold off in quiet trading with losses ranging to 5-32d of a point. Institutional buying was reported almost at a standstill.

INVESTORS' GUIDE

Friday, September 25, 1936.

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Carrier Corporation.

Investors' Guide: Kindly let me have information on Carrier corporation, its past earnings and future outlook.—L. S. W.

Answer: Carrier corporation was formed in 1930 as successor to Carrier Engineering corporation. Through subsidiaries it manufactures, sells and installs air conditioning, refrigerating and ventilating systems. Equipment is designed for use in office and industrial buildings, factories, stores, theaters, hotels, and homes. The company recently announced it is ready to introduce a popular priced home heating and year 'round air conditioning unit.

Failing to operate at a profit in any year since 1930, the company has experienced a moderate improvement in volume during the last year and a half. Though showing net income of $26,000 in the first half of 1935, loss for the full year was $335,000.

Net income for the first six months of 1936 was estimated at $187,000, and the company said every effort has been made to forestall a loss in the final half of the year. The better showing, it was said, is due more to reduction of overhead and other expense rather than to moderately increased business.

Current assets were $3,107,000, and current liabilities were $909,000 at the end of 1935.

Retirement of the $1,494,600 of 7 per cent preferred stock and unpaid dividends since Jan. 1, 1932, was voted Aug. 7, 1936, five common shares to be issued for each $100 par preferred share.

Prior to the change 311,088 common shares were outstanding. The stock is speculative.

Buying on Instalment Plan.

Investors' Guide: I heard a few months ago of a concern where you could buy stocks on a plan similar to an instalment plan. Can you tell me who they are?—W. H.

Answer: We do not know the name of the concern to which you refer, but we advise caution in dealing with any such company. Numerous rackets have been worked in the past under the "down payment and instalment plan" guise. This method frequently sheltered operations of those who would "switch" customers from a good security to a "wildcat" which they were promoting. The customer would pay half down, the balance due in 60 or 90 days. The stock would rise rapidly and fall even more rapidly as the operators quit pushing it. Soon it would be worth less than the 50 per cent paid down by the customer and he would be closed out with a total loss.

FORESEES STOCK MARKET HERE AS FINANCE CENTER

Benson Tells Advantages Offered by Exchange.

Efforts of the Chicago Stock exchange to gain its rightful position as the center of a great industrial and commercial financing activity will be successful "in spite of the doubting Thomases," Thaddeus R. Benson, president of the exchange, predicted last night at a dinner attended by 600 brokerage house members, partners, and customers' men at the Union League club.

"Some people are too prone to speak of business getting efforts of the Chicago Stock exchange as futile," Benson said. "To them let me say that business development efforts have not been in vain. The Chicago Stock exchange is becoming more important as a financing agent for the industry and commerce of this great territory. I think conditions are right today for more aggressive action."

Tells Objectives of Exchange.

Benson said the public relations committee of the exchange has two main objectives—adding securities to the present list, and creating interest in new and old listings.

Terming the New York Curb exchange as "our real competitors," Benson said there have been additions to the curb list in the last year of corporations whose securities should logically be listed on the Chicago Stock exchange.

"From every point of view we can give them marketwise more than the curb can give them," he asserted. "Unlisted trading on exchanges does not provide the security purchaser with all advantages to which he is entitled in purchasing a stock exchange security.

Cites Theory of SEC Act.

"This theory is the bulwark of the securities act of 1933 and the securities exchange act of 1934—'in the public interest.' Securities and Exchange commission recommended to congress that such unlisted trading be extended and it was. What the result will be, no one can foresee. It may be we will have to change our policy."

Benson also asserted the New York Stock exchange is not giving the smaller concerns what they have a right to expect in listing.

The dinner was the second in a series of events designed to develop public relations. Wallace C. Winter, vice president, also spoke, and Virgil Webster, chairman of the public relations committee, presided.

UTILITY ISSUE LEADS TRADE ON CHICAGO BOARD

Central and South West Utilities common stock yesterday led trading on the Chicago Stock exchange with a turnover of 18,550 shares. The issue closed unchanged at 3 after reaching 3⅛.

Some utilities made sharp gains. Among these were 6⅝ points in Central and South West preferred, and 5 points in North West Utilities 7 per cent preferred.

Nine new peaks were established, although the close found the general market irregular. Of the 117 issues traded, 42 advanced, 41 declined, and 34 remained unchanged. Volume was 83,000 shares.

New high marks were recorded in Advance Aluminum, American Public Service preferred, Allied Products common, Central and South West preferred and prior lien issues, Chain Belt, Dayton Rubber A, and North West Utilities preferred and prior lien issues.

COTTON PRICES TURN DOWN ON HEDGING PRESSURE

Hedging pressure from the south had a depressing effect on American cotton markets yesterday. Trades in Chicago closed 1 to 7 points lower. Other markets were 1 point higher to 6 points lower with October showing the most strength. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent per pound or 5 cents per bale.] Today will be first delivery day on October.

Early in the session there was fairly active buying by trade interests, and also purchases by commission houses based on better export clearances and reports of a strong spot basis in the south.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to 5 points lower with New Orleans at 12.20 cents; Galveston, 11.95 cents; Houston, 12.00 cents, and New York at 12.25 cents per pound. Prices follow:

LARD HIGHER ON STRENGTH IN GRAINS, COLDER WEATHER

Colder weather and strength in grains stimulated buying of lard futures yesterday by operators who had sold previously. Hedging pressure and profit taking developed on the advance, but the close was about the top with net gains of 10 to 17½ cents. Reports indicated the distributive demand for cash lard is below normal for this period of the year.

Clear bellies [salt pork] closed nominally unchanged. Cash lard was quoted at $11.52½; loose, $11.00; leaf, $11.25, and clear bellies at $13.25 per 100 pounds. Prices per 100 pounds follow:

REAL ESTATE'S upward trend

The growing interest in real estate is reflected in the columns devoted to this subject in the Tribune want ad section.

During each of the first eight months of 1936 the Tribune carried a substantially greater volume of real estate want advertising than it did during the same months in 1935.

OUTPUT OF AUTOS DROPS; PREPARE FOR NEW MODELS

August Production Falls to 209,754 Units.

With many automobile manufacturers closing plants during August preparatory to working on the 1937 models, the number of passenger cars turned out dropped to 209,754 units, or 44 per cent below the July total, the Chicago Federal Reserve bank announced yesterday.

Passenger cars produced in August were, however, 16 per cent above the output for August, 1935. The number of trucks manufactured, at 61,537, was 10 per cent below that for July, but 9 per cent above a year ago.

In line with the curtailed output from factories, wholesale distribution in the middle west dropped 41.2 per cent below July and 15.2 per cent below August, 1935. Retail sales fell 17.8 per cent from the preceding month, but exceeded a year ago by 42.9 per cent.

Packers Output Lower.

Despite the earlier than customary liquidation of fat cattle this year because of the rising prices for feed, a somewhat more than seasonal decrease in the supply of hogs and a less than normal gain in marketings of other live stock brought a slightly more than normal decrease in packing house output during August, the bank reported.

Production of packing house commodities was 3 per cent below that in July, but 26½ per cent above a year ago and 1 per cent heavier than the 1926-'35 average for the month. The tonnage sold exceeded that of last August by 17 per cent, but was 1½ per cent under that for July and 6 per cent below the ten-year average.

Packing House Products Rise.

An advance was recorded in the general price level of packing house commodities over July. The value of dollar sales rose 3 per cent above sales a year ago and 4½ per cent above the 1926-'36 average for August.

Inventories rose counterseasonally on Sept. 1 over a month earlier and were 193,014,000 pounds larger than on Sept. 1, 1935.

Returns received from 146 of the 400 canneries located in the seventh reserve district indicate that the 1936 pack decreased substantially from 1935 in the output of corn, peas, beans, and most fruit.

Furniture manufacturers in the seventh district reported that orders booked during August were a half again as large as in August, 1935, the gain being the largest year to year increase so far in 1936.

NEW CROP HOGS ARE STEADIER AS SUPPLY SHRINKS

Smaller receipts checked the decline in new crop hogs yesterday, the bulk of stock under 250 pounds selling mostly steady, but sows came under pressure again and weakened mostly 10 cents.

While the downward trend was halted, packer demand for light hogs was not broad, reports from the wholesale pork markets being extremely bearish again despite the much cooler weather. Packers sold pork loins 50 cents to $1 lower, the top light loins in Chicago declining to $21.50 compared with $28.00 sixteen days ago.

Both the extreme top and average prices of hogs showed a loss of 5 cents, at $10.25 and $9.40, respectively, the former showing a drop of $1.80 or 15 per cent from the 1936 high of last month.

Top lambs sold yesterday at $9.25, a new low for the year, but the bulk of the day's offerings changed hands at about steady prices.

Cattle sold at mostly steady to strong prices, spots in some classes showing slight gains. Medium short fed steers and plain heavy stock met a narrow outlet at weak prices, but most fed steers and yearlings were firm, the better grades showing most strength.

Yearling steers averaging 977 pounds topped at $10.30, with $10.00 paid for 908 pound hefers. Beef cows and best corn fed hefers were active and stronger, but plain short fed hefer stock was draggy again. Calves were fully 25 cents higher.

How You Can BORROW at HOUSEHOLD
No Salary Assignments.
REDUCED RATES
ON ALL LOANS ABOVE $100.

1. Whether or not you have furniture or a car, you can borrow here if you can make regular monthly payments.
2. Payments on all loans are small. For example, payments on a $200 loan are $10 per month plus interest charges on a 20 month schedule.
3. You do not need co-makers or endorsers.
4. You can secure the money quickly—the same day if you apply before 9 o'clock.
5. Household's rate of 3% per month on the first $100 and 2% per month on that part of the balance over $100 is substantially lower than the lawful maximum on all loans above $100.
6. Repay at any time and reduce the cost.
7. Private offices. Your problem will have our sympathetic attention.
